THANKSGIVING DAY RUSSIAN DEMANDS SENTENCED TO JAIL

Observed in Divers Ways by Lowell PeopleWere Turned Down by the National Council of Persia

Man Was Found Guilty of Non-Support of Family

Thanksgiving day was quietly but generally observed in Lowell in the usual manner. The churches held services, there was one football game, between Lowell High and Tufts; there was a Marathon run for additional out-door sport, there were family reunions and home-coming galas and every theatre in Lowell was crowded afternoon and evening.

While Thanksgiving Day in New England in accordance with a time-honored custom is a day when the wandering sheep return to the family fold, of late a diametrically opposite spirit is growing up, that of people going away for the holiday. For some years past some of the big Boston hotels have made a specialty of holiday dinners, particularly at Thanksgiving and Christmas and have advertised them far and wide. Those who have tried them have returned home with glowing accounts of the feast and the comparatively reasonable price thereof, with the result that the morning trains took many Lowell people to Boston to partake of these great feasts and it is stated that at one Boston hotel, which is particularly well known for its Thanksgiving dinners, it was necessary to reserve seats in the dining room.

"The different institutions of the city as will be seen below observed the day in good old fashioned manner.

Ayer Home

The 100 children at the Ayer Home declared last night that Thanksgiving Day was one great and glorious occasion. In the morning after a good breakfast the little ones all took to the yard for out-door sport, which was enjoyed continuously until 1:30 o'clock. Then with appetites fully whetted for the dinner which they expected to the dining-room where a sumptuous dinner of turkey and its innumerable fixings was served, not to speak of mince pie served piping hot.

After dinner the children went back to the yard and played until sundown when they went to the playroom and passed another hour or more in songs and indoor games. At 6:30 they were served with all kinds of fruit in season and then came the crowning event of the day the grand vaudeville entertainment in honor of "Mama" Tarr, the well beloved matron of the institution. Mrs. Tarr occupied a seat of honor and about every child in the home had a place on the program. There was singing and dancing and recitations and the singing of some of Mrs. Tarr's favorite songs, until 8:45 when the familiar strains of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," came forth from 160 little voices and then, but supremely happy 160 pairs of blinking eyes were closed upon the thinking of many dreamland.

St. Peter's Orphanage

As usual at St. Peter's Orphanage the children were well remembered on the holiday. After enjoying games in the morning they sat down at noon to a dinner of turkey and its innumerable fixings and a mass of accompaniments and there was no end of good things for the little ones. In the afternoon a delightful entertainment was given by the children themselves and they took great pride in the little event.

Children's Home

"I'm just cutting up a turkey for today, for we're having another feast," said Miss O'Leary to the writer. "Police were so good to us that while we entertained our own 40 children and over 100 children from outside we still had enough left over for today. We received five large turkeys and two chickens. Two of the turkeys came all cooked from Mr. Smith's pork store in Gorham street, while the D. L. Page company also remembered us kindly. In addition to the turkeys we had every kind of vegetables and fruit, and ice cream. After dinner the children gave a fine entertainment and the day went off most pleasantly. We are indebted to some unknown person for a most generous offering. We have a little box fastened on our fence in which people put pennies and small contributions when passing. On Thursday morning upon looking in the box I found an envelope containing two crisp $5 bills, with the name of the donor omitted."

Lowell Jail

At the Lowell jail in accordance with a custom of years, fresh killed pork was the piece de resistance instead of the traditional turkey and a fine dinner of roast pork with all kinds of fixings was served. In the afternoon the prisoners had the freedom of the corridors for a couple of hours and provided an entertainment of their own in which they took great pleasure.

Chelmsford Street Hospital

Roast pork was the headline on the menu at the Chelmsford street hospital yesterday for a fine roast pork dinner, the pork being raised right on the spot being served with home raised vegetables. There was an entertainment but the inmates entertained a number of visitors.

No Ice Anywhere

In days gone by there has been skating on Thanksgiving day, nearly every year but this year there wasn't a sign of ice anywhere. Many who own autos took advantage of the mildness of the weather and went motoring. Until sundown the day was perfect for autoing but after that a chill crept over the air that drove the motorists homeward after 4:30 o'clock. Passing in an auto along the Revere beach and Lynn boulevard yesterday afternoon one met with a surprise, for at Revere beach, two picture shows were going full blast with large attendances and along the boulevard could be seen hundreds walking along the beach or sitting on the benches. At Lynn and Swampscott, while there were no signs of life at the hotels or cottages, hundreds strolled along the beach as though it were a day in early spring.

French American Orphanage

At the French American orphanage in Pawtucket street, the children were treated with a delicious turkey dinner including all the fixings. The meal was served at 11 o'clock by the sisters in charge and was confined to the children of the institution and their guardians. Several other good deeds were given the little ones and in the afternoon a general good time was enjoyed.

JEWISH CITIZENS

WANTS THE TREATY OF 1832 ABROGATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Jewish citizens here have joined in the nationwide movement for an early abrogation of the treaty of 1832 between the United States and Russia because of Russia's alleged refusal to recognize the American passports of Jewish citizens. It was announced today that the legislature now meeting in term session would be memorialized to have the matter taken up by congress.

SHERMAN F. ALLEN

MADE CHIEF CLERK AT THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Rudolph Forster, who has been connected with the White House in an executive capacity for more than ten years, was today appointed executive clerk to the president at $5000 a year and Sherman F. Allen of the Washington bureau of the New York Herald was sworn in as his successor as chief clerk.

DEATHS

LEDoux—Frank Ledoux, aged 67 years, 1 month and 27 days, died today at the Chelmsford street hospital. The body was removed to the funeral parlor of Undertaker Joseph Albert, 171 Aiken street.

THIRERAN, Persia, Dec. 1.—The National council has rejected the Russian ultimatum by a big majority. The foreign minister has resigned.

The Russian ultimatum called in the first place, for the instant dismissal of W. Morgan Shuster, the American who has for several months occupied the post of Persian treasurer-general. A further demand was for a cash indemnity from Persia to cover the cost of the despatch of Russian troops to that country.

The vote of the national council which rejected the Russian ultimatum was cast in open session. A subsequent secret sitting of the members was practically unanimous against compliance.

A cablegram from British Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey was presented during the assembly at its sitting. The despatch urgently advised compliance with the Russian demands but some of the members pointed out that Sir Edward Grey had been misinformed and asserted that Russian injustice had become intolerable. They thought that resistance on the part of the Persian government to Russian demands would awaken foreign attention and lead to an impartial inquiry.

Speaker after speaker declared it was impossible for Persia ever to sign away her own independence. If Russia should insist from her that it would be God's will. A deputation of members of the national council waited on W. Morgan Shuster before the vote was taken in the parliamentary session. The American treasurer-general begged them to consult only the interests of their country and not to consider him.

The national council registered its refusal to comply with the terms of the Russian ultimatum at 10:45, just a quarter of an hour before the final limit of the expiry of the ultimatum. Meanwhile large silent crowds thronged around the precincts of the parliament house waiting for the verdict of the deputies.

The Russian minister here, M. Poklewsky-Kozel, notified the Persian government that the mother of Shush-Ez-Sultanch and all her property would henceforth be placed under the protection of Russia, in compliance with a request which she had telegraphed to the emperor and empress of Russia.

BROTHER OF MINISTER SHOT

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—A telegram to the German Cable Co. from Teheran says that a revolver shot was fired this morning at Akab-Eld-Dowleh, brother of the former Persian minister at Berlin in front of his residence. He is reported to be dead. Akab-Eld-Dowleh has lately been promoting an accord with the government and the ex-shah, which is reported to be desired by Russia. His brother was involved in the controversy concerning William Morgan Shuster, the treasurer-general of Persia whose dismissal has been demanded by Russia. The present crisis is the sign of the growing bitterness among the people.

day. His hearing is scheduled for next Monday.

The resumption of proceedings in the trial of James H. McNamara before Judge Walter B. Dordwell, where eight sworn jurors and two talesmen passed for cause occupy the jurybox with 125 venturers on hand, fell behind the Franklin incident in interest early today. One reason why arrests are expected is because of the silence maintained by the state as to the origin of the $3000 gathered in by the detective when Franklin was arrested. The allegation was freely made by the prosecution that the money was being used to bribe George Lockwood, a venerean, but as its theory about the source of the fund not the slightest hiding had been given today, Franklin claims he was the victim of a political frameup and has declared openly that the district attorney's office acted properly in accordance with information that came to it. He is convinced that further investigation by the state will show him to be innocent of the charges.

The version that counsel for Franklin has been inclined to take is that he was ensnared in a political plot. "The arrest is one part of a big fight," declared Henry Gage, counsel for Franklin. "Franklin will be arraigned for preliminary examination on Monday, the day before the local municipal election. He has been chief detective for the McNamara defense, among whose counsel is Job Harriman, one of the recent candidates for mayor.

THE BOARD OF TRADE

About to Start on Important
Civic Matters

Now that the charter matter is out of the way as far as the board of trade is concerned that body has settled down for an active business session and on next Monday the educational and executive committees of the board will meet to discuss the proposition of awarding medals to the children of the higher grammar grades for the best compositions on the city of Lowell, the idea being to develop civic interest.

Another proposition to be considered is that of establishing scholarships in the Lowell Textile school for Lowell boys.

In connection with this development of civic interest the board of trade has secured the co-operation of the Merrimack Square theatre and next week as one of the numbers on the program of the theatre will be given 75 colored views of Lowell from colonial times until today each with a short history.

The views and history have been prepared by Secretary Murphy of the board and the history of the views will be read by the leading lady of "Our Stock" company.

To Instruct Foreigners

The members of the educational committee are Rev. Charles T. Billings, George S. Motley, Dr. Hugh Walker, John K. Whittier and Dr. Lamoureux.

The special committee appointed to instruct foreign residents in the advantages of citizenship, consisting of William N. Osmond, chairman, Rev. George F. Keenough, Rev. Dr. Keleher, J. H. Gault and Supt. of Schools A. R. Whitcomb, will meet on Monday evening to discuss the matter of holding a series of meetings for the different nationalities of the city for the purpose of instructing them in citizenship, and the use of the post office and the library.

With tear dimmed eyes Mrs. Samuel Adam testified before Judge Hadley in police court this morning that she and her four children were in need of food and clothing and that although her husband was working every day he did not give her any money and in order to keep the house warm two of the children went out and collected coal along the railroad tracks. The woman herself has just been released from the hospital and is still under the doctor's care and not strong enough to work.

The husband, who occupied a seat in the dock was arrested yesterday on a capias and during his wife's rendition of the struggle which she was making in order to provide food, shelter and clothing for her little ones the man seemed disinterested.

Adam has been before the court on numerous occasions for non-support and several weeks ago after being found guilty he was placed on probation on condition that he pay his wife $3 a week. He promised to do so, but after paying her that sum for several weeks he stopped.

He works every day, but in order that his pay could not very well be attached he drew it each day.

At the conclusion of the hearing of the case Judge Hadley feeling that Adam had no desire to care for his family committed him to jail for four months at hard labor and as provided for by a recent enactment of the legislature, the wife is to be paid 50 cents per day. This is the first finding under the new law relative to neglect cases that Judge Hadley has made.

Assault and Battery

The sequel to a strenuous meeting which took place in a hall at 22 Middle street on Sunday, Nov. 12, was aired before Judge Hadley in police court this morning when the case of Arme-

SPECIAL SERVICES

Were Held in Catholic Churches

Special religious services were held in all the local Catholic churches yesterday on account of Thanksgiving. In many of the churches the services were double, for many paternal organizations have taken advantage of the day to have masses of requiem celebrated for their deceased members.

The Thanksgiving services which consisted of high masses, were very largely attended and the church choirs rendered appropriate music for the occasion. Sermons were also delivered, the preachers urging the congregations to thank the Almighty for favors obtained during the past year.

STRUCK BY CAR

LOWELL MAN WAS KILLED AT LEOMINSTER

Word was received this morning by J. F. O'Donnell & Sons of the death of Thos. A. Fitzgerald, aged 21 years, formerly of this city, later of Nashua and now Leominster, Mass. While stepping from an electric car he was struck by another car coming from the opposite direction. The scene of the accident was not a great distance from the residence of the deceased. Mrs. J. W. McKenna resided at the scene. The deceased was survived by his parents, William T. and Annie Moore Fitzgerald.

FUNERALS

CONNELLY—The funeral of Michael Connelly took place from his late home, 191 Chapel street, this morning at 8:45 o'clock and a mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock by Rev. W. George Mullin, the choir under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly sang the Gregorian mass and at the offertory Miss Mary E. Whiteley sang "Pie Jesu" and after the elevation Mr. Edward P. Shea sang "O Meritum Passionis" and as the choir was leaving the church the choir sang "De Profundis." Mr. James E. Donnelly sustained the solos. Mrs. J. W. McKenna presided at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. Philip, Riley, Patrick Fitzgerald, James Shaw and Peter O'Hagan. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Fr. Mullin read the final prayers. Among the many floral offerings were a large pillow of chrysanthemums and daisies with the word "Father," from the family of the deceased; a large wreath of ivy leaves, from the Burns family; a mammoth pillow of chrysanthemums, lilies and pinks, from the employees of C. I. Hood, and a stunning wreath on base of ivy leaves and pine, from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bugehay and many others. Friends and relatives were present from Fitchburg, Springfield, Mass., and Rochester, N.Y. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Undertaker George B. McKenna.

LOWELL MILITIAMEN

Carried Off Prizes at Rockingham

Park Field Day

SALEM, N. H., Dec. 1.—The Gymkhana athletic meet and military field day by the New England Aviation Co. at Rockingham park, embracing the most extensive and varied program of sports ever attempted in New England in a single day, was carried out complete yesterday afternoon.

The events began at 11:30 o'clock and were finished just as the sun went down at 4:30. All the events had a full field and were keenly contested without exception. The weather was good and most of the conditions favorable from the spectators' viewpoint at least.

Six Militia Companies
At 11 o'clock the troops, six full companies of Massachusetts and New Hampshire militia, arrived, and a military band came down the track playing popular airs. They were Co. C, 1st Infantry, M. V. M., Capt. W. L. Joyce; Co. E, 1st Infantry, M. V. M., Capt. G. W. Peterson of Lowell; Co. F, 9th Infantry, M. V. M., Capt. F. L. Donovan of Lawrence; Co. D, 1st Infantry, N. H. N. G., Capt. Charles R. Blake of Nashua; Co. I, 1st Infantry, N. H. N. G., Capt. W. L. Elliott of Nashua; Battery C, M. V. M., Capt. J. S. Cox of Lawrence; Capt. F. L. Donovan had general command of the battalion.

The first event on the program was a wall-scaling contest. Teams of eight men from the several companies charged a wall 10 feet high at 35 yards distance. The men who first mounted the wall from the shoulders of those on the ground pulled the latter up.

When all were on the wall they leaped down and returned to the starting line. The judges of this event were Capt. Stuart W. Wise, Capt. L. E. Hinton and Capt. W. L. Elliott. The prize was a silver cup. Co. G team won, time 58 1-2 seconds; Co. C, second, 1 minute, 30 1-2 seconds; Co. F, third, 1 minute, 25 1-2 seconds; Co. D, fourth, 1 minute, 49 1-2 seconds.

Three Long-Distance Races
At a little past noon the men in a 10-mile run from Lowell began to arrive. This event was open to amateurs living in Lowell and surrounding towns. The prizes were silver cups for the first, second and third. Edwin Strick won, with Louis Flory second, and Clarence R. Noyes third. The time was 1 hour, 27 minutes and 15 seconds. Armand Desmarais, Harry Esker and John J. Crow also ran.

Soon after the men in a similar race from Lawrence arrived, more closely bunched and in greater numbers on account of the shorter distance, eight miles. The prizes were silver cups. Louis Ticeau won the race, Paul Hilestead was second, Walter O'Brien third, time 41 minutes and 55 seconds. John Barnaby, Francis Barnaby, Walter G. Hall, Clarence A. Kimball, Walter Miller and John F. Tilly also finished.

A 10-mile run around the track was an interesting event. It was open to any amateur in New England. The laps were a mile each, over heavy turf, which gave the contestants poor footing. There were three silver cups for prizes. The winner was the same man who won the 10-mile track run at Nashua, Labor Day. William Brown of Worcester won, Albert L. Upham of Dorchester was second, Patrick Devine of Manchester, N. H., third, time 1 hour, 5 minutes and 15 seconds.

Lacrosse and Football Matches
A lacrosse match between the Montreal A. A. team and the Montreal Nationals was won by the Nationals, 4 points to 1. The game was a novelty to most of the spectators; the ground had thawed a trifle, making it too soggy for fast play. Passing under the conditions was difficult and the checking light.

The event which caused the greatest enthusiasm in the football game for the championship of the United States Navy between teams from the U. S. S. Rhode Island and the U. S. S. Tennessee. Both teams showed fitness and did good team work, but the Rhode Island team outclassed their opponents, 20 to 6.

Capt. Blake's Perfect Score
Four teams contested in the military turkey shoot. The distance was 200 yards, lying down. The prize was a silver cup for the winning team and a turkey for the best individual. Co. C of Lowell won, the score being:

Sgt. Hargrett 23
Corporal Bennett 23
Private Bagley 24
Private Angus 20
Peterson 23

Total 112
Co. D of Nashua was second, with 102; Co. F of Lawrence third, score 90; and Co. G of Lowell fourth, score 86. Meanwhile on the turf track in front of the grandstand the Gymkhana events were carried out. Those were open to residents of Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

The prizes were a traveling bag to first and silver flask to second. The potatoes were at 10-yard intervals and the contestants rode to the wall, dismounted, picked out a potato, mounted, rode back and started again. J. A. Toomey of Boston won, Charles H. Fullick of Natick, Mass., second.

Parade at Sundown
A mounted umbrella race had several contestants. The conditions were that the horses stand at the barrier, the rider mount, ride down the track, turn, ride back, shut umbrella and uncork and drink a bottle of tonic. In no case were all the conditions completed, mostly owing to the unfit conditions of the umbrellas at the finish. J. A. Toomey won, Charles H. Fullick was second and Joseph R. Maroney of Lawrence third.

A balloon ascension and parachute jump scheduled for noon was delayed because a high wind got the better of the hot air bag and capsize it. It was refilled, however, and about 4 o'clock Prof. Bennett rose and dropped successfully.

The events of the day closed last evening dusk with a military parade and review of the troops on the field.

TWO BOYS KILLED
They Were Run Down by Auto Truck

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Harry and John R. Houff, 13 and 9 years of age, were run down and instantly killed before their father's eyes on the Charles river esplanade, Cambridge, at 5:20 Wednesday afternoon by a small auto truck.

The driver of the car, George Chabot, 21, residing at 106 Moreland street, Somerville, was arrested at the Cambridge relief hospital, where he had taken the children, charged with manslaughter.

The boys, with their father, John Q. Houff, 21, Kenwood street, Cambridge, who is employed at the Page & Shaw factory, were on their way home. They were on the roadway dragging a small two-wheeled cart loaded with wood that they had collected, while their father walked on the sidewalk, talking with John A. Clark.

As the men reached Clavin street and the esplanade the auto truck suddenly shot out of the darkness and, before either man could jump for the children, had struck them, hurling both some distance.

The father, stupefied for a minute, ran into the roadway, while Chabot brought his car to a stop, and with the aid of the father and Clark, picked up the bleeding forms of the boys, placed them in the truck and rushed to the relief hospital, where it was announced that both were dead.

Inspectors Nealey and Brennan hurried to the hospital and placed Chabot under arrest. At the station house he said that as he turned from Massachusetts avenue into the esplanade he was driving at a moderate speed and did not see anyone in the roadway.

He said he had no front lights on the machine, but that his side lamps were lighted. The first intimation he had of anyone on the roadway was when he was a few feet away from Clavin street when he saw the two boys.

Kidney Trouble Is Very Deceptive

Few Realize They're Affected Till Danger Point is Reached—Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills Work Wonders—Sample Free!

Kidney disease is much more common than most people imagine. Many sufferers do not know what's ailing them—until the trouble becomes serious. Some trifling affection may run into the dread diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease before one realizes there's anything wrong with his kidneys.

Usually the most noticeable symptoms which first appear are far from the seat of the trouble, and the sufferer mistakes the cause of his ailment. Dull headaches or nervousness, for instance, he never thinks of as signs of diseased kidneys.

Besides the aching back and sides, rheumatism, pains or twitching in groins or limbs, sore, inflamed muscles, he may consider indications of some other trouble. Unusually colored or cloudy urine, too frequent or too scanty urination, burning sensation, are of course readily recognized as symptoms of such disorders.

Because of the deceptive and dangerous character of these ailments, if you suspect your kidneys are diseased, lose no time in beginning treatment. The best possible remedy for you is Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills. They are quite different from anything else in the market. They act in two ways: cleanse the clogged kidneys of their poisonous impurities, strengthen them so they perform their duties normally, naturally. There's no other way to really cure kidney derangements; resultant bladder troubles, rheumatism and permanently banish those frightful aches and pains.

FISKE GRATEFUL

Thanks Voters Who Favored His Candidacy

"Will you take a statement from me?" asked Josiah Fielding Fiske as he passed the insurance palm to the reporters at the city hall this forenoon. "It's a sad, sad story," continued Josiah, "but far be it from me to deal with the sad stuff. I had had hope on the primaries, yet I am a philosopher. I do not mean that I am a philosophical philosopher, but I'm a philosopher enough to know that there is no sense in crying over spilled milk and that's the point I want to make."

"I want to state right here that I am abundantly grateful to the 69 voters who voted for me. By so doing they displayed exceptional intelligence and while I was a few paltry thousands short on votes I am glad to know that sixty-nine of the several thousand voters cast their ballot for the best equipped candidate in the bunch."

"Perhaps I'm joking, and perhaps not, but I'm not going to take my defeat to heart. The sun seems just as bright and the air just as crisp and invigorating today as it did when I thought I was going to poll over 4000 votes."

"I am willing to admit that I was kidding myself and some people don't believe in that. They will tell you that it is had enough to kid others, but unforgivable for one to kid one's self. I confess that I am guilty, but I'm not wearing sackcloth and ashes just the same."

"Are you going to petition for a recount?" asked one of the reporters. "Not on your life. I have 69 votes to my credit and I don't want to lose them," said Josiah, and he laughed right heartily.

"I was seated with you newspaper fellows when the returns were coming in on Wednesday morning," he continued, "and I suffered considerable mental anguish, especially when a ward that was going to give me 800 would give me but 7 votes."

"Finally precinct two of ward one was announced. That's my own precinct and the announcer when he got down to where I belonged on the list said: 'Fiske one.' I didn't have to send a detective out to discover who had voted for me in that precinct. At that very table there was a fellow sitting and touching elbows with me who had promised to vote for me. He looked pretty sheepish when the announcer gave out that I had received but one vote in that precinct. Of course he knew I knew that I had voted for myself. I pitied the poor fellow and I guess he pitied me."

"There is one thing that does touch my heart and I am willing to confess it. It has been generally conceded that I am the Columbus of Centralville. I have furnished the natives there with band concerts, bon fires and displays of all kinds and now I realize how hard it is for a man to be a prophet in his own country. I have done my best to serve my city. The voters have given my ambitions the marble heart and from now on Josiah Fielding Fiske will attend strictly to business, and if one or more of the many thousands voters who didn't vote for me want to get insured against the things that should befall them they can find my telephone number in the directory."

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE

In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair, in which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years and in less than two months after he began its use his hair was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich, glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.

For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: 1 ounce of Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavone de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and then add the Lavone de Composee; shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores gray hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you desire it perfumed, add one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing scent.

Before publication we presented this prescription to Kitter-Jaynes Drug Co., this city, and they state that they have filed it many times for their patrons who report most astonishing results from its use.

two family house. The estimated cost of the change is $800.

GRAND CEREMONY

New Cardinals Were Presented Their Red Hats and Their Rings

ROME, Dec. 1.—Yesterday the chief event of this important week in Rome took place, when Pope Pius X in public consistory conferred upon the recently proclaimed Cardinals their red hats, the chief insignia of the office. It was a wonderful scene that 10,000 people looked to witness and it there had been room enough the number would have been doubled or tripled. But from the bronze gates leading to the Vatican palace to the papal throne in the Hall of Beatification every inch of space was taken up.

It was a wonderful display, the like of which the Americans and many others from foreign shores had never hoped to witness. In America from time to time great ecclesiastical processions are to be seen, but none is to be compared in any sense with the procession yesterday. Its duplicate is said not to have been witnessed here before in many years. The blaze of color in the robes of the ecclesiastics and the soldiery made a magnificent spectacle.

The Consistory was by far the most important event of the week and from every civilized country of the earth were representatives here to observe it. It was easily the crowning event of the reign of Pope Pius X.

Impressive Procession
First in the impressive column came the Noble Guard, brilliantly uniformed and with service accoutrements. They were followed by the purple-cassocked monsignori, then the bishops and archbishops, the College of Cardinals in their beautiful robes being the last group in the procession.

Last of all came the holy father, seated upon the sedia gestatoria, borne by his Swiss guardsmen, and accompanied by the papal chamberlains in their purple robes, the gentlemen in waiting and others of the immediate suite of the Sovereign Pontiff.

As he was carried along between the lines of Swiss guards, the pope was repeatedly raising his right hand and receiving the papal blessing to the assembled hundreds who reverently knelt and bowed their heads as he passed.

Prelates From Boston
In the procession with the monsignori were Rt. Rev. Mgr. Edward J. Morphy of St. Peter's church, Cambridge, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Jeremiah E. Mulierick of St. Joseph's church, Boston, and Rt. Rev. Mgr. M. J. Spillane, rector of the cathedral, Boston.

A feature that attracted special attention was the magnificent carrying robes of the Armenian bishops, which by all odds the striking note in the mass of variegated color.

For this consistory, the Roman nobility occupied boxes installed for them and the ambassadors to the papal and Italian courts who attended, had placed reserved for them immediately behind the cardinal's bench.

The seats for the Boston party had been carefully arranged for and were right near the choir. All from the Holy had an excellent opportunity from this vantage point to see all that took place and were especially favored so far as the music was concerned, for the grand Gregorian chant was issuing from within a few feet of them. The boy sopranos were superb.

O'Connell a Gracious Cardinal
Throughout the ceremony of their conferring the red hats there was a great and beautiful hall, very one anxious to drink in every bit of detail. It was the belief of each one that they would never again be so favored as they were yesterday in Rome.

Cardinal O'Connell went through the ceremony with that same characteristic grace and dignity that are inherent in him and which Bostonians know so well. As he advanced to the holy father to receive the red hat there was at that instant a burst of music from the choir, and the venerable pontiff was seen to greet the eminent Boston churchman with the warmest affection.

In his cardinalate robes, Cardinal O'Connell was a striking figure, even in such a distinguished group as his fellow members of the sacred college. He was greeted enthusiastically by Cardinals Rampolla, the Vanutelli, Gasparri and Marinelli and many others near him.

Before the new cardinals had the red hats conferred upon them they took the oath of their office, the text of which is almost a summary of the church's history, nearly every clause being a record of some former controversy often leading back to the ancient days of the Catholic church.

Some Notable Figures
Especially noticeable among the cardinals was the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, with his piercing black eyes. Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Vincenzo Vanutelli, who last year was in Boston and readily recognized many of those here yesterday who had met him in the Hub.

The trainbearer for Cardinal O'Connell was again Rev. Dennis O'Brien, the Lowell boy who is now finishing his third year as a student in the American college.

When the ceremonies were over the Holy Father was carried from the Hall of Beatification in another chair from the one in which he had entered. The impressive procession again returned to escort the holy father to his apartments.

Escort of Swiss Guards

The leading figure in this, as was the case when the procession entered, was an ecclesiastical robed in white and carrying a jeweled cross. Behind him came the world-famous Swiss Guards, bringing once more back to the earlier ages with their uniforms of red, black and yellow, said to have been designed by Michael Angelo. The guards carried halberds.

That choir of which the world hears so much, and whose fame has gone broadcast, more especially since the director became so marked as the master mind of the Gregorian school in this case, Abbe Perosi, was next in the procession, and as they advanced they chanted out sweet hymns and songs of praise.

The purple-robed dignitaries were behind a long column of priests, the black-robed Jesuits, the brown-robed Franciscans, the white-cassocked monks of the old Dominican order, and these were in turn followed by the heads of religious congregations and members of the holy father's immediate court in Elizabethan costumes.

Next came the bishops and the archbishops and, in short a replica of the previous procession.

Received Cardinal Rings
After the pope had been escorted to his apartments the cardinals went to the Sistine chapel, held a short reception and received the congratulations of friends. This lasted only a short time, when they again went to the Hall of Consistory.

When they had assembled the pope was again escorted by a detachment of the guards to the hall and he then "gowned upon" each the cardinal ring, a very simple appearing ring. It has a single sapphire jewel set solidly in gold. It is in such a manner as to allow the papal coat of arms to be engraved upon the back. They are provided by the Congregation of the Propaganda.

It was after the consistory, yesterday that the titular churches were assigned, that of Cardinal O'Connell being the church where the Irish Dominican monks reside, the church of San Clemente, one of the early Christian basilicas and a most beautiful and impressive church.

Presented With the Red Hat
Yesterday afternoon the red hat conferred upon Cardinal O'Connell at the morning consistory was brought to the American college by the papal master of the robes, Mgr. Caccia, and was formally presented to him.

At the close of the ceremony, Cardinal Filicini made an address, in which he said that America is the home of religious liberty. "Today," he said, "the president and the people give thanks to God for all the gifts they have received."

Later on the three American cardinals, who were very happy, chatted with their friends and guests and with the students of the college. The last night Cardinal O'Connell gave a Thanksgiving dinner to his friends at the Hotel Quirinale. The decorations of the dinner hall were beautiful. It brought to a close a most brilliant day that will be recorded in the annals of the Roman history as the equal of anything that has happened in centuries.

FUNERALS

PERKINS—The funeral of Dr. Harry P. Perkins, of Newton, Mass., took place Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Lowell cemetery. The committal services were conducted by Rev. John Matteson, rector of the Church of the Messiah, of West Newton and Auburndale, Mass. The arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Hesley.

CONWAY—The funeral of William H. Conway took place from his home, 29 Richmond street, yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock and a funeral mass was sung at 9 o'clock at St. Peter's church by Rev. John T. O'Brien. The choir sang the Gregorian mass and at the offertory "Pie Jesu" was sung by Miss Mary E. Whitley, and after the elevation Mr. James E. Donnelly sang "Jesu Salvator Mundi." At the conclusion of the mass the choir sang "De Profundis." The mass was the anniversary mass for the deceased member of the Mathew Temperance Institute of which society the deceased was a prominent member. The bearers were Messrs. Michael Muloney, Bernard Kane, James McKenna, John H. McCaffrey, John J. Townsend and Thomas Corbett. Present at the funeral and mass was a delegation from the Mathew Temperance Institute, consisting of Alderman James J. Gallagher, George F. Briggs, Bernard Connor, Henry Welch and Peter F. Brady; also a delegation from the Knights of Equity, consisting of Thomas E. Delany, John P. Meehan, Frank Roche, and Frank Green. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Mr. O'Brien read the burial service. There were many beautiful floral offerings, prominent among which was a mammoth cross of chrysanthemums and lilies with the letters "M. T. I." in blue intonitrilles from the Mathew Temperance Institute. The funeral arrangements were in charge of St. Paul, Martin Conboy, and the burial was under the direction of Undertaker George S. McKenna. Friends were present from Keene, N. H., and Canton, Mass.

MOSHER—The funeral services of Mrs. Hannah Mosher were held Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the residence of her brother, Mr. Paris Taylor, 131 Smith street, Rev. Benjamin H. Harris, of the Paige Street church, conducted the service and Mr. Harry Stocks sang. An appropriate poem was read by Rev. Mr. Harris.

Mrs. Mosher leaves a son, and a daughter, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. There were present at the services relatives from Phillips, Me., Brockton and Haverhill.

Among the beautiful flowers were sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Almond Bean of Phillips, Me.; Mr. George P. Russell and family of Wald, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Strout, of Brockton; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Russell, of Phillips, Me.; Mr. Harry Stocks, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Oliver Stevens, Mrs. Rieburg and family, J. A. Weinbeck had charge of the arrangements. Burial will be in Phillips, Me.

DEPOCHER—The funeral of Oru family; spray, Mary Deville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wagoner; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goley and Raymond Goley of Nashua, N. H.; bouquet, Mrs. Henry Lappin. The bearers were Messrs. Albert Carney, James Richardson, Fred McGuire, Martin McHugh, John Shanley and Albert Foster. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Undertaker John J. O'Connell.

McGANN—The funeral of the late Mary McGann took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from her late home, 61 Otis street the cortege going to the Sacred Heart church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul by Rev. F. X. McGann, O. M. I., of the novitiate at Tewksbury, Mass., the son of the deceased, assisted by Rev. James T. McDermott, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., as subdeacon. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., all school members of Rev. Mr. McGann. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass. At the offertory "Pie Jesu" was sung by Mrs. Hugh Walker, and after the elevation Miss Katherine Hickey rendered the solo. Mr. John J. Kelly presided at the organ. Seated inside the sanctuary rail were the following fathers: Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church, Rev. D. J. McKenna, O. M. I., of the novitiate, Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., Rev. Joseph A. Curran of St. Patrick's church, Rev. P. J. Phelan, O. M. I., Rev. L. Lagimodiere, O. M. I., N. D. De Lourdes, and Rev. Walter Phinane, O. M. I. The scholastic brothers of the Tewksbury novitiate attended in a body and were seated inside the sanctuary rail.

There were several beautiful floral tributes and among them were the following: Large spray of chrysanthemums, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roach; large spray of white chrysanthemums from Greenwood Brothers.

A memorial mass for the deceased members of Court Westford, 170 Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters was celebrated yesterday at 7:30 o'clock in St. Catherine's church, Graniteville by Rev. Michael E. Doherty. The regular choir was in attendance and under the direction of Miss Mary F. Hanley.

WOULD YOU GAIN A POUND
A Week for Three Months?

Then begin taking regularly three grain hypo-nutrient tablets, which are made from a health-germ of ordinary yeast and combined with hypophosphites and an absorptive phosphorus. Physicians and chemists assert that this tablet is very largely used for increasing the weight and improving the nervous system because of its aid to digestion, assimilation and absorption. The food elements which go to make blood and solid tissue is retained when this treatment is regularly used for several months. Most physicians and chemists supply them in sealed packages.

The most terrific Thanksgiving rush of my career leaves me engulfed in a sea of Overcoat and Suit orders all over my circuit, from Boston westward to Buffalo. Business has been of unprecedented volume—so much so that I had to stop taking orders last Saturday for Thanksgiving delivery.

CAN YOU GIVE ME A WEEK'S TIME?

If you can give me a week's time on your order, I beg of you to come into my store today or Saturday. I know you think a good suit can't be made for my prices. That's what the other fellow used to think till he saw the goods. The men who swamp me with business bought clothing before, as well as you; they are intelligent men, the same as you. They doubted, but they called to satisfy themselves. I sold them by the force of bargains—by the strength of comparisons.

Can you give me a week's time on your order? There is no question about your buying—you can't resist the goods at the price, but I want a WEEK'S TIME.

A WORD

That I advertise the name and address of a reputable concern, proves to the skeptic that I have the goods, or I should be liable before the courts of the land. That the woolsens really comprised SCOTT'S STOCK ought to be and will be accepted by everyone, everywhere, as point blank, positive proof, that during this sale at my prices a man has one of the rare chances of a lifetime to get a high grade suit or overcoat at a figure that does not admit of competition. The site finally selected for the exposition embraces approximately 400 acres of high and comparatively level ground in Balboa park and is so situated that it will permit of almost unlimited extension beyond its own confines should the growth of the exposition demand it.

orders in the exposition to a high pitch, and secured promises of participation that made it certain the original site would not contain the exposition. Meanwhile a representative of the government of Brazil, who had met and talked with Director General Collier and other representatives of the exposition in New Orleans, came to San Diego. This representative was Eugenio Dabine, and he passed several days in the city, going over the exposition subject with Acting Director General Joseph W. Scotton, Jr., and members of the board of directors. At the end of his visit he announced authoritatively what Brazil would be willing to do at the Panama-California International Exposition. The announcement opened the eyes of the exposition directors and the original plans were abandoned.

RIBS BROKEN

BARRELL OF CIDER FELL ON WORCESTER MAN

WORCESTER, Dec. 1.—Charles F. Mongun, 60 years old, of 4 Howard street was dangerously injured yesterday when he fell down a bulkhead while trying to lower a barrel of cider, the heavy load falling on top of him.

He was passing Thanksgiving with his son, Frank Mongun, in West Boylston, and started to help in the farm work by lowering the big barrel of cider into the cellar. He lost his balance and rolled down stairs with the barrel on top of him a good part of the way. Not realizing that he was seriously hurt, he took a trolley to Worcester and walked into the police station. He arrived completely exhausted and could scarcely breathe when he finally took a seat. The police surgeon found every rib on the right side of his body broken and he was taken to City hospital in an ambulance. Because of his years his condition is considered serious, and it is feared internal injuries will develop.

INDIAN PRINCES AND POTENTATES WILL OUTSHINE KING GEORGE AT THE DURBAR

HERE IS A REMEDY THAT WILL CURE SKIN AND SCALP AFFECTIONS AND WE CAN PROVE IT

The A. W. Dows Drug Store says to every person, be it man, woman or child, who has an irritated, tender, itched, itching SKIN or SCALP, you need not suffer another day. "We have a red skin preparation that acts instantly and will bring you swift and sure results."

One warm bath with ZEMO SOAP and one application of ZEMO and you will soon see a cure in sight. ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP are proven cures for every form of skin or scalp affection. They are sold by one leading druggist in every city or town in America and in Lowell by A. W. Dows Drug Store.

are here for the durbar. Even in his coronation robes, which he will not wear here, because there is to be no actual crowning of him and his consort as emperor and empress of India, the English ruler is not nearly such a gorgeous spectacle as various maharajahs who are here with their suits to welcome their superior. In the matter of jewels King George has an advantage, because the presence of the "Stars of Africa" in his regalia gives him the largest diamonds in the world. Those gems, cut from the enormous Cullinan diamond, have no equals, but in gaudy colors, gold ornaments and rich trappings the native princes will outshine their sovereign.

LARGE ATTENDANCES

At Sacred Heart Church Annual Bazaar Yesterday

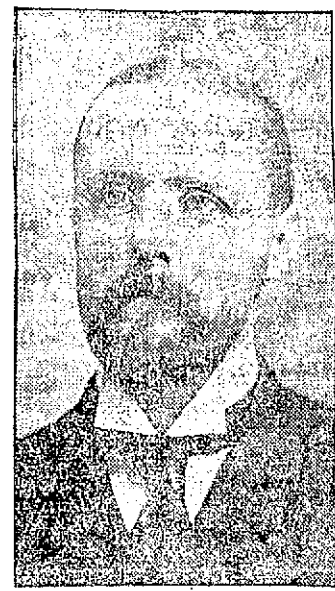

Two great attendances made merry at the Sacred Heart church bazaar yesterday afternoon and evening, the bazaar having opened Wednesday evening. The afternoon festivities were given over to the children exclusively and the program was under the direction of Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I., Rev. J. T. McDermott, O. M. I. and Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I. The entertainment opened with a selection by Gilmore's Ladies' orchestra followed by a solo by Frank Donahue; recitation by Agnes Seymour; humorous songs and recitations by Frank McCarthy. The program concluded with another selection by the orchestra after which prizes were distributed to the children. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in games and other amusements.

In the evening a minstrel show was the principal attraction. Charles Moore officiated as interlocutor and the end men were George Brennan and Chas. Carey. There were solos by Francis Mollahan, Catherine Roughan, Loretta Donahue and Margaret Connolly; the candy table was in charge of Mary T. Burns, matron; Margaret Connolly, Mary Cowell, Elizabeth McLennan, Margaret Burns, Margaret Staples, Alice Murphy and Emily Higgins; and the refreshment table was in charge of Mrs. Thomas Farrell, matron, assisted by Mrs. William Burrows, Mrs. Joseph Parley, Mrs. Stephen Brennan, Mrs. Edward O'Brien, Mrs. James Parrell, Mrs. Eugene Flynn, Mrs. J. Hartnett, Mrs. E. Sullivan, Mrs. James Seymour, Mrs. John Rosignian and Mrs. Mary Vessels. The general manager of the whole fair and of the various committees was Dr. J. E. O'Connor. Tonight the entertainment will be given by performers from Keith's and the Merrimack Square theatre.

Tomorrow afternoon the children will be entertained. The affair will be brought to a close tomorrow evening. The program will be composed of acts from Keith's theatre, these appearing through the courtesy of Manager Stevens of that popular theatre. After the entertainment dancing will be in order.

On the opening evening an unusually fine entertainment was given, the program being as follows:

Irish Airs Orchestra Solo, "Answer" Kathleen Jennings Solo, "Wearing of the Green" James E. Donnelly Recitation, "Top of the Morning" James Connelly Solo Frances Tighe "The Rosary" Glendora Double Quartet Mr. John J. Kelly, accompanist. Dancing followed the entertainment.

DR. JAMES H. O'CONNOR
General Manager

Donahue and the chorus singing was most acceptable. The performance was given under the direction of Henry T. Curry.

A rushing business was done at all the booths and dancing was enjoyed after the entertainment.

Among the different booths, the following had charge: The Sacred Heart booth, Loretta Donahue, Catherine Murphy, Mrs. J. B. O'Connor, Alice Masterton, Jennie Cronin, Etta McDermott, May Brown, Minnie O'Hare, Mary Crowley, Mary Devine, Mrs. Bridget Mullan, Mrs. Mary Crowe and Elizabeth Maguire; the Holy Rosary table, Mrs. Maria J. Foley, Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mrs. J. Patrick, Mrs. P. O'Neill, Mrs. N. Murphy; Mystery table was in the charge of Mrs. Hans Takke and Mrs. Mary Gildea; the Children of Mary table was under the patronage of Lillian Holden, assisted by Alice Ward, Elizabeth Mickell, Nellie Murphy and Catherine Hickey; the Holy Name table was in charge of Gertrude Ward, assisted by Margaret Lenane, Catherine Brady and Josephine Nixon; the candy wheel was in charge of George Brennan, George Reardon and Martin Finlay; the "Drop in the Bucket" was in charge of Elsie Hinggan and John Dugan; the "Hoop-la" was in charge of George Kirwin, Joseph McGinn and Thomas Curley; the "Electric Maze" was in charge of Thomas Healey; the "Fish Pond" was in charge of Martha Kilian, Marguerite Blackburn, Lilla Durkin, Josephine Lynch, Grace

SILVER WEDDING

Observed by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Murphy

Twenty-five years ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. James P. Murphy of this city were united in marriage. The anniversary was observed in a fitting manner last night at the couple's home, 35 Potter street, where over 100 guests had gathered to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and offer them their best wishes.

The house was prettily decorated by Mr. Peter Murphy and a musical program was enjoyed, consisting of singing by Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Andrew Quinn, Mrs. William Kennedy, Joseph Murphy, Miss Ruth Delaney and Mr. William Mullin. Mr. William Kennedy gave instrumental selections and Master Arthur Hogan also played. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Mary Murphy, Miss M. Hoar and Mrs. Annie Kennedy.

HUSBAND AND WIFE

WERE DETAINED BY THE IMMIGRATION OFFICERS

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—George Rusky, a wealthy Greek, who has travelled all over the world during the last 15 years and who amassed a fortune during his wanderings, arrived on the White Star liner Arabia yesterday with his Egyptian wife, whom he married a short time ago in Cairo.

Both were detained by the immigration officers, the wife because it is thought she is suffering with an eye disease and the husband pending an investigation as to his citizenship.

Rusky was well supplied with money and displayed a roll that may have easily contained $100. He claims to be an American citizen, having been naturalized in San Francisco some years ago. His life has been full of exciting adventures and explorations of far-away countries.

He was one of the first to reach Klondike, when the search for gold was on.

LOWELL HIGH WON MADE NEW RECORD

Easily Defeated Tufts Dental School

Lowell High defeated Tufts Dental school football team by a score of 11 to 0 yesterday morning at Washington park, the contest marking the close of the high school football season. Although the members of the opposing team were old and seasoned football players and put up a good game individually, their team work was not up to the standard and the local players had little difficulty in keeping the ball in their possession during the greater part of the game. There were two Lowell players on the visitors' team, Donovan and Kimball, former high school students.

Cawley put up a great game for the home team, scoring both touchdowns, which were made in the second period. The lineup and summary:

Lowell Carter, Cahill, Roano, 1c, Morill, 1c, Costello, W. Donohoe, 1c, Daval, Bennett, c, Cullen, 1c, Edgar, 1c, Trull, Clark, 1c, Leggat, Hazzerty, 1c, Bowers, Mahoney, 1c, Bulley, 1c, Cawley, 1c	Tufts Ind. 1c, Chaff 1c, Olan 1c, Johnson 1c, Rooney 1c, Kelley 1c, Kimball 1c, Smith 1c, Sibley 1c, Butler 1c, Donovan, Jones 1c, Sanderson and functions of many forms of bacteria in breaking down animal and vegetable tissues to provide food for new vegetable life.

A feature of the lecture was the life history of the bacteria of malaria with the discovery and explanation of the spread of malaria by the mosquito, the stages of the invasion of the red corpuscle of the blood by this bacterium was shown, its growth and gradual appearance in the blood serum at the occurrence of exterminating flies and mosquitoes and having sanitary conditions about all habitations of man were thoroughly and forcefully presented.

Next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the lecture will be on "Conservation of the Senses" and will be given by Dr. R. J. Meigs. It will be illustrated by the stereopticon and will be open to both men and women.

FLUE EXPLODED

Fireman Was Blown Out of His Cab

George E. Drew, a Boston & Maine locomotive fireman, was blown from his cab and fatally burned near South Nashua last night by an explosion of a boiler flue. He was fireman on the train due in Lowell at 6:18 p. m.

The engineer looked back and saw his fireman beside the track with his clothing on fire. The train was backed and the engine and other trainmen put out the flames, which had terribly burned the victim. He was placed on an up-train, brought to this city and taken to the Nashua hospital.

Drew's address is 27 Hancock street, Boston. His run was on the express train between Concord, N. H., and Boston.

WHITE SLAVERY

CHARGE WAS MADE AGAINST
DR. HARDER

PITTSFIELD, Dec. 1.—In a sensational raid by the police at the Berkshire Inn, a roadhouse on the outskirts of the city, and near the residence of Senator Crane, last night, Dr. George E. Harder, a prominent veterinary surgeon of this city, was arrested on four charges, together with five other persons.

Dr. Harder, as proprietor of the resort, will be charged with introducing with Alice Emie, a 16-year-old girl of Washington, who made a statement to the police last night that she had been forced into white slavery.

Harder will also be charged with maintaining a nuisance, keeping a disorderly house and illegally selling liquor, a large quantity of which was confiscated in the raid. The other persons arrested were Bertha Moore, Edward J. St. Germain, Bertha A. Ryder and Arthur Whitman, all well known residents of this city.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Christopher McGrath of North Chelmsford and Miss Catherine McGillion of East Chelmsford, was solemnized yesterday at the Sacred Heart church. Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., officiated and the young people were attended by Miss Mary L. McGillion as bridesmaid and Mr. Hugh McGrath as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles McGillion. Mr. and Mrs. McGrath will be at home to their friends at 24 Salem street after a short wedding tour.

KELLEY—MURPHY

Yesterday at the church of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I., officiating, Mr. Edward V. Kelley, a well known and popular resident of Belvidere, and Miss Mary T. Murphy, were united in the bonds of matrimony. Mr. Herbert Kelley, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Mary Kelley, an intimate friend of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple left on a brief wedding tour. There were many wedding presents. On their return they will be at home to their friends at 40 Cedar street.

GAUTHIER—SOUCY

Mr. James J. Gauthier and Miss Catherine Soucy were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at Notre Dame de Lourdes church by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Lamothe, O. M. I. The witnesses were Elijah Soucy and Charles C. Dion.

BRENNON—SYMONDS

Wednesday night Mr. Albert G. Brennan and Miss Gladys Symonds, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. Harvey Gaudin, 132 Bateman road. Rev. George F. Kengott officiating. The best man was Mr. Harvey E. Symonds and the bridesmaid was Miss Mildred Brennan. The ushers were Mr. Royal Parkinson, Mr. William Haynes, Mr. Arnold S. Lund and Mr. George Cross. The happy couple left on the 9:47 train on a short wedding journey and on their return will make their home at 105 Warwick street.

LAFLAMME—BERNIER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory, when Mr. Sydney L. Laflamme, formerly of this city, and now of Manchester, N.

H., and Miss Louise Jeannette Bernier, the well known milliner, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Pauquette, O. M. I. Miss Corinne Bernier, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Mr. Joseph Laflamme, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laflamme, 27 Queen street, where a dainty wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. A short reception followed and the couple left on the 9:26 o'clock train for New York. They will be at home in a week at 219 Union street, Manchester, N. H.

HEAL—STOTT

Mr. Henry J. Heal and Miss Emily

Stott were married Wednesday night by Rev. Selden W. Cummings at his residence, 62 Fairmount street. They were attended by Miss Mary J. Whalen and will reside at 583 Central street, after a short wedding journey. They will be at home to friends after December 10th.

STEVENS—CLUER

The marriage of Mr. Charles O.

Stevens and Miss Daisy F. Cluer was solemnized Wednesday night by Rev. Selden W. Cummings at his home, 62 Fairmount street. The couple were attended by Mr. Alvin W. Cluer and Miss Grace B. Cluer, father and sister of the bride respectively. The happy couple left on a short wedding trip and on their return they will reside at 53 London street.

TWO WOMEN KILLED

Motor Car Skidded and Then Turned Turtle

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Engaged in pursuit of another car in which a bridal couple were making their escape, an automobile driven by the best man and carrying the bride and some of the guests, skidded and turned turtle at the corner of Crawford street and Walnut avenue, Roxbury, yesterday morning, crushing two of its occupants to death and fatally injuring a third.

Miss Julia Galvin, 25 years old, of Porter road, Cambridge, the bride, and Miss Mary Gaffey, 50 years old, of 4324 Walnut avenue, Roxbury, a guest.

The dying: Miss Catherine Milley, 30 years old, of 4 Ellsworth place, Jamaica Plain. She is at the city hospital suffering from injuries to her spinal column.

Men Escape Injury
The other occupants of the car, three men, were flung clear of the car as it turned, and escaped injury.

Bridal Party in Ignorance
The groom and bride whose wedding, at St. Joseph's church on Circuit street, Roxbury, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, was the forerunner of the tragedy, are on their honeymoon, wholly unaware of the fate that overtook their pursuers.

James R. Gormley, a leather merchant of 2012 Columbus avenue, Roxbury, was the bridegroom. He was married to Miss Ella Donovan of Rockland street, Roxbury, who was employed in his office, as was Miss Galvin, by the Rev. Denis J. Whaley.

John J. Gormley, 28 years old, an automobile salesman and a brother of the groom, was best man; Miss Galvin was the bridesmaid.

The church ceremony was followed by a reception at the bride's home on Rockland street, to which the entire bridal party went in two automobiles.

Tried to Steal a March
Here the bridal couple, after changing to traveling clothes, sought to steal a march on their guests and escape the bombardment of confetti that had been planned. Accordingly they slipped from the house almost unnoticed and, entering the faster of the cars stationed outside, got away just as the hue and cry was raised.

The remainder of the bridal party was not to be balked of its purpose without a pursuit, however. Struggling to catch up and wrap, they ran from the house and into another car which John Gormley had already cranked.

In the car were Miss Galvin, Gormley, Miss Gaffey, John B. Gaffey, 48 years old, of 38 School street, Walter Buckley, 40 years old, of 52 Hartford street, and Miss Milley.

Lose Sight of Car
The car swung down Rockland street into Walnut avenue, in time to catch a fleeting glimpse of the bridal car. After that the quarry gradually drew away, and at junction of Crawford street and Walnut avenue, where the road forms a fork, there was no sight of it.

Gormley decided to keep to the right along Walnut avenue. As he started to make the moderate turn, the front wheels skidded in the heavy mud that covered the road, a tire blew up and the car spun around completely, then turned turtle.

Bridesmaid Died Instantly

The little bridesmaid died with the bouquet she had held during the wedding ceremony in one hand. In the other was the confetti she had hoped to shower on the bride and groom. She still held both when, after the survivors of the wreck had recovered from the shock and lifted the smashed machine her body, with its pretty silk gown pitifully muddled, lay uncovered.

The occupants of houses in the neighborhood, attracted by the commotion, poured out and one of them, Mrs. Sarah Driscoll, had the dead woman carried into her home at 233 Walnut avenue.

Miss Gaffey and Miss Milley were also carried into the houses nearby.

Dr. E. J. Barry, of 199 Columbus avenue and Jas. H. Barry, of 2901 Washington street rendered first aid to the injured.

THE ANNUAL SOCIAL

Held Under the Auspices of the Y. M. C. I.

The annual Thanksgiving social under the auspices of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held in Association hall Wednesday night, hundreds of friends of the members of the organization being present.

An original farce entitled "The Lightning Barbers" was given in connection with an entertainment program which preceded the dancing. The barbers, or they might really be called butchers, were P. P. McCartin, William Alarney and William Harrington while the customers, or victims, were Chas. Curry, Bernard Kane, Gerald Beane, J. M. A. Corker was taken by Joseph Carroll, and he was all that his name implied.

The musical numbers were invariably well done, the work of the Paragon quartet being especially good. They were as follows: A. Doyle, James Sullivan, William Marren, James Lyons and P. P. Curtin. The musical director was J. C. McCaffrey. The accompanist was Anna V. Murphy.

The officers were as follows: General manager, Henry Cogrove; assistant general manager, John Tansley; floor director, Arthur J. O'Neill; assistant floor director, Edward L. Carney; chief aid, Charles C. Burns; aids, J. T. McGarvey, Robert J. Whalen, Paul Clark, J. H. Joseph, Joseph Calhoun, William Marren, William Harrington; James Flanagan, George F. O'Meara, James Conroy, James Kelley, James F. Gilligan, J. H. Clark, Frank P. McCartin.

SCALA-McDONOUGH

Big Boxing Program on for Tonight

All indications point to no disappointments but good bouts at tonight's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club when the principal attraction will be Kid Scala of Spokane, Wash. and Young McDonough, the pride of Manchester. Scala after knocking all the men of his weight in the west came east to Boston and was taken up by the Armory club. He made one appearance there and made a hit and was to have been seen there frequently this winter, but owing to the law relative to public halls over garages that put the Armory club out of commissions he was left with nothing to do and hence the management of the local club got him. Scala is a headliner in boxing circles and ordinarily would not come to Lowell, but under the circumstances he consented to meet McDonough and will be on hand.

Young McDonough is the pride of Manchester and the greatest thing in the boxing line in that city since the days of Pitsey Sweeney. McDonough

Do You Sleep Well?

Men often overestimate their strength in the intense absorption required by business affairs. Barmen, the great showman, attributed his success in dealing with vast numbers of people to his ability to forget it all in refreshing sleep.

is now in his prime and is giving a great account of himself. His recent bout with Dave Desiler was one of the best ever seen in that city.

Local lovers of the game are greatly interested in the semi-final tonight between Billy Mulvey of Centralville and George Stone of the "Acres" the rival 125 pound men. Both are in excellent condition and are evenly matched. Their bout will vie with the main event in interest.

There will also be a six round preliminary and Billy Gardner will referee all bouts.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Thanksgiving was quietly observed in North Chelmsford, many of the people who are away from the town returning home to spend the day with relatives.

A high mass was sung in St. John's church at 7:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield, in honor of the Holy Name society. A large attendance of members was present as well as other members of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, the former the well known superintendent of the George C. Moore mills and both life-long residents of the village, have sold their home on Church street and have gone to St. Helena, California, where they are to reside in the future. In the spring of last year a trip was made to California to visit their son, Dr. James O'Connor, and they were so impressed with the country that they decided to sell their home in the east and return to St. Helena to reside. They have a legion of friends who regret their departure from the village but who wish them success in their new home. Mrs. Annie Elinor of Princeton street has purchased their home on Church street and has taken up her residence there.

A delightful surprise party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Morning on Middlesex street in honor of Miss Rena Welch. About 75 friends from the village and Lowell gathered and presented her a beautiful bracelet. The presentation speech was made by John Handy, who in behalf of all present extended their best wishes. Miss Welch was overcome and was unable to make any response but later in the evening expressed her thanks for the kindness shown her. The remainder of the evening was passed in song and merriment. Refreshments were served and a delightful evening enjoyed. All returned home at a seasonable hour. Miss Morning was assisted in receiving by the Misses Annie Welch and Loretta Gills.

The usual first Friday devotions were held in St. John's church this morning. The mass was celebrated at 7:30 by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. Devotions in honor of the Sacred Heart will be held this evening at 7:30 and Rev. Fr. Delaherty will officiate. Recitation of the office and special singing will be given by the members of the Knights of the Sacred Heart.

"OIL TRUST" DISSOLVED

Big Company Officially Came to an End Yesterday

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The career of the "Oil Trust" officially came to an end yesterday.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey, sometimes called the father of trusts and perhaps the most celebrated corporation in the world, will no longer control the affairs as the holding company of more than 30 corporations in various branches of the oil business.

Beginning tomorrow, three subsidiaries, which under the decree of the United States supreme court must conduct independently the various enterprises, will assume entire management of their own affairs.

The Oil Trust theoretically passed out of existence on Aug. 21, when the books containing the records of the company's stockholders were closed for distribution of the stock of the subsidiaries, but during the intervening period of readjustment it was necessary to preserve the old form to a large extent. Now the work of disintegration has been completed.

The task of effecting dissolution was made less difficult by the fact that the subsidiary companies never had lost their identity. They have retained their separate officers and boards of directors, and to a large extent have conducted their own affairs from their home offices in whatever states they were. These companies, however, have had representation at 26 Broadway, the home of the New Jersey corporation, which exercised general direction over all their affairs. It is this connection which will be severed. The subsidiaries which have not already surrendered their offices at 26 Broadway will do so, and henceforth the affairs of each company will be conducted in its own state.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey will continue to exist, as it owns several large plants.

Wanted to Be Happy

AND ENJOY LIFE, SAYS MRS. ANTLER

"The best proof in the world that 'Tona Vita,' the new tonic, is a remarkable medicine, is what various people who have taken it have to say. The following is a statement recently made by Mrs. A. T. Antler of Chicago, Ill., now a guest of Mrs. H. E. Welch of this city.

Mrs. Antler said: "I have been sick for about five years, during which time I tried all kinds of doctors. Besides, I took every medicine that I thought would do me the slightest good. I am one of those who want to enjoy life and be happy, but I know that without good health that is impossible. Neither the doctor's treatment nor the medicines that I took gave me any relief and I was beginning to give up hope.

"About a month ago I heard about these specialists introducing 'Tona Vita' and I went to see them. I liked the way they went about things. I heard one of them tell a woman that they did not think the medicine would benefit her trouble and therefore did not want her to buy it. This act impressed me so that I bought a bottle. After taking it several days I began to improve and have continued getting better each day. I now sleep fine and what I eat I enjoy, because it agrees with me. I know of other people who are also taking this tonic and have been benefited by it. I know it is the best medicine I have ever tried."

Half of the people in Lowell find life a burden and have little real happiness. The cause is nervous debility and it is produced by modern life in a big city. Tired, drooping, half-slept men and women are as common as the leaves on the trees in Lowell. They have uncertain appetites, poor digestion, little ambition, and feel almost too tired to work most of the time. They suffer from timidity, have no initiative and haven't enough good rich blood in their veins to make them capable and self-reliant. Their nerves are in such a state that they imagine themselves afflicted with nervous diseases at different times. The real trouble with them is debility, produced by the strain of modern methods of living.

"Tona Vita" will positively remove this condition. If it fails to do so the money is refunded at the Hall & Leon Drug Co., where the specialists will continue to meet the public for a limited time from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. and explain the nature of the preparation. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the attendant remedy, is a perfect family laxative. It is pleasant to the taste and is the best possible laxative for children.

KILLED BY A CAR

Child Had Just Eaten Thanksgiving Dinner

LEOMINSTER, Dec. 1.—Alice Rose, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Rose, was killed by a car on the Fitchburg & Leominster Street railway yesterday opposite her home at 633 North Main street.

The child, who had just eaten her Thanksgiving dinner, started to cross the street to join her brothers and sisters, who were at play in a field on the other side.

The track is close to the house and the girl ran from the yard so suddenly that it was impossible to stop the car in time to prevent the accident. The car was going toward Fitchburg at the usual rate of speed and was in charge of Adelaide Deroser, conductor, and Joseph Tiffey, motorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cyr and William Lambert, Jr., witnessed the accident and told the police that it was unavoidable under the circumstances. The Lambert boy shouted to the child, but she evidently did not hear him.

The father of the girl is employed by the railway company as an armature winder. He has four other small children.

STOMACH GAS

The Cause of Many Misleading Symptoms and Unnecessary Alarm.

Gas on the stomach sometimes causes pressure on the heart and the sufferer is unnecessarily alarmed, fearing heart disease. In other cases it produces bloating and more needless worry. The real trouble is in the blood.

When the blood is poor and thin, and the stomach in consequence is imperfectly supplied with well-oxygenated blood and nerve force, the digestive process becomes slow and fermentation of the food goes on, with formation of gas and certain acids. The pressure of the gas causes pain in the stomach; the acids produce the sour risings in the throat.

There are plenty of things to neutralize these acids, or, "sweeten the stomach" as it is called, but they do not cure the trouble. Pure rich blood which will tone up the stomach is required, as this case shows.

"Five years ago," says Mr. Walter Geary, of No. 303 Krana avenue, Roxbury, Philadelphia, Pa., "I was confined indoors, working in a machine shop, and became run down. For three years I suffered from gas on the stomach. I felt all bloated up, had terrible pains in the abdomen and was so dizzy at times that I could hardly see anything. I had bad headaches frequently. I lost my appetite and weight and got as yellow as could be. I felt tired all of the time and could hardly drag my legs along. I had trouble in keeping at work and was nervous and despondent.

"The doctors' prescriptions didn't help me and I thought there was no cure until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough trial of the pills completely cured me and I am now feeling in perfect health."

The vigor and strength which comes from a healthy stomach and a perfect digestion can only be obtained by keeping the blood pure and rich. Sufferers from too much gas or acid on the stomach, heartburn, tenderness or pains through the pit of the stomach or any form of indigestion should start at once to build up and purify their blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Others who need a blood-builder will find these pills a most useful tonic.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for a free copy of our booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat."

KILLED HIS FATHER

Boy Was Handing Gun to Parent

SOUTHBURIDGE, Dec. 1.—Sidney Clarke, a lad of five years, accidentally shot and killed his father, John Clarke, yesterday.

The older Clarke was preparing to go on a short hunting expedition with some of his neighbors and the boy was handing him the gun, when in some manner it was fired and the bullet entered his neck, causing instant death.

Clarke was one of the wealthiest persons in the town and for 20 years had been a leading factor in its business and political life, although never holding public office.

A wife, two sons and two daughters survive.

REVIVAL OF RIOTS

Negro Attacked by New York Mob

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Thanksgiving day was marked by a revival of the riots which characterized the strike of the street cleaners, yesterday's disorders resulting in the shooting of a woman and the stoning of a policeman.

The trouble started when William Barnett, a negro strike-breaker, was attacked by a mob. The negro drew a revolver and commenced firing in the air. One of the shots struck Mrs. Frances Young in the right cheek just as she put her head out of a window to see what the trouble was. She was not seriously injured.

On the way to the station the officer and prisoner were showered with bricks and other missiles from house-tops, one striking the policeman on the head and knocking him off his horse. He was removed to the hospital with a possible fracture of the skull.

The negro took refuge in a doorway, where he was rescued, by reserves, from the threatened violence of a newly collected mob.

BABY'S ECZEMA BEGAN IN PIMPLES

When Two Weeks Old, Would Water and Itch. Broken Out Most on Face. Used Box of Cuticura Ointment and Nearly Cake of Cuticura Soap. Was Completely Cured.

"My little girl had eczema on her face which first started to break out on her when she was two weeks old. It began in pimples, and would water and itch. It was on the back of her neck in the edge of her hair, and in between her shoulders. But it was broken out the most on her face.

"I doctored with two different doctors, and they did not seem to help her. Then a cousin of mine recommended the Cuticura Remedies. She said they cured one of her children, so I tried them, and they gave my child relief. I used a box of Cuticura Ointment and nearly a cake of Cuticura Soap, and my little girl was completely cured. She is three years old now and has not a sign of eczema. I have been keeping the Cuticura Ointment ever since and think the Cuticura Remedies are all right. I tell other people about them and how they cured my little girl."

(Signed) Mrs. Minnie Clutter, Deer Tick, Pa., Aug. 29, 1910.

JIMMY MORIARTY

Fought a Draw With Kid Goodman

LAWRENCE, Dec. 1.—A good-sized holiday crowd of fight fans gathered at the Unity Club here last night, where Kid Goodman of Boston and Jimmy Moriarty of Lowell were the main attraction. The bout went the limit of 12 rounds and was declared a draw by Referee Jimmy Burke of Lawrence.

Two preliminaries and a semi-final bout preceded the main event. In the first of which Kid O'Brien of Salem put Young Harvey of Lawrence away in one round of a scheduled six-round bout.

The second prelim also ended abruptly when Frank Reagan of Lawrence connected with the jaw of Young Reddy of Newburyport in the fourth round of a six-round affair.

Kid Raymond of Pawtucket got a case of cold feet when the time came for him to go on with Kid Thomas of Lawrence and Tommy Carson of South Lawrence was substituted. Thomas put Carson away in six rounds at this club a few weeks ago.

The bout last night was fast and was to have gone eight rounds, but Referee Burke disqualified Thomas in the fourth round as he claimed Thomas used his elbow after being cautioned.

The fighting was even up to the disqualification.

Goodman in the main got looked fat and much heavier than Moriarty. Much clinching occurred during the event. Goodman repeatedly scored with a hard left uppercut to Moriarty's body. Moriarty landed some hard rights to Abby's head and jaw.

Goodman had to be told repeatedly to step back at every clinch, but refused. They fought better the latter part of the bout than they did in the earlier rounds.

The bout on the whole was a slow affair. Referee Burke declared the contest a draw.

DOCTORS IN DOUBT

Whether Woman Was Dead or Not

WEBSTER, Dec. 1.—Unusual conditions accompanied the death Wednesday of Mrs. Henry H. S. Anderson. The woman was not officially declared dead until yesterday. Medical Examiner Cary C. Bradford of Southbridge and two physicians who were called in having hesitated to declare the fact, owing to the life-like appearance of the woman.

The body of Mrs. Anderson was found Wednesday morning in the bathroom of her home by her husband after he had broken in the door. She had prepared to take a bath. There was no mark on the body except a slight abrasion on the right cheek. While her limbs were rigid, the flesh was warm and there was life-like color in her cheeks, and her husband waited until last night before arranging for the funeral, in the hope that his wife would come to life again.

It is supposed that the woman died from convulsions.

HEIR TO $35,000

MAN DECLARED "DEAD" AND IS IN JAIL

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 1.—There was much rejoicing in certain circles in this city when it was announced that Charles Platt Van Wart, who is so temperamental that he has spent nine terms in jail since 1906, has discovered that he is heir to $35,000 and has retained lawyers to sue for the money.

Van Wart is now in winter quarters in the Albany County penitentiary, where he was sent by universal application of the Poughkeepsie police following a madcap frolic of good fellows on the morning after last election. This though he was declared dead by the Surrogate of Westchester county in 1906. But it is said Van Wart will produce affidavits declaring him alive by village and county officers of half the state in the union.

SOCER LEAGUE

WAS FORMED AT MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

In an exhibition soccer football match on the hunting grounds yesterday afternoon the North Chelmsford team beat the Bungles, 2 to 0. Both goals were made in the second half by Tossell and Hutchings.

The new soccer football league was formed yesterday by the Oaklands, Bungles, North Chelmsford and Y. M. C. A. teams. The games will be begun next Saturday and if the tournament is not finished when the snow begins it will be continued next spring.

COSTUME PARTY

HELD IN GRANGE HALL, DRACUT CENTRE

A very pretty costume party and dance was held at Grange hall in Dracut Centre, Wednesday night under the auspices of the members of the Greenhauge School alumni. There was a large attendance and a general good time was had by all present. The patronesses of the affair were:

Mrs. Wood and Miss Tobin; the general manager was Lester C. Merrill.

THIS LOTION BETTER THAN FACE POWDER

"The remarkable improvement in feminine complexions the past few years," says Mrs. Mae Martin, writing for the Los Angeles Bulletin, "is due chiefly to discarding face powders and using some good lotion."

"One of the least expensive and best face lotions can be made by dissolving 4 ounces spumax in 1/2 pint hot water, to which has been added 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine, or if you prefer, use witch-hazel instead of water, as it dries quicker. Apply sparingly to the skin and rub lightly until it vanishes. This cleanses the skin of blackheads, pimples and other impurities, banishes wrinkles, roughness and gives to the complexion a dainty pink and white glow. The spumax lotion soon overcomes oiliness and is invisible when on."

ENDED HIS LIFE

ARTHUR McARTHUR FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROOM

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Arthur McArthur, aged 28, supposed to belong in Set View, Prince Edward Island, "committed suicide" yesterday morning in his room at 161 Massachusetts avenue. James O'Keefe, a lodger, detected a strong odor of gas, forced the door of the room and found McArthur dead in a chair. The gas was on almost full heat and the windows were stuffed with cotton batting.

The landlady, Mrs. Julia King, saw McArthur early the night before and he seemed quite happy. No one in the house was able to ascribe a cause why he should kill himself. He had been staying at the house several weeks. He was employed as a machinist at a garage.

Letters were found in his clothes bearing the postoffice stamp of Set View, P. E. I. They were signed Edwin Douglas Herbert Donald and Charles Donald.

QUEEN MARY'S APARTMENTS WERE PARTIALLY FLOODED

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Reports from the steamship Medina, which is conveying King George and Queen Mary to the Indian Durbar indicate that the distinguished passenger had an extremely rough passage through the Bay of Bengal. A portion of the Queen's apartments was flooded. Queen Mary was forced to vacate hastily and take quarters in the special storm cabin with a swinging cot, but the King, who is a good sailor, continued to occupy his usual cabin.

OLD TIME BOWLERS

Men in Annual Bowling Game Yesterday

Two teams made up of the old time star bowlers of the city met yesterday afternoon on the Crescent alleys for their annual Thanksgiving game and the married men won by 43 pins. W. Dwyer and J. LeBrun of the winning team were in fine form, each player putting up a total of 310.

In the game between the foremen and engineers in the Tremont & Suffolk league, the foremen had little or no difficulty in winning the game. The Dress Room team turned the tables on the Machine Shop aggregation and the Cloth Room and Hosiery teams split even. The scores:

PRESIDENT FAUNCE

May Become Pastor of Rockefeller's Church

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—President William H. P. Faunce of Brown University, Providence, has received an invitation to assume the pastoral duties at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church of New York city, familiarly known as John D. Rockefeller's church.

The information concerning the invitation leaked out in Boston yesterday, after having been closely guarded by parties on both the New York and Providence ends for the past month or more, the time during which President Faunce has been considering the course he will take.

ELEVEN WERE KILLED

During the Hunting Season in Maine

BANGOR, Dec. 1.—With the big game season drawing to a close, moose hunting ending on Nov. 30 and deer hunting on Dec. 15, it is estimated that about 10,000 deer and 300 moose have been killed in Maine, and that this first quantity of game has cost the hunters about half a million dollars.

It has also cost 11 lives, or three more than last year's toll, while eight hunters have been seriously wounded and an unknown number slightly injured.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1910 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

After all it is not so easy to get a nomination for mayor, alderman or school committee under the new charter.

It seems that Mars is getting ahead of us in the canal business. Three new canals have been discovered on the neighboring planet by the astronomers of the Lowell observatory in Arizona. The Martians must have got on to the fact that we have been digging the Panama ditch and decided to steal a march on us.

Now that Christmas is coming we might remind purchasers that with such a splendid array of goods in the stores, with such excellent products turned out from our Lowell factories, nobody has any need to go to Boston for anything in dry goods, wearing apparel, household articles, or furnishings of any kind.

Lowell had much to be thankful for in the fact that she has taken the first successful step towards better government in the adoption of a new charter providing for the commission form of government. If the people make an honest endeavor to use the charter to the best possible advantage, we predict that in a short time every citizen will realize and admit the wisdom of the change.

The centennial anniversary of Wendell Phillips, observed on Wednesday by appropriate exercises in Boston, recalled the life work, the inspiring oratory and noble character of the illustrious abolitionist who never lost an opportunity of pleading the cause of an oppressed people or of promoting justice and freedom in every land. He was the most eloquent champion of human liberty this country ever produced.

The Board of Trade is putting out some good advertising matter to boom Lowell, but one could hardly conceive any better method of booming our city than to issue a complete list of its industries with a statement of the business opportunities available, the water power, the transportation, the available sites for manufacturing purposes, the intelligent help to be found here, and last but not least the commission form of government which is soon to take charge of our city's affairs.

The long ballot will regulate itself. We do not imagine that there will be a great many next year who will care to bring up the tail end of the list with 21, 27, 32, or 38 votes. Neither will anybody want to spend money for the sake of getting a hundred votes. We may say, however, that in the list of those who got between 100 and two hundred votes are some good men, but they are not sufficiently known to the voters to draw a large support. This explains why some very worthy candidates are not on the ticket.

The present government of Portugal, though designated a republic, is one of the foremost illustrations of the application of anarchistic ideas to the government of a nation. Confiscation of church property and the practical banishment of every vestige of religion are resorted to as a means of restoring tranquility; but the farther this policy is pursued the worse conditions become. Riots are frequent and the babg of the anarchist is to be used to bring about a reign of terror. The republican form of government is disgraced in the hands of such revolutionary freebooters.

PRIMARY RESULTS

The vote cast in the primary election proves very clearly that a great many people ran away with the foolish idea that they would be selected for some high office. The great number of undesirable candidates was really embarrassing to the voters, and it is gratifying to find that on the whole the citizens sized up these candidates as well as they did. This is shown in the fact that twenty-two candidates got less than 100 votes and twenty-one between 100 and 200, while men who were considered strong candidates received only from 300 to 500. The really strong candidates received over 1000. Mr. Arthur Genest received 1043, Joseph F. Donohoe 1098, John W. Daly 1102 and William Drapeau 1181.

It is to be regretted that the vast number of candidates made the count so tedious and so difficult. Nevertheless, the ticket selected is one from which a strong board can be chosen, and this is all that is desired by the friends of good government throughout the city.

The new charter has demonstrated the fact that the voters will have a greater field to select from. There is no bar to a candidate seeking office. Anybody who wishes can run, as has been amply demonstrated. It is within the power of the voters to select the best men, and this has been done with reasonably good discrimination.

If some of the candidates ran for the fun of the thing, they are convinced now that the voters did not take kindly to their jokes.

Next year we presume there will not be nearly so many candidates and there will, therefore, be less work for the counters and election officers in general. We believe it was a mistake to keep the polls open until 9 o'clock in the evening. It would be better to open the polls at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and keep them open until 8 o'clock at night. We have to learn from experience under this new system, and we have learned a few things from the first primary election that will help us in conducting the next more successfully.

The personnel of the ticket is all that could be expected from the first election under the new charter. New timber has been brought into the field, and we believe that men can be selected from that ticket who will possess the necessary ability, and who will use it in the interests of good government for all the people. If a first class ticket be not chosen on election day it will certainly not be the fault of the charter nor the result of the action at the primaries.

The nominees are now before the people and another sitting will take place on December 19, dropping just one-half the number of candidates, giving us one mayor, four aldermen and five school committee men out of a list of nominees.

SEEN AND HEARD

In a state of convalescence a West Philadelphia man became hungry. When his physician visited him the man said: "Doctor, I'm as hungry as a bear, but from what you tell me I mustn't eat anything."

"Quite correct," replied the physician, who is inclined to be somewhat absentminded, "and be sure, above everything else, to chew it thoroughly."

A reduction of about 2 cents per 100 lbs. in the rates on potatoes from Revere, Minn., and other points in Crow Wing county, to the Missouri river, has been announced by the Northern Pacific to take effect Dec. 1. The rate to Kansas City territory is reduced to 25 1/2 cents and to Omaha territory to 24 cents.

The Lehigh Valley has established a car float service between its terminals in Jersey City and the Wallabout basin in Brooklyn. The schedule of these car floats is arranged so that freight received at the Wallabout basin in Brooklyn before 4 o'clock will be sent out the same evening on the "symbol train" (fast freight) from Jersey City.

Following the failure of Pitt Bros. & Co. of Baltimore, the Kirwan Bros. Grain Co. went into bankruptcy, and certain officers of the company have been charged with obtaining money from Baltimore banks on forged bills of lading. It is said that these forged bills of lading were stamped similar to that used by the railway companies on their genuine bills of lading.

The Boston Elevated railway has filed a petition with Massachusetts a Railway commission asking for a franchise to permit it to carry freight, express matter, baggage and newspapers in Boston. It is suggested that the Boston Elevated may develop a considerable interchange of freight with the Bay State Street railway, which controls a number of street railway lines north and south of Boston, and which has freight branches in a number of towns.

The Long Island has announced that it will take off about seven trains on its main line and a number of trains on branch lines beginning November 15. The company gives as its reason a large deficit, due to the expense of handling passengers' traffic at the western end of Long Island with both steam motive power and electricity. The company estimates that this curtailment in train service will mean a saving of about $200 a day, and about 50 men will be laid off.

A five-masted sailing vessel has been launched at Bordeaux, France, which is the largest sailing vessel in the world. It is 425 feet over all.

A temporary injunction has been granted restraining the Missouri railroad and warehouse commission from reducing intrastate rates on iron and steel. The injunction was granted by the federal circuit court.

The Central Passenger association lines, following the example of those belonging to the Western Passenger association, have decided not to make any reduced rates for the Christmas or New Year's holiday season.

While the official date of the opening of the Panama canal has been set for January 1, 1915, it is the intention to allow vessels to use the canal just as soon as practicable. It is believed that this can be accomplished during the latter half of 1913.

A fund of $125 has been raised by the North Eastern Manufacturing association to pay the expenses of preparing and defending a petition to the interstate commerce commission for lower rates on furniture from the south to the Pacific coast.

Shippers have presented to the Winnipeg board of trade of Canada a petition asking for the establishment of a western branch for the Canadian board of railway commissioners, claiming that at present western Canadian shippers were not getting entirely fair treatment.

FIGHTING SLEEP

They are saying lay-me's across the hall. And I drop my paper and back to all. The words she says. There's the mother tone. Then the baby trying to go alone. And stumbling wofully now and then. Before her baby says: "Amor." And I know she's glad when she does get there. That little baby with yellow hair.

She's so full of mischief! The amen said. She's tucked all safely and snug in bed. Her eyes grow bigger and her fingers tighter. And she clasps her hands and she says: "God bless Papa and mamma and sister, too. And everybody else ever knew." And then she pauses and thinks a lot. And adds: "Bless also my dad's bald spot."

Then she blessed the stove, and the bed, the chairs. And the cat outdoors, and the hall and the stairs. And the trees and flowers, and lawn and walk. And blessed the canna, both bloom and stalk. And her folks gets slower and falters more.

And signs, and her mother comes to the door. And I go with her for a little peep. At the babe that hated to go to sleep. And there she lies with her locks outspread. And a dimpled elbow beneath her head. And she pinks her face in a peeping out. And the tip of the baby are half about. And a dimple comes in her cheek, and then.

When I point it out, it is gone again. And I leave a kiss on the tousel, head And go and leave her alone in bed.

The latest magazine isn't much. To a dad who has bent away down to touch His baby's forehead with loving lips. And has left a kiss on her finger-tips: Who cares for fiction when he has got A little babe in a snow-white cot? Who cares to read or to dream at all When the babe is sleeping across the hall?

THIS SHAMPOO WILL PREVENT BALDNESS

"Baldness," writes Mrs. Mac Marry, in the Los Angeles Press, "is frequently traced to injurious shampoos. Soaps and mixtures containing free alkali have a tendency to rob the scalp of its necessary oil. This causes a dry, harsh, itchy condition, dandruff appears and the hair-follicles are deprived of sufficient nourishment, then the hair becomes brittle and falls out. A delightfully soothing and cleansing shampoo can be had with plain cantroxin, a teaspoonful of which dissolved in a cup of hot water is plenty for a thorough cleansing of hair and scalp. This dissolves dust and dandruff and excites the tissues to healthy action, rinsing leaves the hair and scalp wonderfully clean. Cantroxin shampoos will make 'straw' lifeless hair soft, fluffy and lustrous, even encouraging a bountiful growth."

Centralville Social Club Had Great Time

The fifth celebration of Thanksgiving at the Centralville Social club was held Wednesday night in the club rooms in Lakeview avenue and as usual the event was largely attended. Up to a year ago this event was observed with a turkey supper at 12 o'clock, but on account of the increased number of members and the lack of room, the affair has now taken the form of a smoke talk, but nevertheless a pleasant evening was spent, and it was in the early hours that the guests departed.

Arseme Trudel, president of the organization presided over the festivities and a varied entertainment program was rendered by the following: George Labranchie, the Centralville quartet composed of Telesphore Beauparlant, Edouard Pratte, Arcelle Brunelle and Jules Morrisette; J. THANKSGIVING MASS

ATTENDED BY PRES. TAFT AND DIPLOMATIC CORPS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Beneath the entwined flags of the republics of the western hemisphere, President

Taft, Mrs. Taft, members of the cabinet, justices of the supreme court of the United States and members of the diplomatic corps attended a pan-American Thanksgiving mass at St. Patrick's Catholic church here yesterday. The twenty nations of Latin-America joined with the United States in giving thanks for Providential favors during the past year and in beseeching permanent peace for the world's families. James Cardinal Gibbons, assisted at the solemn high mass, which was celebrated by the Rev. Francis P. Doory of Baltimore. The Right Rev. Bishop Donahue of Wheeling, W. Va., delivered the sermon, dedicated to peace within and among nations, including a plea for ratification of pending arbitration treaties.

After the mass the guests were entertained at a luncheon in St. Patrick's rectory. The president, however, did not attend this function, returning directly to the White House to spend the remainder of the day with his family.

MARTIN T. KNAPP WILL HAVE TO FIGHT CONGRESSMAN SIMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Martin A. Knapp, presiding judge of the court of commerce, who recently declared that unless the railroads changed their tactics government ownership is inevitable, is likely to have a fight on his hands if he desires to continue the work of the court of commerce. Congressman T. W. Sims of Tennessee has recently declared that he will make an effort at this session of congress to abolish the court of commerce. There was considerable opposition to the court when it was established, and its

Anty Drudge Tells Why Mary Doesn't Object to a Big Wash.

Father—"Just look at the condition of the kids' clothes! Where do you suppose they pick up the dirt? You'll have Mary making an awful kick about the heavy wash. Why I'll bet she has to do up a dozen dresses every week for the babies!"

Anty Drudge—"More than that, son-in-law. I suppose it's nearer two dozen. But so long as she has Fels-Naptha soap on washday, Mary will never say a word."

Every mother knows what a lot of fun the baby gets out of crawling about the floor and making its tiny self just as dirty as a little pig.

But every mother has looked with alarm at the array of baby clothes to be washed on Monday morning.

And every one has seen with despair how the delicate little garments are cooked to pieces in the destructive washboiler.

But all that was before the Fels-Naptha wash-way became known.

The Fels-Naptha way means that baby's soiled clothes are cleansed quickly in cool or lukewarm water without the seething suds, without the terrific back-breaking rub, rub, rub.

affair proved to be one of the social successes of the season. There was a large attendance and the evening was spent in an enjoyable manner.

The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with fraternal emblems, college pennants and American flags. At intermission refreshments were served. The music for dancing was furnished by Gilmore's orchestra and as usual gave general satisfaction.

There were friends from Boston, Lawrence, Haverhill, Woburn, Lynn, Waltham and Nashua, while local college men from Holy Cross, Tufts, Lowell, Tufts, Harvard, Worcester Polytechnic and Dartmouth were present. The success of the affair is due to the untiring efforts of Charles D. Devine and George E. Kirby, who had general charge of the party.

GREAT TRAFFIC

BY WAY OF PANAMA AND TEHUAUTEPEC

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Practically 100 million dollars' worth of domestic merchandise from the United States was transported across the isthmus of Panama and Tehuantepec in the fiscal year 1911 via the two railway lines connecting in the one case, Panama on Pacific with Colon on the Atlantic and, in the other, Salina Cruz, the Pacific terminal, and Tehuantepec with Puerto Mexico on the Atlantic. Trans isthmian traffic between the eastern and western coasts of the United States and between the eastern ports of our country and Pacific coast points in Central and South America has greatly increased in recent years. In 1906, when the Panama railway offered the only rail connection via the isthmus between the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, the total traffic amounted to about 6 million dollars. In 1907, on January 1 of which year the Tehuantepec railway became available, the total was 21 million dollars; in 1908, 42 million; in 1909, 62 million; in 1910, 82½ million; and in 1911, 99 million dollars, exclusive of more than three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of foreign merchandise.

The growth in traffic by the respective routes has been, according to figures compiled by the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor, via the Panama railway, from 10 million dollars in 1907 to 26 million in 1911; and via the Tehuantepec railway from 1½ million in 1907 to 73½ million in 1911. In 1907 the traffic was almost equally divided between the two routes, while last year about three-fourths of the total was moved across the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Of the merchandise passing from the Atlantic coast ports westward across the isthmus, aggregating $22½ million dollars in value, 4 million dollars' worth being shipped by way of Tehuantepec and 8½ million dollars worth by way of Panama; and a little over 8½ million dollars worth went to foreign countries of which all but 1 million dollars worth was by way of Panama. The west-bound shipments to the Atlantic seaboard at New York and Philadelphia, the latter's share being less than 1 million dollars value and that of New York, 61½ million. The westward movement included a total of 32½ million dollars value to San Francisco, 10½ million to San Diego, 4½ million to Seattle, nearly 1 million to Los Angeles, about a half million dollars each to Tacoma and Portland, and smaller amounts to Oakland and other Pacific coast points. About 89 per cent of this traffic was moved via the isthmus of Tehuantepec. To foreign countries the shipment from the Atlantic coast cities, aggregating $4½ million dollars in 1911, as against $3½ million a year earlier, were distributed to Peru, 2 million dollars; to Colombia, 1½ million; Ecuador and Chile, each about 1 million; to Central America, over 2 million, and to Canada, about $900,000.

Havilion sugar supplies more than half of the east-bound traffic to cities on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States. The total eastward movement last year represented 37 million dollars, of which 18 million was sugar shipped direct to Hawaii via Tehuantepec to Delaware Breakwater for orders. In addition to this, 16 million dollars worth of miscellaneous merchandise moved from San Francisco to the Atlantic and Gulf coast cities, chiefly New York, Boston, Philadelphia and New Orleans, 9½ million dollars worth being via Panama and 6½ million via Tehuantepec. Eastward shipments from Puget Sound via the isthmus totaled 1½ million dollars, destined mostly for New York and Charleston. Small shipments were also made from Astoria and San Diego.

IN THE CHURCHES

Union Thanksgiving Services Held Yesterday

A union Thanksgiving service including all the Baptist churches in the city, was held at the Paige Street church yesterday.

The Rev. B. R. Harris, pastor of the church, was in charge of the services; the Rev. Asa R. Ditts of the Calvary church read the Thanksgiving proclamation; the Rev. J. C. Wilson of the Chelmsford Street church, the pastor, and the Rev. Selden W. Cummings of the First Baptist read the Scripture lesson. The mixed quartet of the Paige Street church furnished the musical part of the program. Rev. Theodore Leman Frost, S. T. D., pastor of the Worthen Street Baptist church, preached the sermon, taking for his theme, "Prosperity and Revival." His text was Joel 2:28, "And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh."

Big Union Services

A union Thanksgiving of all the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city was held at the first Presbyterian church, yesterday.

The services opened with an organ prelude by Miss Minnie Tucker, the organist. Then Rev. S. A. Jackson of the Westminster Presbyterian church offered the opening prayer. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. George F. Macquie, then sang the "Glory to God" of Mozart. There was a responsive reading from the psalter, Rev. J. J. Hamilton being the reader. The chorus choir sang an anthem by Porter, for the offertory. The president's and the governor's Thanksgiving proclamations were read by Rev. Arthur Bonner, Ph. D., of the Highland Methodist church. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Primitive Methodist church.

St. Anne's Church

At St. Anne's church, yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. A. St. John Chambee preached a Thanksgiving sermon. He found his inspiration in the eighth chapter of Deuteronomy, and exhortation to obedience in view of God's mercy and goodness to the Israelites. In part, he said:

"Moses speaks to the Israelites, telling them of the wondrous ways of God. He tells them of the punishments they have received for their weaknesses, and of their eventual delivery from bondage. This was all due to the tender mercies of God. They are warned not to forget that they are about to enter into the land of milk and honey through the instrumentality of God."

"There is an application of these words to this great nation today, this enlarged people. It is the wonderful mercy and grace of our father which has made for our great advances. We are what and where we are, not through our own merits, but through the manifold dangers and conflicts that have been avoided for us through the grace of God. When we have been in ways of darkness, God did not forsake us; succor came to us from His Majesty on high. Out of days of darkness came brightness. Never has the prospect been brighter for us than it is today. But we must not forget that it is all of God."

Congregational Churches

The Congregational churches of the city united in a Thanksgiving service at the Highland church at 10.30 o'clock, yesterday.

The pastor, Rev. A. F. Dunnella, led the service and read the scriptures and on Thanksgiving day proclamation of Gov. Ross, Rev. D. A. Willmott, pastor of the First church, made the prayer, and assisted in the service; and the sermon was preached by Rev. George F. Keagott, Ph. D., pastor of the First Trinitarian church. There were special Thanksgiving anthems by the quartet choir, and the usual hymns, the service closing with "America" and the benediction.

CHELMSFORD

The Chelmsford Gun club observed Thanksgiving day with an all day shoot, football game and a turkey hunt in the town hall in the evening. In the morning a chicken shoot was held, a six-inch ring serving as a target. The winners were as follows:

Edward Dryden 5, Victor L. Parkhurst 2, Howard P. Swift 1, Edward Russell 1, Ephraim Lyotto 1, Jerry Johnson 1. In the afternoon the shooting was at clay pigeons, with Leroy J. Parkhurst at first place with a record of 70 per cent and Howard P. Swift second at 60 per cent. There was a good attendance both morning and afternoon. The football game on the Warren avenue grounds in the forenoon, between the Comets of East Chelmsford and the Shawlights of Lowell was a popular attraction. The Comets outlasted their opponents and won easily by the score of 15 to 0. Two touchdowns were made by Baldwin and one by Arthur Carr on a forward pass. William Kittredge served as referee and Arthur mouse as timekeeper.

Over 100 couples attended the annual concert and ball in the evening. Hubbard's orchestra furnished music for the dance and gave the following concert program: "The Merry Widow Overture, Morning, Noon and Night, Supper Trombone solo, En Frut... Ems Gluck Claude W. Spary. Finale, Fly Away Galop... Herbert. Mr. Spary, who was at one time a member of Sousa's band gave as an

Has built up a successful dental practice in this city in little more than 1 year.

WHY?

THREE STRONG REASONS

1st—Absolutely Painless Dentistry— I honestly believe that this is the strongest reason for my success. People come to me in fear and trembling and go away happy—wondering why they doubted.

2nd—The Lowest Prices consistent with good work. A set of teeth as low as $5. Gold crowns and bridges $3 to $5. Teeth without plate $3 to $5. Gold fillings $1; other fillings 50c.

3rd—Perfect Work Guaranteed— My painless perfect dental work causes patients to send their friends to me—the friends doing likewise. In this way I have built up a big practice. People can rely absolutely upon my work.

PATROLMEN SHIFTED

A Number of Changes Made by the Police Board

A shift which affected eleven patrolmen of the police department went into effect today. Some of the men were shifted from one platoon to another while others were transferred from inside to outside routes. As many of those who were affected are tickled over the change while others are anything but pleased with their new route.

Patrolman "Jack" Leighton, who has patrolled the north side of Merrimack street during the day for years, has been transferred to Patrolman Daniel Cogger's route in the vicinity of Appleton and South streets during the day.

Patrolman Philip D. Murphy crosses from the south side of Merrimack street and Middle street to Patrolman Leighton's beat.

Patrolman David Petrie who has had the early night beat in Merrimack square for a number of years takes the beat formerly patrolled by Patrolman Murphy.

Patrolman Francis H. Moore goes from Chelmsford and Hale streets late night to Patrolman John J. Sullivan's route in Bridge street and Lakeview avenue early night.

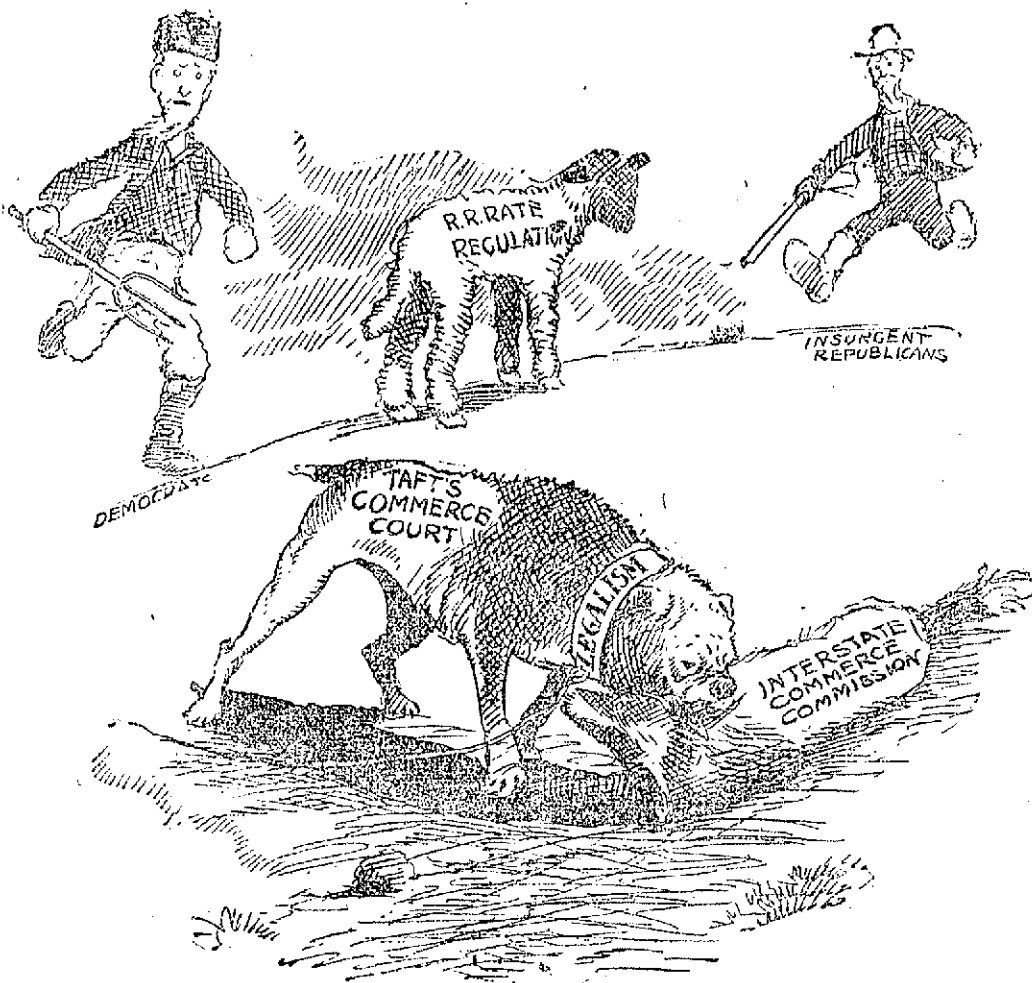

Patrolman John J. Sullivan leaves the early night shift in Merrimack square, the route formerly patrolled by Patrolman Petrie.

Patrolman Patrick J. Conroy is changed from the fair grounds late night to Patrolman Sullivan's route in Centralville.

Patrolman Frank J. Donovan from early night in Pawtucketville to late night in Middlesex Village.

Patrolman John J. McCarthy from late night in Pawtucketville to late night Hale and Chelmsford streets.

OUTRAGES COMMITTED

Shops and Houses Looted by Armed Bands of Robbers

HONG KONG, China, Dec. 1.—Although the reign of piracy on the West river had been checked by the vigilance of the guards on board the river steamers, the situation on shore is utterly chaotic. In the towns and settlements along the river the most deplorable outrages are frequently occurring. Even in Canton the military regime has moved itself wholly inefficient. For several days armed bands of robbers and hoodlums have gone about Canton looting shops and houses. Yesterday five ruffians breaking with revolvers walked boldly into a bank in a garden suburb and got away with $2,000 in cash. About the same time a band of seven armed natives blundered into the open market and boldly plundered two prominent shops before the eyes of hundreds of panic-stricken onlookers. They secured several hundred dollars in money and walked off. The local police, disbanded, watched the spectacle helplessly. Street fighting goes on continuously in all parts of Canton and those killed or injured include many innocent bystanders.

The Hong Kong government has adopted the sternest measures to suppress all outbreaks of rioting here. One unusual piece of legislation adopted at the request of the police permits the flogging of prisoners for minor offenses against the peace.

There have been no developments of piracy on the river. The steamers all proceeded under guard and keep a constant watch against attack by pirates.

McFARLAND WINS

He Defeated Murphy in Exciting Bout

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Packer McFarland of Chicago, fighting a polished battle, was awarded the verdict over Tommy Murphy of New York at the end of 20 rounds of desperate mugging yesterday.

McFarland enjoyed a big lead when the contest had been under way for 12 rounds, but thereafter he seemed to slow up, while Murphy showed improvement with each round.

McFarland's victory over the New Yorker, who 90 per cent of those present expected him to knock out, was clean and left little room for argument. But the rank and file of experts and fight followers were unanimous that as an opponent of champion Al Volcast the Chicagoan was an impossibility.

McFarland and his handlers said he broke his right hand in the 12th round. A cursory examination at the conclusion of the fight showed the hand to be much swollen, but of this the public was not aware until after it had left the arena.

McFarland, if he really broke his hand, fought a wonderful battle. Murphy, on the other hand, gave an exhibition of gameness and ability to come back rarely seen in a prize ring. During the early rounds McFarland fairly smothered the little Horton fighter with a dazzling variety of punches from which there was no escape. Once he sent Murphy flat on his back, but Tommy was up in a trice apparently none the worse for wear.

Time and again Murphy was all but fought out of the ring into the laps of the newspaper reporters, and appeared to be in great distress, but the well-defined punch was not forthcoming to give him his quarters.

Both were well under weight and in good condition. With the elimination of the Volcast-Welsh bout, owing to the champion's illness, the McFarland-Murphy contest forced itself into unexpected prominence. McFarland ruled a 10 to 1 favorite.

BISHOP TUTTLE

DECLARED HE IS OPPOSED TO WOMAN SUFFRAGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of St. Louis, presiding bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in the United States, declared himself against woman suffrage in his Thanksgiving sermon in Christ church cathedral. Telling why he thought it would not be fair to give suffrage to women, he said:

"There are seven lines along which human activities in the main project themselves. These are the home, the school, society, the church, business, government and war. Now look at these seven and in how many of them women is predominant."

DETECTIVE HELD

Pending an Inquiry Into Wife's Death

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 1.—After Mrs. Sidney Hopwood, wife of a private detective, had died of a bullet wound early today the police detained Hopwood, pending an investigation. Hopwood said his wife had risen from bed, taken a revolver from a dresser and shot herself through the heart. They had been reconciled last night, he said, after a period of separation. The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Hopwood's son, Dr. Burch, and he told the police that his mother had threatened suicide. Hopwood some time ago wounded a man who was seeking to enter the house of a woman who had employed the detective to protect her against the intruder.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

DEDHAM, Dec. 1.—A plea of not guilty was entered by Samuel McKnight, a blacksmith of Norwood, when brought into the district court today to answer a charge of manslaughter, growing out of the recent suspicious death of Jeremiah Lynch at Norwood. McKnight was held in $5000 bail for a continued hearing.

PUGILIST BILL LANG OF AUSTRALIA BELIEVES IN WALKING

MELBOURNE, Aus., Dec. 1.—Bill Lang, the Australian heavyweight champion, who has had poor success in the ring of late, says he has discovered the cause. Bill claims that long distance walking affected his wind instead of improving it. In the second round of the recent bout with McVey here Lang began pulling like a broken winded horse and was knocked out shortly afterward. For the past couple of weeks Bill had out the running part of his preparations, taking long distance walks instead. He claims it was worked wonders with him and he is now 50 per cent. better than ever. Lang will probably be matched to meet Sam Langford, who is now here. Picture shows Lang (in center) ready for one of his walks.

BEGINS NEW DUTIES

Dr. E. J. Clark Starts at Lowell Hospital

Dr. Edward J. Clark, the new superintendent of the Lowell hospital and his estimable wife, have taken up their new quarters at the hospital and began their new duties this morning.

Dr. Edward J. Clark, the new superintendent of the Lowell hospital, was born in Lowell. He graduated from the Moody grammar school, the Lowell High school and from Dartmouth Medical College. He served a year in the Boston City hospital and opened an office in the Fiske block on Central street in 1901, where he has remained until his present removal to the hospital on Pawtucket street.

Since leaving college, Dr. Clark has done considerable post-graduate work and is now engaged upon a course of that kind in Harvard Medical College. His first public work was done in the capacity of agent of the board of health in Pawtucket, during which time he had charge of the work of clearing up the grounds after the powder house explosion at South Lowell. He has been one of Lowell's school physicians ever since that branch of public service has been established by our city, he having had charge of six schools in Belvidere.

Dr. Clark received an appointment to the medical out-patient department of St. John's hospital during his first year of practice, afterward being changed to the surgical staff. He was appointed upon the out-patient staff of the Lowell hospital in 1906.

Dr. Clark is thirty-two years old and is the son of the deputy sheriff, Edward W. Clark.

Mrs. Clark, who is elected as matron of the hospital is a woman of rare executive ability and of great personal charm. She is certain to be of great assistance to the doctor in making his work as superintendent a success.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

SO IT WOULD SEEM

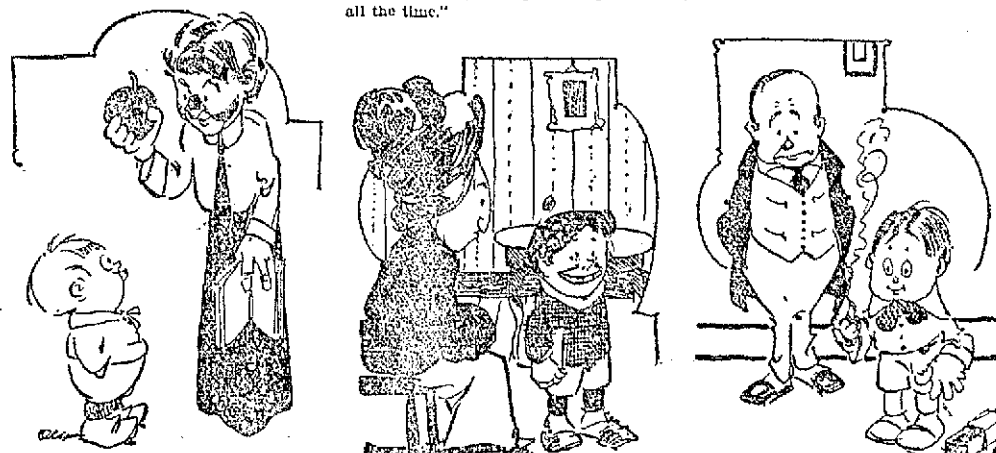

"What is a 'figure of speech,' pa?"
"Well, it talk is cheap, it must be a pretty small figure."

HIS PA'S IN CONGRESS

"That is an odd name your brother has."
"Yes, pa calls him 'Appropriation Bill' because he's stealin' pie and preserves all the time."

EMBARRASSING

"Well, my little man, do you know what an oath is?"
"Yes, sir, I was your golf caddy for a whole week last summer."

AT SCHOOL

"Is there any reason, Willis, why you cannot pronounce 'apple' properly? Suppose I divide this apple among you. If you had the part that holds the seeds what would you call it?"
"Aw! I'd call it a shame."

EXCELLENT!

"Are you first in anything at school, Ennie?"
"First out of the building when the bell rings."

PARADOXICAL

"I've made a great discovery, papa."
"Well, what is it?"
"I've found out that the heavy end of a match is the light end."

A DANGEROUS FIRE

Broke Out in House in Middlesex Street

What threatened to be a dangerous fire broke out in the two apartment house belonging to Burton H. Wiggin at 896-898 Middlesex street, shortly before two o'clock yesterday afternoon and before the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze considerable damage was done by fire, smoke and water.

The downstairs tenement is occupied by Henry Folsom and family and Miss Charlotte and Blanche Cheney and mother reside in the upstairs tenement. The fire started from a defective fireplace in the sitting room of the tenement occupied by the Cheneys and before the department had arrived the flames had worked their way between the flooring of the second floor and ceiling of the first floor.

Considerable water and chemical were used and it was necessary to rip up much of the flooring of the sitting room and hallway before the fire was extinguished.

The blaze also made its way into the Folsom tenement below, but the greater portion of the loss was suffered by the upstairs tenants.

The Folsom family were away when the fire broke out.

A telephone alarm at 8:11 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a grass and brush fire in Payson street in the rear of the Harvard brewery. The blaze was extinguished before any damage was done.

DEATHS

MCCARTHY—Miss Hannah F. McCarthy, a popular and well known young lady of this city, died yesterday at her home, 45 Wamsutt street, aged 38 years. She leaves four sisters, Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Mrs. John Rogan, Mrs. George Ferrin of this city, Mrs. Joseph Gardner of Providence, R. I.; also two brothers, Jeremiah McCarthy of Providence and William McCarthy of Lowell.

PITTA—Joseph Pitta, aged 8 months, died this morning at the home of his parents, John and Dolinda Pitta, 15 Bent court. Owing to the cause of death, (concurrent fever), the funeral took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock and was private. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons in charge.

HARDING—Mrs. Mary Harding, nee Rogers, a well known young woman of Lowell, died yesterday at her home, No. 123 West Sixth street, after a long illness, aged 33. She leaves her husband, Martin F. Harding, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rogers; four sisters, Mrs.

Winnifred Crowley, Mrs. Catherine Morris, and Miss Jessie Rogers, of this city; and Mrs. Josephine Stanley of Lynn; also three brothers, James H. of Lowell, John T. of Holliston, and Charles P. of Cambridge.

FLETCHER—The death of Josiah Richardson Fletcher, a native and resident of Chelmsford for the greater part of his life, and one of the oldest Grand Army men in New England, occurred at the Battles home in this city, Wednesday morning, as the result of a shock with which he was stricken several weeks ago. He was in his 90th year, being born in Chelmsford in 1822.

At the time of his death he was chaplain of Post 185, G. A. R., and its oldest member. Before the Civil war he was graduated from the Normal school at Bridgewater and for a short time taught school. Finding that it did not agree with his health, he returned to his father's farm, where he was employed at the opening of the war. On September 3, 1862, he enlisted in Co. K, Sixth regiment—nine months' volunteers. He was at that time chairman of selectmen and overseers of the town of Chelmsford.

After the war he served his term of service and after the war was employed for six years as a clerk in the treasury department at Washington. His grandfather, Josiah Fletcher, served as a soldier in the Revolution, and died in Chelmsford, aged 91. His granduncle, William Fletcher, was a soldier at Bunker Hill, and was 90 years old when he died. Another granduncle, Benjamin Fletcher, was a captain in the Revolution.

THANKSGIVING DAY

RUSSIAN DEMANDS

BEATTIE'S CONFESSION

Observed in Divers Ways by Lowell People

Were Turned Down by the National Council of Persia

Detective Gives an Outline of the Prisoner's Story of the Crime

Thanksgiving day was quietly but generally observed in Lowell in the usual manner. The churches held services, there was one football game, between Lowell High and Tufts; there was a Marathon run for additional out-door sport, there were family reunions and home-comings galore and every theatre in Lowell was crowded afternoon and evening.

While Thanksgiving Day in New England in accordance with a time-honored custom is a day when the wandering sheep return to the family fold, in Lowell it was a day of opposite spirit. It was a day when people were going away for the holiday. For some years past some of the big Boston hotels have made a specialty of holiday dinners, particularly at Thanksgiving and Christmas and have advertised them far and wide. Those who have tried them have returned home with glowing accounts of the feast and the comparatively reasonable price thereof, with the result that the morning trains took many Lowell people to Boston to partake of these great repasts and it is stated that at one Boston hotel, which is particularly well known for its Thanksgiving dinners, it was necessary to reserve seats in the dining room.

The different institutions of the city as will be seen below observed the day in good old fashioned manner.

Ayer Home

The 100 children at the Ayer Home declared last night that Thanksgiving Day was one great and glorious occasion. In the morning after a good breakfast the little ones all took to the yard for out-door sport which they enjoyed continuously until 1:30 o'clock. Then with appetites finely whetted for the occasion they repaired to the dining-room where a sumptuous dinner of turkey and its innumerable fixings was served, not to speak of mince pie served piping-hot.

After dinner the children went back to the yard and played until sunset when they went to the playground and passed another hour or more in songs and indoor games. At 6:30 they were served with all kinds of fruit in season and then came the crowning event of the day the grand vaudeville entertainment in honor of "Mama" Tarr, the well beloved matron of the institution. Mrs. Tarr occupied a seat of honor and about every child in the home had a place on the program. There was singing and dancing and recitations and the singing of some of Mrs. Tarr's favorite songs, until 8:45 when the familiar strains of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" came forth from 100 little voices and then, but supremely happy 100 pairs of blushing eyes were closed upon the threshold of a merry dreamland.

St. Peter's Orphanage

As usual at St. Peter's Orphanage the children were well remembered on the holiday. After enjoying games in the morning they sat down at noon to a dinner of turkey and its wealth of delectable accompaniments and there was no end of good things for the little ones. In the afternoon a delightful entertainment was given by the children themselves and they took great pride in the little event.

Children's Home

"I'm just cutting up a turkey for today, for we're having another feast," said Miss O'Leary to the writer. "Tolks were so good to us that while we entertained our own 40 children and over 10 children from outside we still had enough left over for today. We are having five large turkeys and two chickens. Two of the turkeys came all cooked from Mr. Smith's pork store, in Gorham street, while the D. L. Page company also remembered us kindly. In addition to the turkeys we had every kind of vegetables and fruit, and ice cream. After dinner the children gave a fine entertainment and the day went off most pleasantly. We are indebted to some unknown person for a most generous offering. We have a little box fastened on our fence in which people put pennies and small contributions when passing. On Thursday morning upon looking in the box I found an envelope containing two crisp $5 bills with the name of the donor omitted."

French American Orphanage

At the French American orphanage in Pawtucket street, the children were treated with a delicious turkey dinner including all the fixings. The meal was served at 11 o'clock by the

Catarrh

TEHRAN, Persia, Dec. 1.—The National council has rejected the Russian ultimatum by a big majority. The foreign minister has resigned. The Russian ultimatum called in the first place, for the instant dismissal of W. Morgan Shuster, the American who has for several months occupied the post of Persian treasurer-general. A further demand was for a cash indemnity from Persia to cover the cost of the despatch of Russian troops to that country.

The vote of the national council, which rejected the Russian ultimatum, was cast in open session. A subsequent secret sitting of the members was practically unanimous against compliance.

A cablegram from British Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey was presented during the assembly at its sitting. The despatch urgently advised compliance with the Russian demands, but some of the members pointed out that Sir Edward Grey had been misinformed and asserted that Russian injustice had become intolerable. They thought that resistance on the part of the Persian government to Russian demands would awaken foreign attention and lead to an impartial inquiry.

Speaker after speaker declared it was impossible for Persia ever to sign away her own independence. If Russia should wrest from her that, it would be God's will. A deputation of members of the national council waited on W. Morgan Shuster before the vote was taken in the parliamentary session. The American treasurer-general begged them to consult only the interests of their country and not to consider him.

The national council registered its refusal to comply with the terms of the Russian ultimatum at 10:45, just a quarter of an hour before the time limit of the expiry of the ultimatum.

Meanwhile, large, silent crowds thronged around the precincts of the parliament house waiting for the verdict of the deputies.

THE BOARD OF TRADE

About to Start on Important Civic Matters

Now that the charter matter is out of the way as far as the board of trade is concerned that body has settled down for an active business season and on next Monday the educational and executive committees of the board will meet to discuss the proposition of awarding medals to the children of the higher grammar grades for the best compositions on the city of Lowell, the idea being to develop civic interest.

Another proposition to be considered is that of establishing scholarships in the Lowell Textile school for Lowell boys.

In connection with this development of civic interest the board of trade has secured the co-operation of the Merrimack Square theatre and next week as one of the numbers on the program of the theatre will be given 70 colored views of Lowell from colonial times until today each with a short history.

TO INSTRUCT FOREIGNERS

The special committee appointed to instruct foreign residents in the advantages of citizenship, consisting of William N. Osgood, chairman, Rev. George P. Kenngott, Rev. Dr. Kelsner, J. H. Guillet and Supt. of Schools A. K. Whitcomb, will meet on Monday evening to discuss the matter of holding a series of meetings for the purpose of instructing them in citizenship and the use of the post office and the library.

THE McNAMARA CASE

Alleged Attempt to Bribe Prospective Juror Probed

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 1.—Further activity by District Attorney John D. Fredericks and his staff was looked for today in probing the alleged attempt of Bert H. Franklin, a detective employed by the McNamara defense, to bribe a prospective juror. More arrests persistently have been hinted at ever since Franklin was apprehended and released on $10,000 bail on Tuesday. His hearing is scheduled for next Monday.

The resumption of proceedings in the trial of James P. McNamara before Judge Walter B. Woodworth, where eight sworn jurors and two talesmen passed for cause occupy the jurybox with 128 veniremen on hand, fell behind the Franklin incident in interest early today. One reason why arrests are expected is because of the silence maintained by the state as to the origin of the $4000 gathered in by the detectives when Franklin was arrested. The allegation was freely made by the prosecution that the money was being used to bribe George Lockwood, a ventriloquist, but as its theory about the source of the fund not the slightest inkling had been given today. Franklin claims he was the victim of a political frameup and has declared openly that the district attorney's office acted properly in accordance with information that came to it. He is convinced that further investigation by the state will show him to be innocent of the charges.

The version that counsel for Franklin has been inclined to take is that he was ensnared in a political plot.

"The arrest is one part of a big fight," declared Henry Gage, counsel for Franklin. "Franklin will be arraigned for preliminary examination on Monday, the day before the local municipal election. He has been chief detective for the McNamara defense, among whose counsel is Job Harriman, one of the recent candidates for mayor.

THE CITY SOLICITOR

To Decide Whether the Saloons Must Close

The question of the right of the saloon keepers of this city to keep open on the occasion of the city primaries was under discussion before the board of police at a special meeting of that body held this afternoon.

It has been suggested that the saloons should be closed on the day of the primary election as well as on election day and although the board has never caused the enforcement of such a law the members were willing to listen to any person who had occasion to raise an objection.

At the meeting of the board held this afternoon the city solicitor was present and he was asked to give an opinion as to the legality of closing saloons. He informed the board that he would give a decision tomorrow.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 1.—The News Leader here today prints the outline of what is said to have been a detailed and private confession left by Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., for the perusal of his family alone. It is stated that one of the detectives who worked on the case was permitted to see the correspondence, which is more circumstantial than that made public the day Beattie was executed.

According to this alleged confession Beattie decided two weeks before the crime was committed to kill his wife. The details of the murder coincide almost exactly with the theory of the case set forth by the state at the trial.

Henry induced his cousin to buy the gun and hide it behind a stump on the Middleman turnpike. He is said to have stated that he shot his wife full in the face as she was stepping from his automobile and that she fell backward into the road. Beattie denied that he first knocked his wife down, a story which gave him "much annoyance, implying cowardice." Beattie is also said to have denied that he sat upon his wife's body during the wild drive into Richmond. He is said to have asserted that his marriage was comparatively happy and was forced upon him by his father's earnest wishes.

BROTHER OF MINISTER SHOT

BERLIN, Dec. 1.—A telegram to the German Cable Co., from Teheran says that a revolver shot was fired this morning at Alah-Eddowleh, brother of the former Persian minister at Berlin in front of his residence. He is reported to be dead. Alah-Eddowleh has lately been promoting an accord with the government and the ex-shah, which is reported to be desired by Russia. His brother was involved in the controversy concerning William Morgan Shuster, the treasurer-general of Persia whose dismissal has been demanded by Russia. The present crime is the sign of the growing bitterness among the people.

TROOPS TO ADVANCE

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 1.—In consequence of the rejection by the Persian national council of the Russian demands Russia has ordered the Russian troops now concentrated at Resht, capital of the Persia province of Gilan, 16 miles from Bessal on the Caspian sea to advance on Teheran.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE BENEFITS BY WILL OF ELIJAH TOPLIFF

NASHUA, N. H., Dec. 1.—Dartmouth college will eventually receive what is believed to be approximately $200,000 by the will of Elijah Topliff of Manchester, filed for probate here today, after making several private bequests, Mr. Topliff gave to his sister, Miss Ellen Topliff of Manchester, $10,000 and the interest on the remainder of the estate. Upon her death the entire residue of his estate goes to Dartmouth college. Mr. Topliff was a prominent lawyer.

THREE DROWNED

Steamer is Wrecked Off Canadian Shore

BUFFALO, Dec. 1.—At dawn this morning the prow of the steamer Raleigh was seen among the breakers a quarter of a mile off the Canadian shore but there was no sign of life on the wreck to indicate that Engineers Prichard was still alive. The bodies of the other victims of the wreck, Fred Wise, a sailor, and his wife, the steamer's cook, were washed ashore last night and it was reported this morning that a third body had been tossed up on the beach two miles below the scene of the wreck. Members of the crew have started down the beach to ascertain if the third body is that of Engineer Prichard. The storm is still raging and it seems likely that the Raleigh may break up at any time.

CHARLES S. FRANCIS

A Former Ambassador, Died This Morning

TROY, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Charles S. Francis, proprietor of the Troy Times and late ambassador to Austria-Hungary, died this morning.

Charles Spencer Francis was equally well known as a diplomat, a newspaperman and an athlete. His diplomatic experience began with three years' residence at Athens, where he was secretary to his father, then American minister to Greece. From 1890 to 1902 Mr. Francis was envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Greece, Roumania and Serbia. From 1906 to 1910 he was ambassador to Austria-Hungary. Both of these posts were previously held by his father.

Mr. Francis was born in Troy, June 17, 1853, the son of John Morgan and Harriet P. Francis. He was graduated from Cornell university in 1877. At college he repeatedly won the single scull and long distance running championships. After leaving college he entered the office of the Troy Times, which his father founded in 1851, and worked up through the various grades as compositor, reporter, city editor and manager. He became equal partner with his father in 1887 and upon his father's death in 1907 succeeded to the editorial direction and sole ownership.

LOWELL MILITIAMEN

Carried Off Prizes at Rockingham

Park Field Day

SALEM, N. H., Dec. 1.—The Gymkhana athletic meet and military field day by the New England Aviation Co. at Rockingham park, embracing the most extensive and varied program of sports ever attempted in New England in a single day, was carried out completely yesterday afternoon.

The events began at 11:30 o'clock and were finished just as the sun went down at 4:30. All the events had a full field and were keenly contested with out exception. The weather was good and most of the conditions favorable from the spectators' viewpoint at least.

Six Militia Companies
At 11 o'clock the troops, six full companies of Massachusetts and New Hampshire militia, arrived, and a military band came down the track playing popular airs. They were the 1st Infantry, M. V. M., 5th Infantry, M. V. of Lowell, Co. G, W. Peterson of Lowell, Co. F, 9th Infantry, M. V. M., Capt. L. Donovan of Lawrence; Co. B, 1st Infantry, N. H., Capt. Charles R. Blake of Nashua; Co. 1, 1st Infantry, N. H., Capt. William L. Elliott of Nashua; Battery C, M. V. M., Capt. L. S. Cox of Lawrence; Capt. F. L. Donovan had general command of the battalion.

The first event on the program was a wall-scaling contest. Teams of eight men from the several companies charged a wall 10 feet high at 25 yards distance. The man who first mounted the wall from the shoulders of those on the ground pulled the latter up.

When all were on the wall they leaped down and returned to the starting line. The judges of this event were Capt. Stuart W. Wier, Capt. L. S. Cox, and Capt. W. L. Elliott. The prize was a silver cup. The time was 1 hour, 27 minutes and 17 seconds. Armand Desmarais, Harry Exley and John J. Crowe also finished.

Three Long-Distance Races

At a little past noon the men in a 16-mile road run from Lowell began to arrive. This event was open to amateurs living in Lowell and surrounding towns. The prizes were silver cups for the first, second and third. Edwin Strick won, with Louis Barry second, and Clarence B. Hayes third. The time was 1 hour, 27 minutes and 17 seconds. Armand Desmarais, Harry Exley and John J. Crowe also finished.

Soon after the men in a similar race from Lawrence arrived, more closely bunched and in greater numbers on account of the shorter distance, eight miles. The prizes were silver cups. Louis Ticeoli won the race. Arnold Halstead was second, Walter O'Brien third. Time, 41 minutes and 15 seconds. John Barry, Francis Barnaby, Walter G. Hall, Clarence A. Kimball, Walter Miller and John F. Tilley also finished.

A 10-mile run around the track was an interesting event. It was open to any amateur in New England. The prizes were a silver cup, over heavy turf, which gave the contestants poor footing. There were three silver cups for prizes. The winner was the same man who won the 16-mile track run at Nashua, Lahor Day. William Brown of Worcester won, Albert L. Upham of Dorchester was second, Patrick Devine of Manchester, N. H., third. Time 1 hour, 5 minutes and 15 seconds.

Lacrosse and Football Matches
A lacrosse match between the Montreal A. A. team and the Montreal Nationals was won by the Nationals, 4 points to 1. The game was a novelty to most of the spectators; the ground had thawed a trifle, making it too soggy for fast play. Passing under the conditions was difficult and the checking light.

The event which caused the greatest enthusiasm was a football game for the championship of the United States Navy between teams from the U. S. S. Rhode Island and the U. S. S. Tennessee. Both teams showed fitness and did good team work, but the Rhode Island team outclassed their opponents, 20 to 0.

Capt. Blake's Perfect Score
Four teams contested in the military turkey shoot. The distance was 200 yards, lying down. The prize was a silver cup for the winning team and a

Kidney Trouble Is Very Deceptive
Few Realize They're Affected Till Danger Point is Reached—Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills Work Wonders—Sample Free!

Kidney disease is much more common than most people imagine. Many sufferers do not know what's ailing them—until the trouble becomes serious. Some telling affection may run into the dread diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease before one realizes there's anything wrong with his kidneys.

Usually the most noticeable symptoms which first appear are far from the seat of the trouble, and the sufferer mistakes the nature of his ailment. Dull headaches or nervousness, for instance, he never thinks of as signs of diseased kidneys.

Even the aching back and sides, rheumatism, pains or twitching in groins or limbs, sore, inflamed muscles, he may consider indications of some other trouble. Unusually colored or cloudy urine, too frequent or too scanty urination, burning sensation, are of course readily recognized as symptoms of such disorders.

Because of the deceptive and dangerous character of these ailments, if you suspect your kidneys are diseased, lose no time in beginning treatment. The best possible remedy for you is Dr. Derby's Kidney Pills. They are quite different from anything else in the market. They act in two ways—cleanse the clogged kidneys of their poisonous impurities, strengthen them so they perform their duties normally, naturally. There's no other way to really cure kidney derangements, resultant bladder troubles and rheumatism—and permanently banish those frightful aches and pains.

turkey for the best individual. Co. G of Lowell won, the score being:

Sergeant Linscott 23

Corporal Bennett 24

Private Bagley 20

Private Angus 20

Peterson 23

Total 112

Co. D of Nashua was second, with 107. Co. F of Lawrence third, score 95; and Co. G of Lowell fourth, score 86. Meanwhile on the turf track in front of the grandstand the Gymkhana events were carried out. These were open to residents of Massachusetts and New Hampshire. The first was a mounted potato race, horses 13 hands or more. The prizes were a traveling bag to first and silver flask to second. The potatoes were at 40-yard intervals and the contestants rode to the post, dismounted, picked out a potato, mounted, rode back and started again. J. A. Toomey of Boston won, Charles H. Fullock of Natick, Mass., second.

Parade at Sundown
A mounted umbrella race had several contestants. The conditions were that the horses stand at the barrier, the rider mount, ride down the track, turn, open umbrella, light cigar, turn, ride back, shut umbrella and uncork and drink a bottle of tonic. In no case were all of the conditions completed, mostly owing to the unfit conditions of the umbrellas at the finish. J. A. Toomey won, Charles R. Fullock was second and Joseph R. Maroney of Lawrence third.

A balloon ascension and parachute jump scheduled for noon was delayed because a high wind got the better of the hot air bag and capsized it. It was refilled, however, and about 4 o'clock Prof. Bennett rose and dropped successfully.

The events of the day closed just before dusk with a military parade and review of the troops on the field.

TWO BOYS KILLED

They Were Run Down by Auto Truck

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Harry and John R. Roub, 13 and 9 years of age, were run down and instantly killed before their father's eyes on the Charles river esplanade, Cambridge, at 5:20 Wednesday afternoon by a small auto truck.

The driver of the car, George Chabot, 21, residing at 106 Moreland street, Somerville, was arrested at the Cambridge relief hospital, where he had taken the children, charged with manslaughter.

The boys, with their father, John Q. Roub, 21 Kenwood street, Cambridge who is employed at the Page & Shaw factory, were on their way home. They were on the roadway dragging a small two-wheeled cart loaded with wood that they had collected, while their father walked on the sidewalk, talking with John A. Clark.

As the men reached Clafin street and the esplanade the auto truck suddenly shot out of the darkness and before either man could jump for the children, had struck them, hurling both some distance.

The father, stretched for a minute, ran into the roadway, while Chabot brought his car to a stop, and with the aid of the father and Clark, picked up the bleeding forms of the boys, placed them in the truck and rushed to the relief hospital, where it was announced that both were dead.

Inspectors Nelson and Brennan hurried to the hospital and placed Chabot under arrest. At the station house he said that as he turned from Massachusetts avenue into the esplanade he was driving at moderate speed and did not see anyone in the roadway.

He said he had no front lights on the machine, but that his side lamps were lighted. The first indication he had of anyone on the roadway was when he was a few feet away from Clafin street when he saw the two boys.

YOUTH GAVE LIFE

To Save Little Girl From Death

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Though he came to Chicago from his Nebraska farm home only a few days ago hoping to win fame and fortune, Ernest Weekly, 24, unhesitatingly sacrificed his life Wednesday night to save that of a little girl in danger of being run down by a speeding express train.

Weekly got a place with an insurance company almost immediately after coming here from Valley, Neb., and he was returning to his boarding place after a day's work when he lost his life. He had just stepped from a suburban train at Fifty-ninth street when he heard a yell and women screaming, and looking about he saw a little girl standing directly in the path of the onrushing locomotive.

He bounded across three tracks, crying "Look out, girls, you'll be hurt!" But the child was too frightened to move. The train was less than a dozen yards away when Weekly reached the girl and, stopping, grasped her with his arms and hurried her to one side of the track.

Just as he started to leap after safety Weekly stumbled on a spike projecting from a tie and fell across the track as the engine struck him.

CHILDREN SAVED

THREE WERE TAKEN FROM BURNING BUILDING

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Dec. 1.—A double alarm fire did $2500 damage to the three-story house on the Thomas Dinklin estate, corner of Sherman and Whitman streets, yesterday morning and the three tenants lost most of their household effects.

The firemen rescued three children, one receiving slight burns about the head.

FISKE GRATEFUL

Thanks Voters Who Favored His Candidacy

"Will you take a statement from me?" asked Josiah Fiske as he passed the insurance palm to the reporters at the city hall this forenoon. "It's a sad, sad story," continued Josiah, "but far be it from me to deal with the sad stuff. I had had hope on the primaries, yet I am a philosopher. I do not mean that I am a philosophical philosopher, but I'm philosopher enough to know that there is no sense in crying over spilled milk and that's the point I want to make."

"I want to state right here that I am abundantly grateful to the 69 voters who voted for me. By so doing they displayed exceptional intelligence and while I was a few paltry thousands short on votes I am glad to know that sixty-nine of the several thousand voters cast their ballot for the best equipped candidate in the bunch."

"Perhaps I'm joking, and perhaps not, but I'm not going to take my defeat to heart. The sun seems just as bright and the air just as crisp and invigorating today as it did when I thought I was going to poll over 4,000 votes."

"I am willing to admit that I was kidding myself and some people don't believe in that. They will tell you that it is bad enough to kid others, but unforgivable for one to kid one's self. I confess that I am guilty, but I'm not wearing sackcloth and ashes just the same."

"Are you going to petition for a recount?" asked one of the reporters. "Not on your life. I have 69 votes to my credit and I don't want to lose them," said Josiah, and he laughed right heartily.

"I was seated with you newspaper fellows when the returns were coming in on Wednesday morning," he continued, "and I suffered considerable mental anguish, especially when a ward that was going to give me 800 would give me but 7 votes."

"Finally precinct two of ward one was announced. That's my own precinct and the announcer when he got down to where I belonged on the list said: 'Fiske one.' I didn't have to send a detective out to discover who had voted for me in that precinct. At that very table there was a fellow sitting and touching elbows with me who had promised to vote for me. He looked pretty sheepish when the announcer gave out that I had received but one vote in that precinct. Of course he knew I knew that I had voted for myself. I pitied the poor fellow and I guess he pitied me."

"There is one thing that does touch my heart and I am willing to confess it. It has been generally conceded that I am the Columbus of Centralville. I have furnished the natives there with band concerts, bon fires and displays of all kinds and now I realize how hard it is for a man to be a prophet in his own country. I have done my best to serve my city. The voters have given my ambitions the marble heart and from now on Josiah Fiske will attend strictly to business, and if one or more of the many thousand voters who didn't vote for me want to get insured against the things that should befall them they can find my telephone number in the directory."

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE

In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair, in which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring gray hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years and in less than two months after he began to see his hair was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich, glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.

For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula in the following: One ounce of Lavone de Composee, one-half ounce of Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Lavone and then add the Lavone to the Menthol, shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores gray hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you desire it perfumed, add one teaspoonful of Toiletine Perfume, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing scent.

Before publication we presented this prescription to Fiske-Jones Drug Co., this city, and they state that they have filled it many times for their patients who report most astonishing results from its use.

two family house. The estimated cost of the change is $300. The Lowell Institution for Savings is making general improvements, including the addition of a ladies' parlor, toilets, etc.

GRAND CEREMONY

New Cardinals Were Presented Their Red Hats and Their Rings

ROME, Dec. 1.—Yesterday the chief event of this important week in Rome took place, when Pope Pius X. in public consistory conferred upon the recently proclaimed Cardinals their red hats, the chief insignia of the office. It was a wonderful scene that 10,000 people flocked to witness and if there had been room enough the number would have been doubled or trebled. But from the bronze gates leading to the Vatican palace to the papal throne in the Hall of Beatification every inch of space was taken up. It was a wonderful display, the like of which the Americans and many others from foreign shores had never hoped to witness. In America from time to time great ecclesiastical processions are to be seen, but none is to be compared in any sense with the procession yesterday. Its duplicate is said not to have been witnessed here before in many years. The blaze of color in the costumes of the ecclesiastics and the soldiery made a magnificent spectacle. The Consistory was by far the most important event of the week and from every civilized country of the earth were representatives here to observe it. It was easily the crowning event of the reign of Pope Pius X.

Impressive Procession

First in the impressive column came the Noble Guard, brilliantly uniformed and with service accoutrements. They were followed by the purple cassocked monsignori, then the bishops and archbishops, the College of Cardinals in their beautiful robes being the last group in the procession. Last of all came the holy father, seated upon the Sedia Gestatoria, borne by his Swiss guardsmen, and accompanied by the papal chamberlains in their purple robes, the gentlemen in waiting and others of the immediate suite of the Sovereign Pontiff.

As he was carried along between the lines of Swiss guards, the pope was repeatedly raising his right hand and imparting the papal blessing to the assembled hundreds who reverently knelt and bowed their heads as he passed.

Prelates From Boston

In the procession with the monsignori were Rt. Rev. Mgr. Edward J. Moriarty of St. Peter's church, Cambridge, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Jeremiah E. Millican of St. Joseph's church, Boston, and Rt. Rev. Mgr. M. J. Spline, rector of the Cathedral, Boston.

A feature that attracted especial attention was the magnificent ermine robes of the Armenian bishops, which was by all odds the striking note in the mass of varied colors. For this consistory, the Roman nobility occupied boxes installed for them and the ambassadors to the papal and Italian courts who attended, had places reserved for them immediately behind the cardinal's bench.

The seats for the Boston party had been carefully arranged for and were right near the choir. All from the Hub had an excellent opportunity from this vantage point to see all that took place and were especially favored so far as the music was concerned, for the grand Gregorian chant was issuing from within a few feet of them. The boy sopranos were superb.

O'Connell a Gracious Cardinal

Throughout the ceremony of the conferring the red hats there was a feeling of awe from all sections of the great and beautiful hall, every one anxious to drink in every iota of detail. It was the belief of each one that they would never again be so favored as they were yesterday in Rome.

Cardinal O'Connell went through the ceremony with that same characteristic grace and dignity that are inherent in him, which Bostonians know so well. As he advanced to the holy father to receive the red hat there was at that instant a burst of music from the choir, and the venerable pontiff was seen to greet the eminent Boston churchman with the warmest affection.

In his cardinalate robes, Cardinal O'Connell was a striking figure, even in such a distinguished group as his fellow members of the sacred college. He was greeted enthusiastically by Cardinals Rampolla, the Vanutelli, Gaspari and Martelli and many others near him.

Before the new cardinals had the red hats conferred upon them they took the oath of their office, the text of which is almost a summary of the church's history, nearly every clause being a record of some former controversy often leading back to the ancient days of the Catholic church.

Some Notable Figures

Especially noticeable among the cardinals was the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, with his piercing black eyes; Cardinal Rampolla and Cardinal Vincenzo Vanutelli, who last year was in Boston and readily recognized many of those here yesterday who had met him in the Hub.

The trainbearer for Cardinal O'Connell was again Rev. Dennis O'Brien, the Lowell boy who is now finishing his third year as a student in the American college.

When the ceremonies were over the holy father was carried from the Hall of Beatification in another chair from the one in which he had entered. The impressive procession again reformed to escort the holy father to his apartments.

Escort of Swiss Guards

The leading figure in this, as was the case when the procession entered, was an ecclesiast in white and carrying a jeweled cross. Behind him came the world-famous Swiss Guards, bringing one's memory back to the earlier ages with their uniforms of red, black and yellow, said to have been designed by Michael Angelo. The guards carried halberds.

That choir of which the world hears so much, and whose fame has gone broadest, more especially since its director became so marked as the master mind of the Gregorian school in this age, Abbe Perosi, was next in the procession, and as they advanced they chanted out sweet hymns and songs of praise.

The purple robed dignitaries were behind a long column of priests, the black robed Jesuits, the brown robed Franciscan monks, the white cassocked monks of the old Dominican order, and these were in turn followed by the heads of religious congregations and members of the holy father's immediate court in Elizabethan costumes.

Next came the bishops and the archbishops and, in short a replica of the previous procession.

Received Cardinal Rings
After the Pope had been escorted to his apartments the cardinals went to the Sixtine chapel, held a short reception and received the congratulations of friends. This lasted only a short time, when they again went to the Hall of Consistory.

When they had assembled the pope was again escorted by a detachment of the guards to the hall and he then bestowed upon each the cardinal ring, a very simple appearing ring. It has a single sapphire jewel set solidly in gold. It is in such a manner as to allow the papal coat of arms to be engraved upon the back. They are provided by the Congregation of the Propaganda.

It was after the consistory yesterday that the titular churches were assigned, that of Cardinal O'Connell being the church where the Irish Dominican monks reside, the Church of San Clemente, one of the early Christian basilicas and a most beautiful and impressive church.

Presented With the Red Hat

Yesterday afternoon the red hat conferred upon Cardinal O'Connell at the morning consistory was brought to the American college by the papal master of the robes, Mgr. Casella, and was formally presented to him.

At the close of the ceremony, Cardinal Falconio made an address, in which he said that America is the home of religious liberty. "Today," he said, "the president and the people give thanks to God for all the gifts they have received."

Later on the three American cardinals, who were very happy, chatted with their friends and guests and with the students of the college.

Last night Cardinal O'Connell gave a Thanksgiving dinner to his fellow members of the sacred college. The decorations of the dinner hall were beautiful. It brought to a close a most brilliant day that will be recorded in the annals of the Roman history as the equal of anything that has happened in centuries.

FUNERALS

PERKINS.—The funeral of Dr. Harry P. Perkins, of Newton, Mass., took place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Lowell cemetery. The committal services were conducted by Rev. John Matteson, rector of the Church of the Messiah, of West Newton and Auburndale, Mass. The arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

CONWAY.—The funeral of William H. Conway took place from his home, 9 Richmond street, yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock and a funeral mass was sung at 9 o'clock at St. Peter's church by Rev. John T. O'Brien. The choir sang the Gregorian mass and at the offertory "The Jesus" was sung by Miss Mary E. Whitely, and after the elevation Mr. James E. Donnelly sang "Jesus Salvator Mundi." At the conclusion of the mass the choir sang "De Profundis." The mass was the anniversary mass for the deceased members of the Mathew Temperance Institute of which society the deceased was a prominent member. The bearers were Messrs. Michael Maloney, Bernard Kane, James McKee, John H. McCaffrey, John J. Townsend and Thomas Corbett. Present at the funeral and mass was a delegation from the Mathew Temperance Institute, consisting of Alderman James J. Gallagher, George P. Briggs, Bernard Connor, Henry Welch and Peter F. Brady, also a delegation from the Knights of Equity, consisting of Thomas B. Delany, John P. Meenan, Frank Roche, and Frank Green. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. O'Brien read the burial service. There were many beautiful floral offerings, prominent among which was a magnificent cross of chrysanthemums and lilies with the letters "M. T. I." in blue immortelles from the Mathew Temperance Institute. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Supl. Martin Conley, and the burial was under the direction of Undertaker George E. McKenna. Friends were present from Keene, N. H., and Canton, Mass.

MOSHER.—The funeral services of Mrs. Hannah Mosher were held Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the residence of her brother, Mr. Paris Taylor, 154 Smith street, Rev. Benjamin H. Harris, of the Paige Street church, conducted the service and Mr. Harry Stokes sang. An appropriate poem was read by Rev. Mr. Harris.

Mrs. Mosher leaves a son and a daughter, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. There were present at the services relatives from Phillips, Me., Brockton and Haverhill. Among the beautiful flowers were sprays from Mr. and Mrs. George P. Ramsdell and family of Weld, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Strout, of Brockton; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ramsdell, Jr. and Mrs. Harry Stokes, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Oliver Stevens, Mrs. Richard and family, J. A. Weinbeck had charge of the arrangements. Burial will be in Phillips, Me.

DEPOCHER.—The funeral of Ora

John DePocher took place yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, from the home of his parents, 46 Otis street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. At 9 o'clock a funeral mass was celebrated at the Sacred Heart church, by Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I. The sanctuary choir, under the direction of Mr. John Kelly, sang the Gregorian chant. Mr. Kelly presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful and appropriate floral offerings, which showed the esteem in which the deceased was held by his many friends and acquaintances, and were as follows: Pillow inscribed "Husband and Papa," from wife of deceased; cross on base, inscribed "Good bye Ora," members of the Muskegonaid Canon club; spray of carnations and ferns, Mr. James Richardson and family; spray, Mary Reville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wogander; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gokoy and Raymond Gokoy of Nashua, N. H.; bouquet, Mrs. Henry Lappin. The bearers were Messrs. Albert Carney, James Richardson, Fred McGuire, Martin McHugh, John Shanley and Albert Fraser. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, in charge of Undertaker John J. O'Connell.

McGANN.—The funeral of the late Mary McGann took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from her late home, 64 Otis street the cortege going to the Sacred Heart church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul by Rev. P. X. McManis, O. M. I., of the novitiate at Tewksbury, Mass., the son of the deceased, assisted by Rev. James T. McDermott, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., as subdeacon. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., all schoolmates of Rev. Fr. McGann. The choir rendered the Gregorian mass. At the offertory "The Jesus" was sung by Mrs. Hugh Walker and after the elevation Miss Katherine Hickey rendered the solo. Mr. John J. Kelly presided at the organ. Seated inside the sanctuary rail were the following fathers: Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., of the Immaculate Conception church, Rev. D. J. McKenna, O. M. I., of the novitiate, Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I., Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church, Rev. P. J. Phelan, O. M. I., Rev. J. L. Lynam, O. M. I., N. D. De Lourdes, and Rev. Walter Plaisance, O. M. I. The schola brothers of the Tewksbury novitiate attended in a body and were seated inside the sanctuary rail.

There were several beautiful floral tributes and among them were the following: Large spray of chrysanthemums, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roach; large spray of white chrysanthemums from Greenwood Brothers.

There were several spiritual bouquets from friends.

The casket was borne from the church to the house by the following bearers: Messrs. Michael Brady, Thomas Lee, Frank Riley, Bernard Riley, Martin Heeron and William Burrows.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read at the grave by Very T. W. Smith, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Fathers Francis X. McManis, O. M. I., Tighe, Flynn, McDermott, Wood and Fox. The funeral was largely attended and under the direction of Undertakers Higgins Bros.

A memorial mass for the deceased members of Court Westford, 170, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters was celebrated yesterday at 7:30 o'clock in St. Catherine's church, Ganeyville, by Rev. Michael E. Doherty. The regular choir was in attendance and under the direction of Miss Mary F. Hanley.

Then begin taking regularly three grain hypo-nutrient tablets, which are made from a health-germ of ordinary yeast and combined with hypophosphites and an absorbent phosphorus.

Physicians and chemists assert that this tablet is very largely used for increasing the weight and improving the nervous system because of its aid to digestion, assimilation and absorption. The food elements which go to make blood and solid tissue is retained when this treatment is regularly used for several months. Most physicians and apothecary shops supply them in sealed packages.

Pain-Away-Pills relieve headache and periodical pains. All druggists sell them.

The most terrific Thanksgiving rush of my career leaves me engulfed in a sea of Overcoat and Suit orders all over my circuit, from Boston westward to Buffalo. Business has been of unprecedented volume--so much so that I had to stop taking orders last Saturday for Thanksgiving delivery.

CAN YOU GIVE ME A WEEK'S TIME?

If you can give me a week's time on your order, I beg of you to come into my store today or Saturday. I know you think a good suit can't be made for my prices. That's what the other fellow used to think till he saw the goods. The men who swamp me with business bought clothing before, as well as you; they are intelligent men, the same as you. They doubted, but they called to satisfy themselves. I sold them by the force of bargains--by the strength of comparisons.

Can you give me a week's time on your order? There is no question about your buying--you can't resist the goods at the price, but I want a WEEK'S TIME.

A WORD

To my customers in and around Lowell who await one of my forced market Buy Outs for the opportunity to purchase their custom clothing at REAL GENUINE, LOW PRICES. I am pleased today to announce that I have in stock about five hundred yards of goods left from my recent purchase of the stock and fixtures of the Scott Tailoring Co.

That I advertise the purchase of this stock is sufficient guarantee to all old customers that the sale is genuine. That I advertise the name and address of a reputable concern, proves to the skeptical that I have the goods, or I should be liable before the courts of the land. That the woollens really comprised SCOTT'S STOCK ought to be and will be accepted by everyone, everywhere, as point blank, positive proof, that during this sale at my prices a man has one of the rare chances of a lifetime to get a high grade suit or overcoat at a figure that does not admit of competition. I have placed these woollens outside my doorway where you can see them in the light of day, look them over, examine them or compare them with the woollens on your back.

al Exposition in Balboa park, the buildings and grounds committee of the exposition and the city park commission have decided upon the actual ground in the park where the exposition will be built, and Director of Works Frank P. Allen, Jr., has presented the complete plans for adoption. Construction on the Administration and California buildings will begin by Nov. 1.

The site finally selected for the exposition embraces approximately 400 acres of high and comparatively level ground in Balboa park and is so situated that it will permit of almost unlimited extension beyond its own confines should the growth of the exposition demand it.

The first intimation that more space than had at first been considered sufficient would be needed came when Director General D. C. Collier and other members of the legislative committee of the exposition wrote from Washington, after having been there several weeks, that indications for a much larger exposition than had previously been figured on were apparent. Then came a trip through the southern states by Director General Collier and G. Grosvenor, Dave of the Southern Commercial congress, who aroused the enthusiasm of the southerners in the exposition to a high pitch, and secured promises of participation that made it certain the original site would not contain the exposition.

Meanwhile a representative of the government of Brazil, who had met and talked with Director General Collier and other representatives of the exposition in New Orleans, came to San Diego. This representative was Eugenio Dahne, and he passed several days in the city, going over the exposition subject with Acting Director General Joseph W. Seaton, Jr., and members of the board of directors. At the end of his visit he announced authoritatively what Brazil would be willing to do at the Panama-California International Exposition. The announcement opened the eyes of the exposition directors and the original plans were abandoned.

RIBS BROKEN

BARRELL OF CIDER FELL ON WORCESTER MAN

WORCESTER, Dec. 1.—Charles F. Mongun, 60 years old, of 4 Howard street was dangerously injured yesterday when he fell down a bulkhead while trying to lower a barrel of cider, the heavy load falling on top of him.

He was passing Thanksgiving with his son, Frank Mongun, in West Boylston, and started to help in the farm work by lowering the big barrel of cider into the cellar. He lost his balance and rolled down stairs with the barrel on top of him a good part of the way. Not realizing that he was seriously hurt, he took a trolley to Worcester and walked into the police station. He arrived completely exhausted and could scarcely breathe when he finally took a seat. The police surgeon found every rib on the right side of his body broken and he was taken to City hospital in an ambulance. Because of his years his condition is considered serious, and it is feared internal injuries will develop.

SINGLE ADMISSION 50c

An announcement that will be received with pleasurable anticipation by both theatregoers and book-lovers is that "Cy Whitaker's Place" will be produced in dramatic form in this city tonight and Saturday at the Opera House.

No other American author has achieved the place attained by Joseph C. Lincoln, who has entertained the whole of his countrymen with his faithfully laughable descriptions of the types and manners to be found only among the fisher folk of New England. His humor is without a tinge and the subjects of his tales may laugh as readily and as heartily as others at the quaint conceits with which the pages of his books are rife.

A capable company has been engaged for this presentation and the result is sure to be faithful to the late degree.

The announcement that the original cast is to appear in "Pomander Walk" at the Lowell Opera House Monday is one of considerable importance. When Mr. Tucker played his great New York success, "The Cuckoo," it was expected that Liebler & Co., its producers, would follow the lead of so many other managers, and put out second, third and fourth companies in the play to reap a golden harvest while the report of the metropolitan

A simple application of the new remedy, Cadum, will stop the burning and itching, and prevent infection from disease germs. Cadum is an antiseptic that is wonderfully soothing and healing to an inflamed, irritated or broken skin, and can be used with confidence for skin and scalp troubles of adults and infants. A small cut, scratch, sore or wound is a nesting-place for disease germs. Cadum should be in every home for immediate use in all such emergencies, and for prompt application in skin troubles. It has proved itself a blessing to many who have suffered from various forms of burning and disfiguring skin diseases. Cadum acts quickly upon eczema, pimples, blotches, rashes, eruptions, sores, rough skin, chafings, itching piles. Of all drugs, 10¢ and 25¢.

Success of the play was still recent. Webster & Co., however, have established a valuable reputation throughout the country by not permitting inferior casts to go on tour in their New York hits, and, after due deliberation it was decided that the original cast of "Demander Walk" could not be duplicated. Most certainly it could not be duplicated with American actors. The delicate English atmosphere of the piece would suffer greatly through American playing. So no company but the original has been allowed to play "Demander Walk" since the long New York run. Now the play has just closed, Lowell will be the first city outside of Boston to see this successful "comedy of happiness."

The greatest theatrical novelty of recent years, "Clancteer," Postand's poetic drama, will be presented at the Opera House Dec. 5 by Charles Frohman. The title role will be essayed by Maude Adams, who has a larger public following than has any other woman on our stage in this country. The drama has created more interest than any other work given to the stage in the memory of man. It possesses distinct literary values, its versification flows freely and with distinct charm, it is rich and clear in its symbolism, and it carries a glorious message to the world. Miss Adams' enthusiasm over the work has been unbounded and in the role of the Cock she has shown anew her fine

It's a long time since quite such an original cuss as Biddle Ross has appeared in Lowell in a monologue. His talk is right up to the minute while the merris and musical numbers are a little out of date. The Dorlans with their bounding bed act have an acrobatic novelty. Mr. Dorlan performs the remarkable stunt of doing a somersault of the bed while he also turns 3 flips without stopping and makes some of the funniest falls ever witnessed here. The Jungle Girls have delighted every audience this week. Their act is a spectacular novelty. Tom Linton makes a most entertaining missionary while Miss Linquist as the Zulu queen is certainly a queen of looks. The Poets-Larella sisters have a very near acrobatic and contortion act, being perhaps the cleverest female acrobats now before the public. Claude and Fannie Usher in "Fagan's Decision" present a little playlet of deep heart interest gracefully relieved by a large share of good comedy. Mlle. Rialto, in poses to the singing of Mlle. Louis Lavelle is different from anything else in vaudeville and is, highly entertaining. Then there are for their attractions: Clemons and Dear George Fredo, and Watson and Little. These great acts in all and everyone to remember. Only a few more performances by this stage and the season's seasonals should be ordered in advance by telephone. Manager Stevens has another big bill for next week.

A play that leaves a smile on the face and a good taste in the mouth is Donald Meek Thompson's new humorous comedy, "Our New Minister," which is being given with great success this week at the Hathaway theatre by the Donald Meek stock company. It tells a simple story in a manner that appeals directly to the sympathy. It is unconventional, but it has no outraged heroine, no villain, and it is free from any plot problem. It is a character play and practically all of its characters are humorous and are not overdrawn. In the least, the principal fun maker in the cast is Donald Meek himself in the role of "Darius Startle," the village constable. Mr. Meek is funny at all times and the character he is funnier than others and this is the reason. In the part gives him great opportunity to get in much of his own wit and humor and he was never known to miss an opportunity. Mr. Meek make-up is a feature in itself. Visiting with him in making the audience laugh is Charles Cymbale, a "Lowdown" character, who is played by a comedian. The main plot abounds in deep heart interest is replete with the quaint wit and humor of the back country folks and contains a lot of shrewd rural philosophy. It also presents a strikingly true picture of the clash of the old and new ideas in religion which is done in a manner that causes no offense. Next week the Donald Meek stock company will be seen in another very funny play entitled "Hello, Bill," the great "Bill" comedy. On Sunday afternoon and evening Sunday concerts will be given at the Hathaway consisting of five reels of new moving pictures, five radioelectric acts and illustrations and songs. The seats will be five ten and fifty cents.

One of the best bills of the season is at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. It's varied in its make-up and should suit the fancies of a Adelaide and Lawrence are talented young women who give a high-class singing act that's novel and especially entertaining. Both are unusual, clever vocalists and their work has received favorable recognition at every performance. Ed. B. White and M. Rolia White, in a funny boxing sketch is most enjoyable and Our Stock Company in a delightful western comedy drama "Mrs. D." is among the best offerings.

of the list already given. Stanley Wood, in a monologue, Rogers and Evans, novelty entertainers and The Great Deighan, are contributors to the high-class bill. The photo-plays are new during the last three days of the week and the daily views, provided by the Merrimack Square theatre, by the American Press association, are es-peccally interesting. The Merrimack Square theatre concert orchestra will feature selections from the opera, "The Daughter of the Regiment," at to-night's performance. Next week "The Boys In Blue" will provide the feature act. On Sunday, sacred concerts will be given afternoon and evening by renowned entertainers. Box office - tele-

Yesterday was the high water mark at the Academy. The same show to-night—Al Crossman, the blackface comedian (he has but two fingers and only one arm), mus up in full view of the audience, and demonstrates when a man with only two fingers can do what is necessary; Miller & Russell, "The Janitor and the Girl" made them laugh after a big turkey dinner and Agnes Ahern & Co. with a most novel electrical act held the patrons spell-bound throughout the act. Tonight the M. T. I. Bachelor Girls 60 strong will be seen in a 20-minute miniature show, with special scenic and musical effects. This is a special added attraction for tonight only, and the prices will be the same as usual. Come early. Big concert Sunday.

are here for the durbar. Even in his coronation robes, which he will not wear here, because there is to be no actual crowning of him and his consort as emperor and empress of India, the English ruler is not nearly such a gorgeous spectacle as various maharajahs who are here with their suits to welcome their superior. In the matter of jewels King George has an advantage, because the presence of the "Stars of Africa" in his regalia gives him the largest diamonds in the world. Those gems, cut from the enormous Cullinan diamond, have no equals, but in gaudy colors, gold ornaments and rich trappings the native princes will outshine their sovereign.

LARGE ATTENDANCES

At Sacred Heart Church Annual Bazaar Yesterday

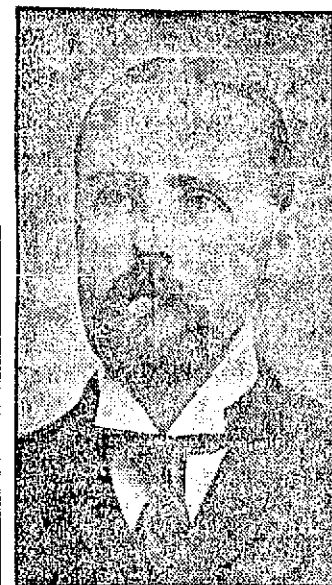

Two great attendances made merry at the Sacred Heart church bazaar yesterday afternoon and evening. The afternoon festivities were given over to the children exclusively and the program was under the direction of Very Rev. T. Wade Smith, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I. Rev. J. T. McDermott, O. M. I. and Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I. The entertainment opened with a selection by Gilmore's Ladies' orchestra followed by a solo by Frank Donahue; recitation by Agnes Seymour; humorous songs and recitations by Frank McArthur. The program concluded with another selection by the orchestra after which prizes were distributed to the children. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in games and other amusements. In the evening a musical show was the principal attraction. Charles Moore officiated as interlocutor and the end men were George Brennan and Chas. Carey. There were solos by Francis Mollahan, Catherine Roughan, Loretta Donahue and Margaret Connolly; the candy table was in charge of Mary T. Burns, matron; Margaret Cusack, May Cowell, Elizabeth McLean, Margaret Burns, Margaret Staples, Alice Murphy and Emily Higgins; and the refreshment table was in charge of Mrs. Thomas Farrell, matron, assisted by Mrs. William Burrows, Mrs. Joseph Farley, Mrs. Stephen Brennan, Mrs. Edward O'Brien, Mrs. James Farrell, Mrs. Eugene Flynn, Mrs. J. Patrick, Mrs. T. Hartigan, Mrs. J. Harriott, Mrs. E. Sullivan, Mrs. James Seymour, Mrs. John Rosighan and Mrs. Mary Wessels. The general manager of the whole fair and of the various committees was Dr. J. B. O'Connor. Tonight the entertainment will be given by performers from Keith's and the Merrimack Square theatre. Tomorrow afternoon the children will be entertained. The affair will be brought to a close tomorrow evening. The program will be composed of acts from Keith's theatre, these appearing through the courtesy of Manager Stevens of that popular theatre. After the entertainment dancing will be in order.

On the opening evening an unusually fine entertainment was given, the program being as follows: Irish Airs Orchestra Solo, "Answer" Kathleen Jennings Solo, "Wearing of the Green" James E. Donnelly Recitation, "Top of the Morning" James Connelin Solo Frances Tighe "The Rosary" Glendora Double Quartet Mr. John J. Kelly, accompanist. Dancing followed the entertainment.

HUSBAND AND WIFE

WERE DETAINED BY THE IMMIGRATION OFFICERS

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—George Rusky, a wealthy Greek who has travelled all over the world during the last 15 years and who amassed a fortune during his wanderings, arrived on the White Star liner Arabic yesterday with his Egyptian wife, whom he married a short time ago in Cairo.

They were detained by the immigration officers, the wife because it is thought she is suffering with an eye disease and the husband pending an investigation as to his citizenship.

Rusky was well supplied with money and displayed a roll that must have easily contained $1500. He claims to be an American citizen, having been naturalized in San Francisco some years ago. His life has been full of exciting adventures and explorations of far-away countries.

He was one of the first to reach Honolulu, when the search for gold was on.

LOWELL HIGH WON MADE NEW RECORD

Easily Defeated Tufts Dental School

Bruce-Brown Won Big Road Race

Lowell High defeated Tufts Dental school football team by a score of 11 to 0 yesterday morning at Washington park, the contest marking the close of the high school football season. Although the members of the opposing team were old and seasoned football players and put up a good game individually, their team work was not up to the standard and the local players had little difficulty in keeping the ball in their possession during the greater part of the game. There were two Lowell players on the visitors' team, Donovan and Kimball, former high school students.

Cawley put up a great game for the home team, scoring both touchdowns which were made in the second period. The lineup and summary:

STOCK MARKET

WAS FIRM AT THE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Day's Losses Greatly Reduced in the Plant Hour—Business in Larger Volume as Prices Ascended—Other Features of the Trading

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—First movements of stocks today were irregular with a downward tendency on the part of most of the speculative issues. N. Y. was the heaviest of the standard railroad issues, declining 1/2. Reading, U. P., St. Paul, Can. Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Atchafson, Gt. Northern pf, and U. S. Steel all fell back fractionally. The copper shares moved against the market. Utah Copper advanced a point and Amalgamated Copper and Anaconda 1/2.

Spasmodic rallies failed to bring about any sustained buying and the market weakened. Special stocks were offered freely and the whole list declined to below Wednesday's closing. N. Y. lost 1 1/2. U. P., Can. Pac., St. Paul, Wabash pf, Atlantic Coast line and Toledo, St. Louis & Western 1 to 1 1/2. The bear movement which has been in progress most of the week was curtailed further today and the stock market was under pressure almost continuously during the morning. The approach of the assembling of congress restricted buying and consistent support was given in opposition to the attack on the list.

Speculation was exceedingly dull between 12 and 1 o'clock and fluctuations were nominal. Prices averaged a large fraction below Wednesday's final figures.

The market moved in a rather listless fashion during the larger part of the afternoon. With the abandonment of active selling pressure by the prominent bear professionals the room traders were deprived of an initiative and trading became stagnant. Call money rates held firm at 5 1/2 per cent, and estimates of tomorrow's cash loss by the banks ranged from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000.

The market closed firm. Covering operations in the final hour reduced the day's losses to small proportions. Business was in slightly larger volume as prices ascended.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Thanksgiving was quietly observed in North Chelmsford, many of the people who are away from the town returning home to spend the day with relatives.

A high mass was sung in St. John's church at 7.30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield, in honor of the Holy Name society. A large attendance of members was present as well as other members of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, the former the well known superintendent of the George C. Moore mill and both life-long residents of the village, have sold their home on Church street and have gone to St. Helena, California, where they are to reside in the future. In the spring of last year a trip was made to California to visit their son, Dr. James O'Connor, and they were so impressed with the country that they decided to sell their home in the east and return to St. Helena to reside.

They have a legion of friends who regret their departure from the village but who wish them success in their new home. Mrs. Annie Riney of Princeton street has purchased their home.

on Church street and has taken up her residence there.

A delightful surprise party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Morning on Middlesex street in honor of Miss Rena Welch. About 75 friends from the village and Lowell gathered and presented her a beautiful bracelet. The presentation speech was made by John Handy, who in behalf of all present extended their best wishes. Miss Welch was overcome and was unable to make any response but later in the evening expressed her thanks for the kindness shown her. The remainder of the evening was passed in song and merriment.

Refreshments were served and a delightful evening enjoyed. All returned home at a reasonable hour. Miss Morning was assisted in receiving by the Misses Annie Welch and Loretta Gills.

The usual first Friday devotions were held in St. John's church this morning. The mass was celebrated at 7.30 by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. Devotions in honor of the Sacred Heart will be held this evening at 7.30 and Rev. Fr. Doherty will officiate. Recitation of the office and special singing will be given by the members of the Knights evening was passed in song and merriment for the Sacred Heart.

SCALA-McDONOUGH

Big Boxing Program on for Tonight

All indications point to no disappointments but good bouts at tonight's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club when the principal attraction will be Kid Scala of Spokane, Wash., and Young McDonough, the pride of Manchester. Scala after knocking all the men of his weight in the west came east to Boston and was taken up by the Armory club. He made one appearance there and made a hit and was to have been seen there frequently this winter, but owing to the law relative to public halls over garages that put the Armory club out of commission he was left with nothing to do and hence the management of the local club got him. Scala is a headliner in boxing circles and ordinarily would not come to Lowell, but under the circumstances he consented to meet McDonough and will be on hand.

Young McDonough is the pride of Manchester and the greatest thing in the boxing line in that city since the days of Patsy Sweeney. McDonough is now in his prime and is giving a great account of himself. His recent bout with Dave Deshier was one of the best ever seen in that city.

Local lovers of the game are greatly interested in the semi-final tonight between Billy Mulvey of Centralville and George Stone of the "Acro" the rival 135 pound men. Both are in excellent condition and are evenly matched. Their bout will vie with the main event in interest.

There will also be a six round preliminary and Billy Gardner will referee all bouts.

THE ANNUAL SOCIAL

Held Under the Auspices of the Y. M. C. I.

The annual Thanksgiving social under the auspices of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held in Association hall Wednesday night, hundreds of friends of the members of the organization being present.

An original farce entitled "The Lightning Barbers" was given in connection with an entertainment program which preceded the dancing. The barbers, or they might really be called butchers, were F. E. McCarthy, William Marren and William Harrington while the customers, or victims, were Chas. Curry, Bernard Kane, Gerald Beane, T. M. A. Corker was taken by Joseph Carroll, and he was all that his name implied.

The musical numbers were invariably well done, the work of the Paragon quartet being especially good. They were as follows: A. Doyle, James Sullivan, William Marren, James Lyons and E. P. Curtin. The musical director was J. C. McCaffrey. The accompanist

Do You Sleep Well?

Men often overestimate their strength in business absorption, neglecting the health and vitality of the great showman, attributed his success in dealing with vast schemes and intricate details to his ability to forget it all in refreshing sleep.

Any man who knows that he is discounting his chances of success through loss of sleep should be wary of any remedy that contains habit inducing drugs.

"OIL TRUST" DISSOLVED

Big Company Officially Came to an End Yesterday

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The career of the "Oil Trust" officially came to an end yesterday.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey, sometimes called the father of trusts and perhaps the most celebrated corporation in the world, will no longer control the affairs of the holding company of more than 20 corporations in various branches of the oil business.

Beginning tomorrow, these subsidiaries, which under the decree of the United States supreme court must conduct independently the various enterprises, will assume entire management of their own affairs.

The Oil Trust theoretically passed out of existence on Aug. 21, when the books containing the records of the company's stockholders were closed for distribution of the stock of the subsidiaries, but during the intervening period of readjustment it was necessary to preserve the old form to a large extent. Now the work of disintegration has been completed.

The task of effecting dissolution was made less difficult by the fact that the subsidiary companies never had lost their identity. They have retained their separate officers and boards of directors, and to a large extent have conducted their own affairs from their home offices. In whatever states they operate, these companies, however, have had representation at 26 Broadway, the home of the New Jersey corporation, which exercised general direction over all their affairs. It is this connection which will be severed. The subsidiaries which have not already surrendered their offices at 26 Broadway will do so, and henceforth the affairs of each company will be conducted in its own state.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey will continue to exist, as it owns several large plants.

KILLED HIS FATHER

Boy Was Handing Gun to Parent

SOUTHERIDGE, Dec. 1.—Sidney Clarke, a lad of five years, accidentally shot and killed his father, John Clarke, yesterday.

The elder Clarke was preparing to go on a short hunting expedition with some of his neighbors and the boy was handing him the gun, when in some manner it was fired and the bullet entered his neck, causing instant death.

Clarke was one of the wealthiest men in the town and for 20 years had been a leading factor in its business and political life, although never holding public office.

A wife, two sons and two daughters survive.

REVIVAL OF RIOTS

Negro Attacked by New York Mob

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Thanksgiving day was marked by a revival of the riots which characterized the strike of the street cleaners, yesterday's disorders resulting in the shooting of a woman and the slaying of a policeman.

The trouble started when William Barnett, a negro strike-breaker, was attacked by a mob. The negro drew a revolver and commenced firing in the air. One of the shots struck Mrs. Frances Young in the right cheek just as she put her head out of a window to see what the trouble was. She was not seriously injured.

On the way to the station the officer and prisoner were showered with bricks and other missiles from house-tops, one striking the policeman on the head and knocking him off his horse. He was removed to the hospital with a possible fracture of the skull.

The negro took refuge in a doorway, where he was rescued, by reserves, from the threatened violence of a newly collected mob.

BABY'S ECZEMA BEGAN IN PIMPLES

When Two Weeks Old, Would Water and Itch. Broken Out Most on Face. Used Box of Cuticura Ointment and Nearly Cured of Cuticura Soap. Was Completely Cured.

"My little girl had eczema on her face which first started to break out on her when she was two weeks old. It began in pimples, and would water and itch. It was on the back of her neck in the edge of her hair, and in between her shoulders. But it was broken out the most on her face."

"I doctored with two different doctors, and they did not seem to help her. Then a cousin of mine recommended the Cuticura Remedies. She said they cured one of her children, so I tried them, and they gave my child relief. I used a box of Cuticura Ointment and nearly a cake of Cuticura Soap, and my little girl was completely cured. She is three years old now and has not a sign of eczema. I have been keeping the Cuticura Ointment ever since and think the Cuticura Remedies are all right. I tell other people about them and how they cured my little girl." (Signed) Mrs. Minnie Clatter, Deer Lake, Pa., Aug. 29, 1910.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment afford the most economical treatments for various eruptions of the skin and scalp. A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c) are often sufficient. Although sold throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp, will be sent free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 37, Boston.

Wanted to Be Happy

AND ENJOY LIFE, SAYS MRS. ANTLER

The best proof in the world that "Tona Vita" is the new tonic, is a remarkable fact, is that various people who have taken it have to say. The following is a statement recently made by Mrs. A. T. Antler of Chicago, Ill., now a guest of Mrs. B. E. Welch of this city.

Mrs. Antler said: "I have been sick for about five years, during which time I tried all kinds of doctors. Besides, I took every medicine that I thought would do me the slightest good. I am one of those who want to enjoy life and be happy, but I know that without good health that is impossible. Neither the doctor's treatment nor the medicines that I took gave me any relief and I was beginning to give up hope."

"About a month ago I heard about these specialists introducing 'Tona Vita' and I went to see them. I liked the way they went about things. I heard one of them tell a woman that they did not think the medicine would benefit her troubles and therefore did not want her to buy it. This act impressed me so that I bought a bottle. After taking it several days I began to improve and have continued getting better each day. I now sleep fine and what I eat I enjoy, because it agrees with me. I know of other people who are also taking this tonic and have been benefited by it. I know it is the best medicine I have ever tried."

Half of the people in Lowell find life a burden and have little real happiness. The cause is nervous debility and it is produced by modern life in a big city. Tired, drooping, half-sick men and women are as common as the leaves on the trees in Lowell. They have uncertain appetites, poor digestion, little ambition, and feel almost too tired to work most of the time. They suffer from thinness, have no initiative and haven't enough good rich blood in their veins to make them capable and self-reliant. Their nerves are in such a state that they imagine themselves afflicted with nervous diseases at different times. The real trouble with them is debility, produced by the strain of modern methods of living.

"Tona Vita" will positively remove this condition. If it fails to do so the money is refunded at the Hall & Lyon Drug Co., where the specialists will continue to meet the public for a limited time from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. and explain the nature of the preparation. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the attendant remedy, is a perfect family laxative. It is pleasant to the taste and is the best possible laxative for children.

KILLED BY A CAR

Child Had Just Eaten Thanksgiving Dinner

LEOMINSTER, Dec. 1.—Alice Rose, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Rose, was killed by a car on the Fitchburg & Leominster Street railway yesterday opposite her home at 633 North Main street.

The child, who had just eaten her Thanksgiving dinner, started to cross the street to join her brothers and sisters, who were at play in a field on the other side.

The track is close to the house and the girl ran from the yard so suddenly that it was impossible to stop the car in time to prevent the accident. The car was going toward Fitchburg at the usual rate of speed and was in charge of Adelphi Derosier, conductor, and Joseph Tiftely, motorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cyr and William Lambert, Jr., witnessed the accident and told the police that it was an avoidable under the circumstances. The Lambert boy shouted to the child, but she evidently did not hear him.

The father of the girl is employed by the railway company as an armature winder. He has four other small children.

STOMACH GAS

The Cause of Many Misleading Symptoms and Unnecessary Alarm.

Gas on the stomach sometimes causes pressure on the heart and the sufferer is unnecessarily alarmed, fearing heart disease. In other cases it produces bloating and more needless worry. The real trouble is in the blood.

When the blood is poor and thin, and the stomach in consequence is imperfectly supplied with well-oxidized blood and nerve force, the digestive process becomes slow and fermentation of the food goes on, with formation of gas and certain acids. The pressure of the gas causes pain in the stomach; the acids produce the sour risings in the throat.

There are plenty of things to neutralize these acids, or "sweeten the stomach" as it is called, but they do not cure the trouble. Pure rich blood which will tone up the stomach is required, as this case shows.

"Five years ago," says Mr. Walter Geary, of No. 303 Kramers avenue, Roxborough, Philadelphia, Pa., "I was confined indoors, working in a machine shop, and became run down. For three years I suffered from gas on the stomach. I felt all bloated up, had terrible pains in the abdomen and was dizzy at times that I could hardly see anything. I had bad headaches frequently. I lost my appetite and weight and got as yellow as could be. I felt tired all of the time and could hardly drag my legs along. I had trouble in keeping at work and was nervous and despondent."

"The doctors' prescriptions didn't help me and I thought there was no cure until I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough trial of the pills completely cured me and I am now feeling in perfect health."

The vigor and strength which comes from a healthy stomach and a perfect digestion can only be obtained by keeping the blood pure and red. Sufferers from too much gas or acid on the stomach, heartburn, tenderness or pains through the pit of the stomach or any form of indigestion should start at once to build up and purify their blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Others who need a blood-purifying find these pills a most useful tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. ENDED HIS LIFE

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Arthur McArthur, aged 30, supposed to belong in Sea View, Prince Edward Island, committed suicide yesterday morning in his room at 161 Massachusetts avenue. James O'Keefe, a lodger, detected a strong odor of gas, forced the door of the room and found McArthur dead in a chair. The gas was on almost full head and the windows were stuffed with cotton batting.

The landlady, Mrs. Julia King, saw McArthur early the night before and he seemed quite happy. No one in the house was able to ascribe a cause why he should kill himself. He had been staying at the house several weeks. He was employed as a machinist at a garage.

Letters were found in his clothes bearing the postoffice stamp of Sea View, P. E. I. They were signed Edwin Donald, Herbert Donald and Clara Donald.

PRESIDENT FAUNCE

May Become Pastor of Rockefeller's Church

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—President William H. P. Faunce of Brown University, Providence, has received an invitation to assume the pastoral duties at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church of New York city, familiarly known as John D. Rockefeller's church.

The information concerning the invitation leaked out in Boston yesterday, after having been closely guarded by parties on both the New York and Providence ends for the past month or more, the time during which President Faunce has been considering the course he will take.

ELEVEN WERE KILLED

During the Hunting Season in Maine

BANGOR, Dec. 1.—With the big game season drawing to a close, moose hunting ending on Nov. 30, and deer hunting on Dec. 15, it is estimated that about 10,000 deer and 300 moose have been killed in Maine, and that this first quantity of game has cost the hunters about half a million dollars.

It has also cost 11 lives, or three more than last year's toll, while eight hunters have been seriously wounded and an unknown number slightly injured.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1910 was

15,976

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 2, 1911. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

After all it is not so easy to get a nomination for mayor, alderman or school committee under the new charter.

It seems that Mars is getting ahead of us in the canal business. Three new canals have been discovered on the neighboring planet by the astronomers of the Lowell observatory in Arizona. The Martians must have got on to the fact that we have been digging the Panama ditch and decided to steal a march on us.

Now that Christmas is coming we might remind purchasers that with such a splendid array of goods in the stores, with such excellent products turned out from our Lowell factories, nobody has any need to go to Boston for anything in dry goods, wearing apparel, household articles, or furnishings of any kind.

Lowell had much to be thankful for in the fact that she has taken the first successful step towards better government in the adoption of a new charter providing for the commission form of government. If the people make an honest endeavor to use the charter to the best possible advantage, we predict that in a short time every citizen will realize and admit the wisdom of the change.

The centennial anniversary of Wendell Phillips, observed on Wednesday by appropriate exercises in Boston, recalled the life work, the inspiring oratory and noble character of the illustrious abolitionist who never lost an opportunity of pleading the cause of an oppressed people or of promoting justice and freedom in every land. He was the most eloquent champion of human liberty this country ever produced.

The Board of Trade is putting out some good advertising matter to boom Lowell, but one could hardly conceive any better method of booming our city than to issue a complete list of its industries with a statement of the business opportunities available, the water power, the transportation, the available sites for manufacturing purposes, the intelligent help to be found here, and last but not least the commission form of government which is soon to take charge of our city's affairs.

The long ballot will regulate itself. We do not imagine that there will be a great many next year who will care to bring up the tail end of the list with 21, 27, 32, or 38 votes. Neither will anybody want to spend money for the sake of getting a hundred votes. We may say, however, that in the list of those who got between 100 and two hundred votes are some good men, but they are not sufficiently known to the voters to draw a large support. This explains why some very worthy candidates are not on the ticket.

The present government of Portugal, though designated a republic, is one of the foremost illustrations of the application of anarchistic ideas to the government of a nation. Confiscation of church property and the practical banishment of every vestige of religion are resorted to as a means of restoring tranquility; but the farther this policy is pursued the worse conditions become. Riots are frequent and the bomb of the anarchist is to be used to bring about a reign of terror. The republican form of government is disgraced in the hands of such revolutionary freebooters.

PRIMARY RESULTS.

The vote cast in the primary election proves very clearly that a great many people ran away with the foolish idea that they would be selected for some high office. The great number of undesirable candidates was really embarrassing to the voters, and it is gratifying to find that on the whole the citizens sized up these candidates as well as they did. This is shown in the fact that twenty-two candidates got less than 100 votes and twenty-one between 100 and 200, while men who were considered strong candidates received only from 300 to 500. The really strong candidates received over 1000. Mr. Arthur Genest received 1043, Joseph F. Donohoe 1098, John W. Daly 1162 and William Drapeau 1181.

It is to be regretted that the vast number of candidates made the count so tedious and so difficult. Nevertheless, the ticket selected is one from which a strong board can be chosen, and this is all that is desired by the friends of good government throughout the city.

The new charter has demonstrated the fact that the voters will have a greater field to select from. There is no bar to a candidate seeking office. Anybody who wishes can run, as has been amply demonstrated. It is within the power of the voters to select the best men, and this has been done with reasonably good discrimination.

If some of the candidates ran for the fun of the thing, they are convinced now that the voters did not take kindly to their jokes.

Next year we presume there will not be nearly so many candidates and there will, therefore, be less work for the counters and election officers in general. We believe it was a mistake to keep the polls open until 9 o'clock in the evening. It would be better to open the polls at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and keep them open until 8 o'clock at night. We have to learn from experience under this new system, and we have learned a few things from the first primary election that will help us in conducting the next more successfully.

The personnel of the ticket is all that could be expected from the first election under the new charter. New timber has been brought into the field, and we believe that men can be selected from that ticket who will possess the necessary ability, and who will use it in the interests of good government for all the people. If a first class ticket be not chosen on election day it will certainly not be the fault of the charter nor the result of the action at the primaries.

The nominees are now before the people and another sifting will take place on December 19, dropping just one-half the number of candidates. Giving us one mayor, four aldermen and five school committee men out of the list of nominees.

SEEN AND HEARD

In a state of convalescence a West Philadelphia man became hungry. When his physician visited him the man said: "Doctor, I'm as hungry as a bear, but from what you tell me I mustn't eat anything."

"Quite correct," replied the physician, who is inclined to be somewhat absentminded, "and he sure ate everything else, to chew it thoroughly."

A reduction of about 3 cents per 100 lbs. in the rates on potatoes from Brainerd, Minn., and other points in Crow Wing county, to the Missouri river has been announced by the Northern Pacific to take effect Dec. 1. The rate to Kansas City territory is reduced to 25 1/2 cents and to Omaha territory to 24 cents.

The Lehigh Valley has established a case boat service between its terminals in Jersey City and the Wallabout basin in Brooklyn. The schedule of these, car floats is arranged so that freight received at the Wallabout basin in Brooklyn before 4 o'clock will be sent out the same evening on the "symbol train" (fast freight) from Jersey City.

Following the failure of Pitt Bros. & Co. of Baltimore, the Kirwan Bros. Grain Co. went into bankruptcy, and certain officers of the company have been charged with obtaining money from Baltimore banks on forged bills of lading. It is said that these forged bills of lading were stamped similar to that used by the railway companies on their genuine bills of lading.

The Boston Elevated railway has filed a petition with Massachusetts Railway commission asking for a franchise to permit it to carry freight, express matter, baggage and newspapers in Boston. It is suggested that the Boston Elevated may develop a considerable interchange of freight with the Bay State Street railway, which controls a number of street railway lines north and south of Boston, and which has freight branches in a number of towns.

The Long Island has announced that it will take off about seven trains on its main line and a number of trains on branch lines beginning November 15. The company gives as its reason a large deficit, due to the expense of handling passengers traffic at the western end of Long Island with both steam motive power and electricity. The company estimates that this curtailment in train service will mean a saving of about $500 a day, and about 50 men will be laid off.

A five-masted sailing vessel has been launched at Bordeaux, France, which is the largest sailing vessel in the world. It is 426 feet over all.

A temporary injunction has been granted restraining the Missouri railroad and warehouse commission from reducing intrastate rates on iron and steel. The injunction was granted by the federal circuit court.

The Central Passenger association lines, following the example of those belonging to the Western Passenger association, have decided not to make any reduced rates for the Christmas or New Year's holiday season.

While the official date of the opening of the Panama canal has been set for January 1, 1915, it is the intention to allow vessels to use the canal just as soon as practicable. It is believed that this can be accomplished during the latter half of 1912.

A fund of $1225 has been raised by the North Carolina Furniture Manufacturers association to pay the expenses of preparing and defending a petition to the interstate commerce commission for lower rates on furniture from the south to the Pacific coast.

Shippers have presented to the Winnipeg board of trade of Canada a petition asking for the establishment of a western branch for the Canadian board of railway commissioners, claiming that at present western Canadian shippers were not getting entirely fair treatment.

FIGHTING SLEEP

They are saying lay-me's across the bed,
And I drop my paper and hark to all
The words they say: "There's the mother tone,
Then the baby will go to sleep."
And I know she's glad when she does
That little baby with yellow hair.

She's so full of mischief! The linen said
She's tucked all safely and snug in bed;
Her eyes grow bigger with tenderness,
And she clasps her hands and she says:
Papa and mamma, and sister, too,
An' everybody us ever knew.

And then she kisses and thinks a lot
And she thinks also my dad's bald spot!
Then she blessed the stove, and the bed,
The chairs,
And the cat outdoors, and the hall and stairs,
And the trees and flowers, and lawn and walk,
And blesses the canna, both bloom and stalk,
And her voice gets slower and falters
And stops, and her mother comes to the door.

And I with her for a little peep
At the babe that hated to go to sleep.
And there she lies with her locks out-spread,
And a dimpled elbow beneath her head;
And one pink toe is a-peeping out,
And the lips of the baby are half about,
And a dimple comes in her cheek; and then

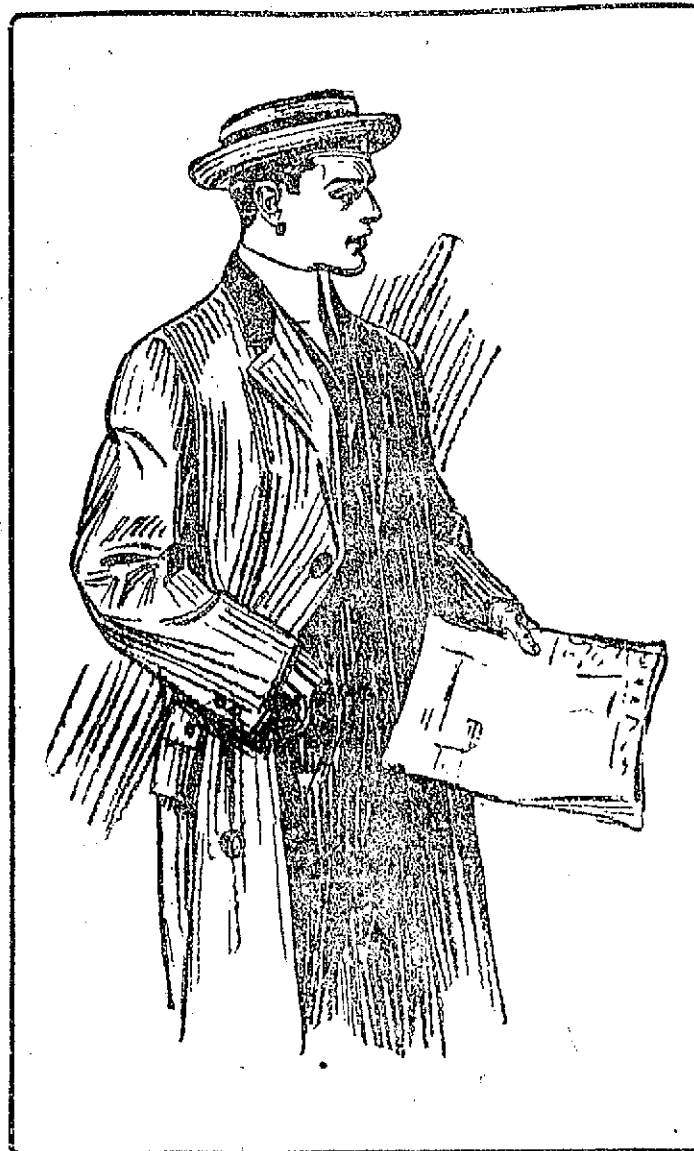

When I point it out, it is gone again;
And I leave a kiss on the tousled head
And go and leave her alone in bed.
The latest magazine isn't much
To a dad who has bent away down to touch
His baby's forehead with loving lips.
Or has left a kiss on her anger-tips:
Who cares for fiction when he has got
A little babe in a snow-white cot?
Who cares to read or to dream at all
When his babe is sleeping across the hall?
—Judd Martin Lewis.

THIS SHAMPOO WILL PREVENT BALDNESS

"Baldness," writes Mrs. Mae Morgan, in the Los Angeles Press. "Is frequently traced to injurious shampoos, soaps and mixtures containing free alkali have a tendency to rob the scalp of its necessary oil. This causes a dry, harsh, itchy condition, dandruff appears and the hair-follicles are deprived of sufficient nourishment, then the hair becomes brittle and falls out. A delightfully soothing and cleansing shampoo can be had with plain merrett, a teaspoon of which dissolved in a cup of hot water is plenty for a thorough cleansing of hair and scalp. This dissolves dust and dandruff and excites the tissues to healthy action; rinsing leaves the hair and scalp wonderfully clean. Camthrox shampoos will make 'stringy,' itchy hair soft, fluffy and lustrous, even encouraging a beautiful growth."

Centralville Social Club
Had Great Time

The ninth celebration of Thanksgiving at the Centralville Social club was held Wednesday night in the club rooms in Lakewood avenue and as usual the event was largely attended. Up to a year ago this event was observed with a turkey supper at 12 o'clock but on account of the increased number of members and the lack of room, the affair has now taken the form of a smoke talk, but nevertheless a pleasant evening was spent, and it was in the early hours that the guests departed.

Arsene Trudel, president of the organization presided over the festivities and a varied entertainment program was rendered by the following: George Labranche, the Centralville quartet composed of Telesphore Beaupre, Edouard Pratte, Arsene Brunelle and Jules Morrisette; J. Tha, Mrs. Taft, members of the cabinet, justices of the supreme court of the United States and members of the diplomatic corps attended a pan-American Thanksgiving mass at St. Patrick's Catholic church here yesterday. The twenty nations of Latin-America joined with the United States in giving thanks for Providential favors during the past year and in beseeching permanent peace for the world's family.

James Cardinal Gibbons, assisted at the solemn high mass, which was celebrated by the Rev. Francis P. Doory of Baltimore. The Right Rev. Bishop Donahue of Wheeling, W. Va., delivered the sermon, dedicated to peace within and among nations, including a plea for ratification of peace arbitration treaties.

After the mass the guests were entertained at a luncheon in St. Patrick's rectory. The president, however, did not attend this function, returning directly to the White House to spend the remainder of the day with his family.

Mr. J. E. Montmarquet of Manchester, N. H., and formerly in St. Patrick's was yesterday the guest of relatives in this city.

MARTIN T. KNAPP WILL HAVE TO FIGHT CONGRESSMAN SIMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Martin A. Knapp, presiding judge of the court of commerce, who recently declared that unless the railroads changed their tactics government ownership is inevitable, is likely to have a fight on his hands if he desires to continue the work of the court of commerce. Congressman T. W. Sims of Tennessee has recently declared that he will make an effort at this session of congress to abolish the court of commerce. There was considerable opposition to the court when it was established, and its opponents declare that many of its decisions overruling the interstate commerce commission have justified their objections to the plan.

Anty Drudge Tells Why Mary Doesn't Object to a Big Wash.

Father—"Just look at the condition of the kids' clothes! Where do you suppose they pick up the dirt? You'll have Mary making an awful kick about the heavy wash. Why I'll bet she has to do up a dozen dresses every week for the babies?"

Anty Drudge—"More than that, son-in-law. I suppose it's nearer two dozen. But so long as she has Fels-Naptha soap on washday, Mary will never say a word."

Every mother knows what a lot of fun the baby gets out of crawling about the floor and making its tiny self just as dirty as a little pig.

But every mother has looked with alarm at the array of baby clothes to be washed on Monday morning.

And every one has seen with despair how the delicate little garments are cooked to pieces in the destructive washboiler.

But all that was before the Fels-Naptha wash-way became known.

The Fels-Naptha way means that baby's soiled clothes are cleansed quickly in cool or lukewarm water without the roasting fire, summer or winter—without the seething suds, without the terrific back-breaking rub, rub, rub.

A GREAT SUCCESS

Dancing Party of Kappa Delta Phi

The annual dancing party of the Kappa Delta Phi, an organization of popular young men of this city, was held in Lincoln hall last night and the affair proved to be one of the social successes of the season. There was a large attendance and the evening was spent in an enjoyable manner.

The interior of the hall was prettily decorated with fraternal emblems, college pennants and American flags. At intermission refreshments were served.

The music for dancing was furnished by Gilmore's orchestra and as usual gave general satisfaction.

There were friends from Boston, Lawrence, Haverhill, Woburn, Lynn, Waltham and Nashua, while local college men from Holy Cross, Tufts, Lowell, Tufts, Harvard, Worcester Polytechnic and Dartmouth were present.

The success of the affair is due to the untiring efforts of Charles D. Devine and George F. Kirby, who had general charge of the party.

GREAT TRAFFIC

BY WAY OF PANAMA AND TEHUANTEPEC

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Practically 100 million dollars' worth of domestic merchandise from the United States was transported across the isthmuses of Panama and Tehuantepec in the fiscal year 1911 via the two railway lines connecting, in the one case, Panama on Pacific with Colon on the Atlantic and, in the other, Salina Cruz, the Pacific terminal, and Tehuantepec with Puerto Mexico on the Atlantic.

Trans-isthmian traffic between the eastern and western coasts of the United States and between the eastern ports of our country and Pacific coast points in Central and South America has greatly increased in recent years. In 1906, when the Panama railway offered the only rail connection via the isthmus between the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, the total traffic amounted to about 6 million dollars. In 1907, on January 1 of which year the Tehuantepec railway became available, the total was 21 million dollars; in 1908, 42 million; in 1909, 62 million; in 1910, 82½ million; and in 1911, 99 million dollars, exclusive of more than three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of foreign merchandise.

The growth in traffic by the respective routes has been, according to figures compiled by the bureau of statistics, department of commerce and labor, via the Panama railway from 10 million dollars in 1907 to 26 million in 1911; and via the Tehuantepec railway from 11½ million in 1907 to 73½ million in 1911. In 1907 the traffic was almost equally divided between the two routes, while last year about three-fourths of the total was moved across the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Of the merchandise passing from the Atlantic coast ports westward across the isthmuses, aggregating 62½ million dollars in value, 4 million dollars' worth being shipped by way of Tehuantepec and 58½ million dollars' worth by way of Panama; and a little over 5½ million dollars' worth went to foreign countries, of which all foreign countries' worth was by way of Panama. These west-bound shipments left the Atlantic seaboard at New York and Philadelphia, the latter's share being less than 1 million dollars value and that of New York, 61½ million. The westward movement included a total of 22½ million dollars' worth to San Francisco, 10½ million to San Diego, 4½ million to Seattle, nearly 1 million to Los Angeles, about a half million dollars each to Tacoma and Portland, and smaller amounts to Oakland and other Pacific coast points. About 50 per cent of this traffic was moved via the isthmus of Tehuantepec. To foreign countries the shipment from the Atlantic coast cities, aggregating 54 million dollars in 1911 as against 54 million a year earlier, were distributed to Peru, 2 million dollars; to Columbia, 1½ million; Ecuador and Chile, each about 1 million; to Central America, over 2 million; and to Canada, about 2,000,000.

Hawaiian sugar supplies more than half of the east-bound traffic to cities on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the United States. The total eastward movement last year represented 37 million dollars, of which 15 million was sugar shipped direct to Hawaii via Tehuantepec to Delaware Breakwater for orders. In addition to this, 16 million dollars' worth of miscellaneous merchandise moved from San Francisco to the Atlantic and Gulf coast cities, chiefly New York, Boston, Philadelphia and New Orleans, 9½ million dollars' worth being via Panama and 6½ million via Tehuantepec. Eastward shipments from Puget sound via the isthmuses totaled 1½ million dollars, destined mostly for New York and Charleston. Small shipments were also made from Astoria and San Diego.

IN THE CHURCHES

Union Thanksgiving Services Held Yesterday

A union Thanksgiving service including all the Baptist churches in the city, was held at the Paige Street church yesterday.

The Rev. B. R. Harris, pastor of the church, was in charge of the service; the Rev. Asa R. Dills of the Calvary church read the Thanksgiving prayer; the Rev. J. C. Wilson of the Chelmsford Street church offered the prayer, and the Rev. Selden W. Cummings of the First Baptist read the Scripture lesson. The mixed quartet of the Paige Street church furnished the musical part of the program.

Rev. Theodore Lyman, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached the sermon, taking for his theme, "Prosperity and Revival." His text was Joel 2:23, "And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh."

Big Union Service

A union Thanksgiving of all the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city was held at the first Presbyterian church, yesterday.

The services opened with an organ prelude by Miss Minnie Tucker, the organist. Then Rev. S. A. Jackson of the Westminster Presbyterian church offered the opening prayer. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. George F. Maguire, then sang the "Glory to God" of Mozart. There was a responsive reading from the psalter, the chorus of the choir being the reader. The chorus choir sang an anthem by Porter, for the offertory. The president's and the governor's Thanksgiving proclamations were read by Rev. Arthur Bonner, Ph. D., of the Highland Methodist church. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Primitive Methodist church.

St. Anne's Church

At St. Anne's church, yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. A. St. John Chamberlain preached a Thanksgiving sermon. He found his inspiration in the eighth chapter of Deuteronomy, and exhortation to obedience in view of God's mercy and goodness to the Israelites. In part, he said:

"Moses speaks to the Israelites, telling them of the wondrous ways of God. He tells them of the punishments they have received for their weaknesses, and of their eventual deliverance from bondage. This was all due to the tender mercies of God. They are warned not to forget that they are about to enter into the land of milk and honey through the instrumentality of God."

"There is an application of these words to this great nation today, this enlarged people. It is the wonderful mercy and grace of our father which has made for our great advances. We are what and where we are, not through our own might. Manifest dangers and conflicts have been avoided for us through the grace of God. When we have been in ways of darkness, God did not forsake us; succor came to us from His Majesty on high. Out of days of darkness came brightness. Never has the prospect been brighter for us than it is today. But we must not forget that it is all of God."

Congregational Churches

The Congregational churches of the city united in a Thanksgiving service at the Highland church at 10.30 o'clock, yesterday.

The pastor, Rev. A. F. Dannels, led the service and read the scriptures and on Thanksgiving day proclamation of Gov. Boss. Rev. B. A. Willmott, pastor of the First church, made the prayer and assisted in the service; and the sermon was preached by Rev. George F. Kenngott, Ph. D., pastor of the First Trinitarian church. There were special Thanksgiving anthems by the quartet choir, and the usual hymns, the service closing with "America" and the benediction.

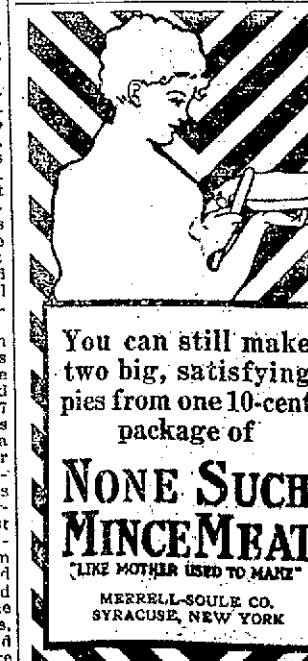

CHELMSFORD

The Chelmsford Gun club observed Thanksgiving day with an all-day shoot, football game and its annual ball in the town hall in the evening. In the morning a chicken shoot was held, a six-inch ring serving as a target. The winners were as follows:

Edward Dryden 5, Victor L. Parkhurst 2, Howard P. Swift 1, Edward Russell 1, Ephraim Ayotte 1, Jerry Johnson 1. In the afternoon the shooting was at clay pigeons, with Lefty J. Parkhurst at first place with a record of 70 per cent and Howard P. Swift second at 60 per cent. There was a good attendance both morning and afternoon. The football game on that Warren avenue grounds in the forenoon, between the Comets of East Chelmsford and the Shawlights of Lowell was a popular attraction. The Comets outclassed their opponents and won easily by the score of 15 to 0. Two touchdowns were made by Baldwin and one by Arthur Carril on a forward pass. William Klitredge served as referee and Arthur mouse as timekeeper.

Over 100 couples attended the annual concert and ball in the evening. Hibbard's orchestra furnished the music for the dance and gave the following concert program:

Milk or Cream?

Some folks, when not careful, get all the flour in the wheat.

That is ordinary flour.

Other folks, at the same price, get just the heart of the wheat—

Just the daintiest particles—just the cream of the flour.

All because—

Some folks say simply "flour."

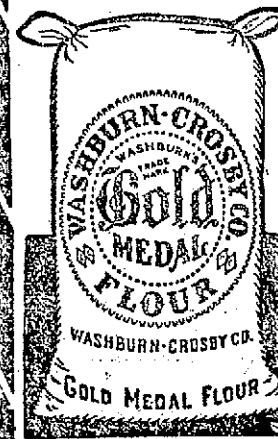

And others, in ordering, say "Gold Medal Flour."

Gold Medal Flour is ten times sifted, through ten fine sheets of silk.

Only the flour that comes through—fine, soft and digestible—ever goes into Gold Medal bags.

The quality shows in the perfect mixing and rising—in the flaky pastry—in the golden bloom on the loaf.

You can get that flour always—forever alike—by stating that you want it. Don't merely say "flour." Say—

Has built up a successful dental practice in this city in little more than 1 year.

WHY?

THREE STRONG REASONS

1st—Absolutely Painless Dentistry—

I honestly believe that this is the strongest reason for my success. People come to me in fear and trembling and go away happy—wondering why they doubted.

2nd—The Lowest Prices consistent with good work. A set of teeth as low as $5. Gold crowns and bridges $3 to $5. Teeth without plate $2 to $5. Gold fillings $1; other fillings 50c.

3rd—Perfect Work Guaranteed—My painless perfect dental work causes patients to send their friends to me—the friends doing likewise. In this way I have built up a big practice. People can rely absolutely upon my work.

PATROLMEN SHIFTED

A Number of Changes Made by the Police Board

A shift which affected eleven patrolmen of the police department went into effect today. Some of the men were shifted from one platoon to another while others were transferred from inside to outside routes. As usual some of those who were affected are tickled over the change while others are anything but pleased with their new route.

Patrolman "Jack" Leighton, who has patrolled the north side of Merrimack street during the day for years, has been transferred to Patrolman Daniel Cogger's route in the vicinity of Appleton and South streets during the day.

Patrolman Philip D. Murphy crosses from the south side of Merrimack street and Middle street to Patrolman Leighton's beat.

Patrolman David Petrie who has had the early night beat in Merrimack square for a number of years takes the beat formerly patrolled by Patrolman Murphy.

Patrolman Francis H. Moore goes from Chelmsford and Hale streets late night to Patrolman John J. Sullivan's route in Bridge street and Lakeview avenue early night.

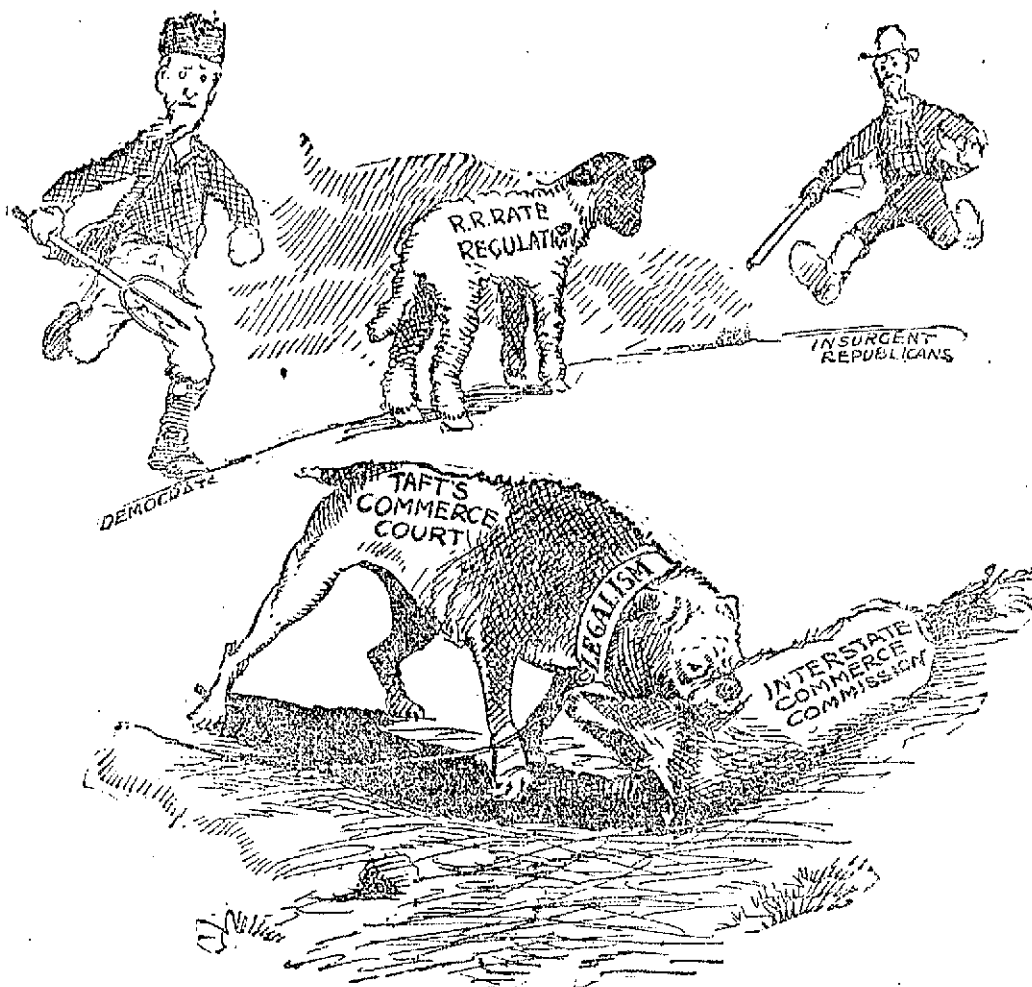

Patrolman John J. Sullivan leaves the early night shift in Bridge street and Lakeview avenue to the early night shift in Merrimack square, the route formerly patrolled by Patrolman Petrie.

Patrolman Patrick J. Conroy is changed from the fair grounds late night to Patrolman Sullivan's route in Centralville.

Patrolman Frank J. Donovan from early night in Pawtucketville to late night in Middlesex Village.

Patrolman John J. McCarthy from late night in Pawtucketville to late night Hale and Chelmsford streets.

Patrolman Puris from Middlesex

OUTRAGES COMMITTED

Shops and Houses Looted by Armed Bands of Robbers

HONG KONG, China, Dec. 1.—Although the reign of piracy on the West river had been checked by the vigilance of the guards on board the river steamers, the situation on shore is utterly chaotic. In the towns and settlements along the river the most deplorable outrages are frequently occurring. Even in Canton the military regime has proved itself wholly inefficient. For several days armed bands of robbers and hoodlums have gone about Canton looting shops and houses. Today five ruffians bristling with revolvers walked boldly into a bank in a foreign suburb and got away with $5,000 in cash. About the same time a band of seven armed natives blundered into the open market and boldly plundered two prominent shops before the eyes of hundreds of panic-stricken onlookers. They secured several hundred dollars in money and walked off. The local police, disarmed, watched the spectacle helplessly. Street fighting goes on continuously in all parts of Canton and those killed or injured include many innocent bystanders.

The Hong Kong government has adopted the sternest measures to suppress all outbreaks of rioting here. One unusual piece of legislation adopted at the request of the police permits the dragging of prisoners for minor offenses against the peace.

There have been no developments of piracy on the river. The steamers all proceeded under guard and keep a constant watch against attack by pirates.

TWO WOMEN KILLED SENTENCED TO JAIL

Motor Car Skidded and Then Man Was Found Guilty of Non-Support of Family

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—Engaged in pursuit of another car in which a bridal couple were making their escape, an automobile driven by the best man and carrying the bridesmaid and some of the guests, skidded and turned turtle at the corner of Crawford street and Walnut avenue, Roxbury, yesterday morning, crushing two of its occupants to death and fatally injuring a third.

The dead: Miss Julia Galvin, 25 years old, of Porter road, Cambridge, the bridesmaid. Miss Mary Gaffey, 50 years old, of 4324 Walnut avenue, Roxbury, a guest.

The dying: Miss Catherine Milley, 30 years old, of 4 Ellsworth place, Jamaica Plain. She is at the city hospital suffering from injuries to her spinal column.

Men Escape Injury. The other occupants of the car, three men, were found clear of the car as it turned, and escaped injury.

The little bridesmaid was instantly killed. Miss Gaffey, still alive, lay in the roadway with a fractured skull, calling for a priest. Miss Agnes Daley of 140 Harrison street, jumped into a taxicab and started for St. Mary of the Angels church to procure one. In her excitement she leaped from the taxicab, still in motion, as it approached the church, and falling, broke her right arm.

Bridal Party in Ignorance. The groom and bride whose wedding, at St. Joseph's church on Chestnut street, Roxbury, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, was the forerunner of the tragedy, are on their honeymoon, wholly unaware of the fate that overtook their pursuers.

James R. Gormley, a leather merchant of 2012 Columbus avenue, Roxbury, was the bridegroom. He was married to Miss Ella Donovan of Rockland street, Roxbury, who was employed in his office, as was Miss Galvin, by the Rev. Denis J. Wholey. John J. Gormley, 28 years old, an automobile salesman and a brother of the groom, was best man; Miss Galvin was the bridesmaid.

The church ceremony was followed by a reception at the bride's home on Rockland street, to which the entire bridal party went in two automobiles. Tried to Steal a March. Here the bridal couple, after changing

Dr. E. J. Clark Starts at Lowell Hospital

Dr. Edward J. Clark, the new superintendent of the Lowell hospital and his estimable wife, have taken up their new quarters at the hospital and began their new duties this morning.

Dr. Edward J. Clark, the new superintendent of the Lowell hospital, was born in Lowell. He graduated from the Moody grammar school, the Lowell High school and from Dartmouth Medical college. He served a year in the Boston City hospital and opened an office in the Fiske block on Central street in 1901, where he has remained until his present removal to the hospital on Bayview street.

Since leaving college, Dr. Clark has done considerable post-graduate work and is now engaged upon a course of that kind in Harvard Medical college. His first public work was done in the capacity of agent of the board of health in Tewksbury, during which time he had charge of the work of clearing up the grounds after the powder house explosion at South Lowell. He has been one of Lowell's school physicians ever since that branch of public service has been established by our city, he having had charge of six schools in Belvidere.

Dr. Clark received an appointment to the medical out-patient department of St. John's hospital during his first year of practice, afterward being changed to the surgical staff. He was appointed upon the out-patient staff of the Lowell hospital in 1906.

Dr. Clark is thirty-two years old and is the son of the deputy sheriff, Edward W. Clark.

Mrs. Clark, who is elected as matron of the hospital, is a woman of rare ability and of great personal charm. She is certain to be of great assistance to the doctor in making his work as superintendent a success.

ing to traveling clothes, sought to steal a march on their guests and escape the bombardment of conflict that had been planned. Accordingly, they slipped from the house almost unnoticed and entering the faster of the cars stationed outside, got away just as the lino and cry was raised.

The remainder of the bridal party was not to be balked of its purpose without a pursuit however. Snatching up confetti and wraps, they ran from the house and into another car which John Gormley had already cranked.

In the car were Miss Galvin, Gormley, Miss Gaffey, John B. Gaffey, 48 years old, of 38 School street, Walter Buckley, 40 years old, of 32 Hartford street, and Miss Milley.

Loss Sight of Car. The car swung down Rockland street into Walnut avenue, in time to catch a fleeting glimpse of the bridal car. After that the quarry gradually drew away, and the function of Crawford street and Walnut avenue, where the road forms a fork, there was no sight of it.

Gormley decided to keep to the right along Walnut avenue. As he started to make the moderate turn, the front wheels skidded in the heavy mud that covered the road, a live bump up and the car spun around completely, then turned turtle.

Bridesmaid Died Instantly. The little bridesmaid died with the bouquet she had held during the wedding in one hand. In the other was the confetti she had hoped to shower on the bride and groom. She still held both when, after the survivors of the wreck had recovered from the shock and lifted the smashed machine, her body, with its pretty silk gown still mud-stained, lay in the roadway.

The occupants of houses in the neighborhood, attracted by the commotion, poured out and one of them, Mrs. Sarah Driscoll, had the dead woman carried into her home at 238 Walnut avenue.

Miss Gaffey and Miss Milley were also taken to the hospital, where Mrs. Edward H. Barry of 2991 Washington street rendered first aid to the injured.

STRUCK BY CAR

LOWELL MAN WAS KILLED AT LEOMINSTER

Word was received this morning by J. P. O'Donnell & Sons of the death of Thos. A. Fitzgerald, aged 21 years, formerly of this city, later of Nashua and now Leominster, Mass.

While stopping from an electric car he was struck by another car coming from the opposite direction. The scene of the accident was not a great distance from the unfortunate man's home. He is survived by his parents, William T. and Annie Moore Fitzgerald.

FUNERALS

CONNELLY.—The funeral of Michael Connelly took place from his late home, 101 Chapel street, this morning at 8.45 o'clock and a mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock by Rev. W. George Mullin, the choir under the direction of Mr. James E. Donnelly sang the Gregorian mass and at the offertory Miss May E. Whiteley sang "Pie Jesu," and after the elevation Mr. Edward P. Shea sang "O Mortem Passiones" and as the cortege was leaving the church the choir sang the "De Profundis." Mr. James E. Donnelly sustained the solos. Mrs. J. W. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. Philip Riley, Patrick Fitzgibbon, James Starr and Peter O'Hagan. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Mr. Mullin read the final prayers. With tear dimmed eyes Mrs. Samuel Adam testified before Judge Hadley in police court this morning that she and her four children were in need of food and clothing and that although her husband was working every day he did not give her any money and in order to keep the house warm two of the children went out and collected coal along the railroad tracks. The woman herself has just been released from the hospital and is still under the doctor's care and not strong enough to work.

The husband, who occupied a seat in the dock was arrested yesterday on a capias and during his wife's rendition of the struggle which she was making in order to provide food, shelter and clothing for her little ones the man seemed disinterested.

Adam has been before the court on numerous occasions for non-support and several weeks ago after being found guilty he was placed on probation on condition that he pay his wife $5 a week. He promised to do so, but after paying her that sum for several weeks he stopped.

He works every day, but in order that his pay could not very well be attached he drew it each day. At the conclusion of the hearing of the case Judge Hadley feeling that Adam had no desire to care for his family found him guilty and ordered him committed to jail for four months at hard labor and as provided for by a recent enactment of the legislature the wife is to be paid 50 cents per week, this is the first finding under the new law relative to non-support cases that Judge Hadley has made.

Assault and Battery. The sequel to a strenuous meeting which took place in a hall at 25 Middlesex street on Sunday, Nov. 12, was held before Judge Hadley in police court this morning when the case of Armetta Derderian charged with assault and battery on Hagop Kachadoorian was tried.

James Contours and Ida Hondo were charged with lewd and lascivious cohabitation and by agreement the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

The case of William Gouze, charged with assault and battery on Joseph Ban, was also continued until tomorrow morning.

The assault and battery case in which Antoni Modoski and Jan Jakubczyk are the defendants, was scheduled for a hearing, but counsel asked that it be continued until tomorrow morning and the request was granted.

Drunken Offenders. John A. Fay, charged with drunkenness, was found guilty and sentenced to four months in jail.

Annie McKenna was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail.

William F. Connor and William Jackson were fined $5 each, and one first offender was fined $2.

A DANGEROUS FIRE

Broke Out in House in Middlesex Street

What threatened to be a dangerous fire broke out in a two apartment house belonging to Burton H. Wiggin at 956-958 Middlesex street, shortly before two o'clock yesterday afternoon and before the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the blaze considerable damage was done by fire, smoke and water.

The downstairs tenement is occupied by Henry Folsom and family and Misses Charlotte and Blanche Cheney and mother reside in the upstairs tenement. The fire started from a defective fireplace in the sitting room of the tenement occupied by the Folsoms, before the department had arrived the flames had worked their way between the flooring of the second floor and ceiling of the first floor.

Considerable water and chemical were used and it was necessary to rip up much of the flooring of the sitting room and hallway before the fire was extinguished.

The blaze also made its way into the Folsom tenement below, but the greater portion of the loss was suffered by the upstairs tenants.

The Folsom family were away when the fire broke out.

A telephone alarm at 8.14 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a grass and brush fire in Payton street in the rear of the Harvard brewery. The blaze was extinguished before any damage was done.

DEATHS

McKENNEDY.—The funeral of the late Miss Hannah McKennedy will take place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from her residence, 45 Wampanoag street. Services will be conducted in St. Peter's church at 3.15 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers Higgins Bros. in charge.

The first witness for the government was Hagop Kachadoorian who testified that on the afternoon of Sunday, Nov. 12, he attended a meeting of Armenians in a hall in Middle street which had to be a rough house affair. He said when he entered the hall everyone was trying to talk and the president of the organization announced that all those who did not like the manner in which the meeting was conducted, could get out of the hall. There were two of the different factions in the hall and after some of those present were unable to secure recognition from the president, a fight was started in which a score of people participated. During the mixup, clubs, chairs and other missiles were used. Kachadoorian said that as he was trying to leave the hall, Derderian picked up a chair and struck him over the head, inflicting a severe scalp wound.

Cases Continued. James Contours and Ida Hondo were charged with lewd and lascivious cohabitation and by agreement the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

The case of William Gouze, charged with assault and battery on Joseph Ban, was also continued until tomorrow morning.

The assault and battery case in which Antoni Modoski and Jan Jakubczyk are the defendants, was scheduled for a hearing, but counsel asked that it be continued until tomorrow morning and the request was granted.

PLITCHER.—The death of Josiah Richardson Pletcher, a native and resident of Chelmsford for the greater part of his life, and one of the oldest Grand Army men in New England, occurred at the Battles home in this city, Wednesday morning, as the result of a shock with which he was stricken several weeks ago. He was in his 90th year, being born in Chelmsford in 1822, the son of Josiah Pletcher. At the time of his death he was chaplain of the 15th G. A. R. and his oldest son, Capt. W. H. Pletcher, is in the 10th G. A. R. He was a member of the Normal school at Bridgeport and for a short time taught school. Finding that it did not agree with his health, he returned to his father's farm, where he was employed at the opening of the war. On September 1, 1862, he enlisted in Co.
